Too Much Brass At Capital, Senate Committee Says

Top-Heavy Setup Draws Criticism — Johnson Says Condition Startling

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—The Senate preparedness subcommittee complained today that the Washington area is overloaded with "upper brass"—high-ranking military officers—and armed forces civilian employes.

"It is obvious that the defense establishment is tending toward an administrative top-heaviness that is inefficient, wasteful and dangerous," the armed services group said in a report.

"Unless the trend is halted now we could, in the classic phrase, wind up with the fighting forces composed of 'all chiefs and no Indians'."

The report said there now are as many generals, admirals and defense establishment civilians stationed at the Pentagon and in the general Washington area as there were during World War 2 peak strength when the armed forces were three and a half times their present size.

Situation Called Startling

In an accompanying letter to Secretary of Defense Lovett, Chairman Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) called the situation startling and asked for recommendations to remedy it. There was no immediate comment from the Pentagon.

The committee's study showed that last Sept. 30 there were 361 general and flag officers and 91,081 defense establishment civilians stationed in the Washington area. On April 30, 1945—just before the end of the war in Europe—there were 397 general and flag officers and 98,071 civilians.

In 1945 the armed forces totaled more than 12,000,000 men and women. The present strength is around 3,500,000.

Obvious in Casual Way

Referring to the present situation, the report said:

"The high concentration of 'upper brass' is apparent to the most casual observer of the Washington scene. Even a noonday stroller down any street in the mid-section of the city is likely to encounter at least a few officers of general or flag rank."

Flag rank in the navy is anything above captain. General rank in the other services is anything above colonel.

Wicks Committee Would Remove Czar-Like Controls

Albany, Nov. 13 (AP) — Twin moves are under way to strip the powerful U. S. Trotting Association of czar-like controls over harness racing in the state.

All controls exercised in New York by the USTA, a private corporation, will be vested in the State Harness Racing Commission.

Under the present system, the commission virtually is subordinate to the USTA, a national organization of harness track owners, trainers and drivers.

Action to make the state agency supreme is being taken by (1) the three-member commission itself and (2) the Legislature's Wicks Committee, created last winter to probe all phases of horse racing in New York state.

The commission is rewriting its own rules, which now say in effect that USTA rules and regulations shall govern the sport in New York.

To Draft Report

The Wicks Committee soon will draft a report recommending to the 1952 Legislature that the harness racing law be amended to eliminate a section which authorizes the Harness Racing Commission to adopt USTA rules and regulations.

The Joint Legislative Committee, headed by Senate Majority Leader Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston, still must decide whether to call for an admissions tax at harness tracks.

A reliable source indicated, however, that the odds now were against such a recommendation.

There is a 15 per cent state tax on admission to flat tracks but no state tax on harness track admissions.

The Wicks Committee is not expected to favor a proposal made at a public hearing that New York's thoroughbred racing season be lengthened from April 1—Nov. 15 to April 1—Nov. 30.

Action to strip the USTA of its controls over harness racing in New York stems from a Court of Appeals decision last March. The decision outlawed the system whereby the Jockey Club, also a private organization, licensed jockeys, trainers and other personnel in flat racing.

Unlawful Delegation

The state's highest court ruled this was an unlawful delegation of public authority. Emergency legislation was passed to vest all licensing power in the State Racing Commission.

State legal sources term the role of the USTA in harness racing in New York an "exact counterpart" of the old jockey club role.

Under the existing system, the State Harness Racing Commission licenses tracks, but licenses for owners, drivers, trainers and other personnel are issued by the USTA, which gets the fees also.

Judges, starters and other track officials appointed by the commission must be members or licensees of the USTA, under the present setup.

Also, fines and penalties levied against harness racing owners and drivers for infractions go to the USTA treasury, rather than to the state.

Wields Greater Control

Wicks committee sources say decisions involving track personnel may be appealed to the USTA over the commission's head.

One legal expert claims the USTA wields greater control over harness racing in New York state than the Jockey Club did over flat

President Okays Study of Returns

Key West, Fla., Nov. 13 (AP) — President Truman cleared the way today for a Congressional inspection of tax returns in connection with a crime investigation at Washington, D. C.

He signed an executive order making the returns available at the request of Chairman Neely (D-W.Va.) of a committee inquiring into alleged connections between gamblers and Washington police officers.

The order is a far reaching one. Mr. Truman actually signed it last night, but it was not made public until today when it was sent to Washington aboard a courier plane which brought it and other documents from Key West.

Foe Would Form Zone

Munsan, Korea, Nov. 13 (AP)—An allied spokesman said Communist truce negotiators "made it even more clear today" they want to create a buffer zone across Korea to end the shooting now.

The spokesman, Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, said this "repudiates their earlier statement" that fighting would not end until an armistice is signed. The United Nations command wants to create a cease-fire buffer zone only after other terms of an armistice are agreed on.

The Reds outlined their position in a five-hour session at Panmunjom while allied artillery shells burst on hills less than two miles away. The white phosphorus and high explosive shells bracketed the town.

Nuckols said arguments became more heated today. Rear Adm. Arleigh Burke, who carried the brunt of the argument for the UN command was hoarse when he left the negotiating tent.

Nuckols said Communist delegates became more impatient and their tempers grew shorter.

Declines Comment

He declined to comment when asked whether the talks were deteriorating.

Another UN spokesman said the Reds complained an allied plane violated the Panmunjom neutral area Saturday. He conceded there was some truth in the complaint.

Lt. Col. Norman B. Edwards, allied liaison officer, said a propeller driven plane flew over the edge of the 1,000 yard security area surrounding the village, but turned away immediately.

By agreement, flights over the area are prohibited except under "weather or technical conditions beyond control."

Edwards said the Communists "were not trying to make this into a major incident."

He said the Communists merely asked for an explanation of this flight and the dropping of UN leaflets into the area Sunday.

Blown in by Wind

Edwards said the leaflets were dropped by an allied plane outside the area. Some were blown in by the wind, he said. This incident was considered closed.

Edwards told Communist liaison officers that the investigation of the other flight was continuing and proper disciplinary action would be taken if the situation required.

The plane was one of a flight of three which attacked hills several miles northeast of Panmunjom. Reds are entrenched northeast and south of the town. A sharp patrol skirmish broke out Monday south of the village, typical of action on the generally quiet war fronts.

Truce negotiators scheduled another session for 11 a. m. Wednesday (9 p. m. Tuesday, EST).

Their five-hour Tuesday meeting was not broken for recess. It was the longest session since talks were resumed Oct. 25.

Did Most of Talking

Nuckols said the two Communist subcommitteemen did most of the talking. Their arguments apparently were a reply to strong

Byrnes Says South Owes No Loyalty

No Party or Candidate Is Important, but True Feeling Should Be for Country

Turmoil Is Caused

Rayburn Speech Upsets Conference, Angers GOP Governor

Hot, Springs, Ark., Nov. 13 (AP) —Gov. James E. Byrnes of South Carolina declared today the south owes its loyalty to no political party or candidate in next year's presidential election.

The governor told a news conference that he is opposed to the renomination of President Truman and would support either Sen. Richard Russell (D.-Ga.) or Sen. Harry Byrd (D.-Va.) for the presidency.

He added that "true Americans" owe their loyalty to their country rather than to any political party or leader.

And he made it clear that he believes a southern revolt against Truman should not be judged on any basis of political loyalty.

Byrnes' statements were in direct answer to a plea from House Speaker Sam Rayburn for southern Democrats to remain loyal to the Democratic nominee next year regardless of who he might be.

Rayburn threw the southern governors conference into a turmoil last night when he pleaded for party loyalty and also sharply criticized Republicans."

Quits Meeting

Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, the lone Republican governor at the meeting, stalked out in the midst of Rayburn's speech. He later accused Rayburn of turning the governors' annual state dinner into "a Democratic rally of a very low order."

Gov. Fielding Wright of Mississippi, a strong anti-Truman leader, called the speech "a partisan political talk which should never have been made" at a governors' conference.

But Gov. Sid McMath of Arkansas, a pro-Truman Democrat and a friend of the President, said: "It was a good patriotic speech by a great statesman and it was made at the right time."

Rayburn came to the conference as the main speaker. He was invited by McMath—the host governor—in an obvious move to counteract any possible move by the States' Rights leaders to use the meeting as a starting point for a "beat Truman" campaign.

Rayburn, an old friend of the President, pleaded for party loyalty in the south regardless of who the Democratic nominee for president might be.

Defends Foreign Policy

He defended the administration's foreign policy, its spending policy, its tax record and the record of the Democrats since former President Herbert Hoover was defeated in 1932.

Then he said that Texas never would have voted for Hoover for president in 1928 (against Catholic Al Smith) except for "prejudice and bigotry." He declared his state never would go Republican again "as long as the people can remember the Hoover days."

He also mentioned the name of Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio, avowed candidate for the GOP presidential nomination.

And then he said this country might be plunged into a panic by those who talk about the present administration thrusting the nation into bankruptcy.

With this criticism McKeldin walked out. His wife remained seated with the other governors' wives.

Until Rayburn's speech, the conference officially had been a discussion of state problems on education, highways and public welfare. Politics was present but in the background.

Says Gross Paid DA's

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Boss bookie Harry Gross paid part of $1,000,000 in protection money to "district attorneys" as well as to crooked policemen, an ex-lieutenant of the gambler says. Gross' former aid and pal, Sol (Chesty) Gleicher, surprised a police departmental trial yesterday with his reference to prosecutors. Only policemen had been linked to Gross previously. The 37-year-old Gleicher testified that Gross never told him the names of the allegedly bribed officers and district attorneys. Nor, Gleicher added, had he learned the identities from any other sources.

MacArthur to Speak

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur left for Seattle today for a speaking engagement tonight at the University of Washington. The general left LaGuardia Field at 6:17 a. m. (EST) on a United Airlines plane. He is due in Denver for a refueling stop at noon (EST) and in Seattle at 6 p. m. (EST). His address is part of the Seattle centennial celebration.

UN to Consider Plan To Reunify Germany

Vote Taken Over Soviet Objections

Big Three Proposal Calls for Impartial Group Study to See Whether Time Suitable

Violation Charged

Vishinsky Says Action Repudiates Charter, Potsdam Pact

Paris, Nov. 13 (AP) — The Soviet Union today ran into a series of rebuffs in the United Nations General Assembly. The assembly refused to consider giving China's seat to the Peiping Communists, agreed to take up a western plan designed as a first step in reuniting Germany, and decided to consider a Yugoslav complaint of hostile Soviet actions.

The assembly, moving toward adoption of its agenda (program), also:

1. Agreed, without dissent, to consider diverse disarmament plans presented by the western Big Three and the Soviet Union. The western plan includes a census of atomic weapons under UN supervision. The Russian plan calls for a disarmament conference outside the United Nations.

2. Defeated a Russian attempt to force off the agenda a long-standing charge by Nationalist China that the Soviet Union is guilty of aggression in China.

The vote on the German question was 47-6 with two abstentions. The assembly rejected the contention of Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet foreign minister, that the German problem was none of the assembly's business.

Consideration Voted

Paris, Nov. 13 (AP)—Over strenuous Russian objections, the United Nations General Assembly voted today to take up a western big three plan intended as the first step in the reunification of Germany.

The vote was 47 to 6 with 2 abstentions.

By its vote, the assembly rejected Soviety Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky's claim that the German problem was none of its business.

The assembly also beat back a Russian attempt to force off the agenda long-pending Nationalist Chinese charges of Soviet aggression in China.

The Big Three plan, as explained by U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, calls for the establishment of an impartial, international commission to investigate whether conditions in both West Germany and Communist-ruled East Germany are suitable for holding elections.

Both Acheson and Eden said it was designed to lead to eventual unity of Germany, and was introduced at the request of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Begs to Differ

"I beg to differ," Vishinsky said in a slashing attack on the plan today. France, Britain and the United States want "first and foremost to perpetuate the dismemberment of Germany," he said.

Vishinsky claimed that establishment of such a commission would violate both the charter of the United Nations and the Potsdam agreements.

He also said it was "an insult to the German people to present them with demands which are usually made to such backward countries as Morocco and Tunis."

The Soviet foreign minister, in angry tones, insisted that the problem of Germany should be considered not by the UN General Assembly but in the Council of Foreign Ministers, made up of the foreign ministers of the United States, Russia, Britain and France. Russia has a veto there.

Vishinsky was backed by Moshe Sharet of Israel, who claimed that "the spirit of Nazism" was reviving in Germany and that the Big Three proposals were "morally and legally unjustified."

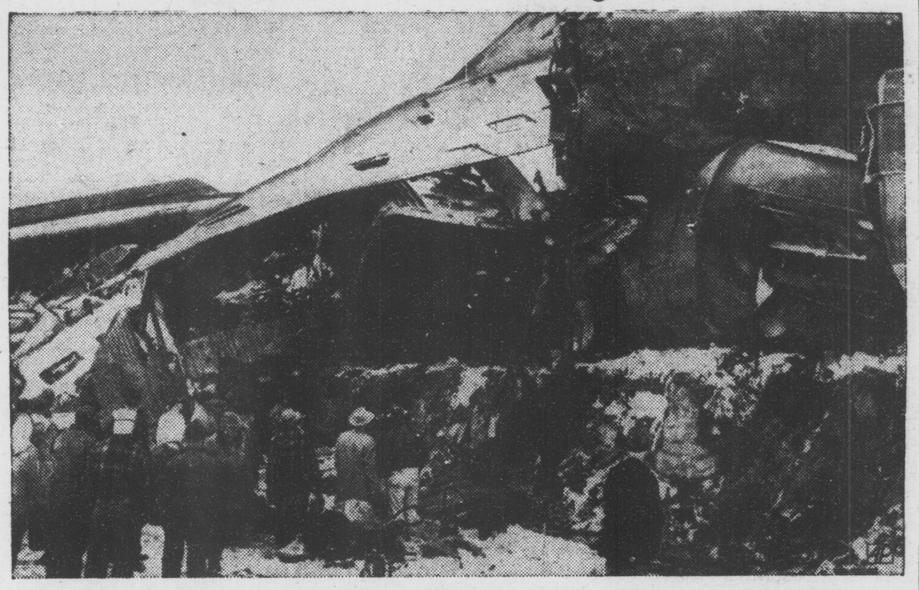

Has German Backing

Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb said the plan had the support of west Germany and urged its acceptance as "a preliminary step which might lead to the holding of elections throughout Germany."

Streamliners Crash During Storm

More than a score of persons were reported killed near Evanston, Wyo., in a collision of two Union Pacific railroad passenger trains. Five cars and a Diesel engine were smashed into a giant junk heap. Heavy snow fell as the City of San Francisco ploughed into the rear of the City of Los Angeles which had halted for a block signial. Both trains were eastbound and about 80 miles out of Salt Lake City. (AP Wirephoto).

Woman Is Excused From Kelly Jury; Selection Goes On

Mrs. Marie Bush Is Given Release — Extra Panel of 50 Attends Session

Because of personal reasons which have arisen in her family which would make it inconvenient for her to remain away from home for an indefinite period Mrs. Marie L. Bush was excused from serving on the Edward H. Kelly trial this morning. Counsel consented to her excuse and juror No. 8, William C. Petry of Hurley was moved up to seat seven in the jury box.

At the opening of court an extra panel of 50 jurors was in attendance. From that panel 24 were accepted after excuses had been heard by Judge Cashin.

Examination of jurors was then resumed in an effort to complete the panel which will hear the testimony in the Edward H. Kelly first degree case which was taken up last week.

Kelly is accused of the murder of Mrs. Eloise McHugh on Main street on May 22, 1950.

Twelve jurors and two alternates will be required before the testimony is taken up.

Called on the additional panel were two jurors who sat on the prior trial when Kelly was convicted. That conviction was set aside by the Court of Appeals and a new trial granted. Those jurors were Samuel J. Waters of Shandaken and Paul R. Fisher of Rosendale. Both were excused from further service at this term.

FBI Accepts Story Told By Recluse on Data

Oakland, Calif., Nov. 13 (AP)— A recluse who collected atomic and other defense data as a hobby faces a vagrancy charge today—nothing more serious.

The FBI accepted Otto Frederick Maynard's story that he is just a shy amateur photographer beating high rent by living in a cardboard shack under the strategic San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge.

Oakland police, investigating a tip, found photographs of such things as naval installations, rail yards and the cyclotron at the University of California. Maynard said he took the pictures because they were easily photographed.

As for literature on the A-bomb, it was all on what to do in case of a bombing. Maynard just wanted to be ready—if and when.

Maynard works as a gardener in nearby Berkeley.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—The position of the Treasury Nov. 8: Net budget receipts $130,107,829.31; budget expenditures $187,318,710.45; cash balance $4,279,884,627.48; customs receips for month $10,443,220.13; budget receipts for fiscal year (July 1) $16,003,974,112.23; budget expenditures for fiscal year $21,813,696,695.52; budget deficit $5,809,722,583.29; total debt $257,870,506,692.55; increase over previous day $18,609,517.62; gold assets $22,283,927,039.31.

Rescue Crews Search Wreck; 20 Are Dead

Three Persons Are Reported Missing in Wyoming Tragedy, Eight Are in Serious Condition

Evanston, Wyo., Nov. 13 (AP)—Benumbed rescue crews today continued to probe the shattered vitals of two passenger trains in which 20 or more persons died during a snowstorm-whipped collision yesterday.

An early morning check of the morgue in this small southwestern Wyoming community showed 14 of the 20 bodies identified. Three persons are listed as missing. Eight remain in serious condition, with scores of others treated for minor hurts and released.

The City of San Francisco, sleek Union Pacific luxury train, roared out of the swirling blizzard and slammed into the rear of the halted City of Los Angeles. The collision sounded to one survivor "like someone screaming."

The impact crumpled portions of the two streamliners. Bodies and parts of bodies were just "lying around."

The City of San Francisco was thundering across the snowswept, rolling desert about three miles west of Evanston, 80 miles northeast of Salt Lake City. It plowed its way through a snowstorm which already had dumped eight inches of snow on the ground. Ten minutes ahead ran the city of Los Angeles. Both were behind their schedules. The 200 odd passengers aboard both trains were getting ready for lunch.

Halts for Signal

Then the City of Los Angeles halted on the line for a block signal. At 11:32 a. m. (MST) the City of San Francisco hit the last car of the Los Angeles with a thunderous rending of metal. The three unit diesel power plant of the second train went through the last car like a plowshare and crushed four other cars. All cars of the second train leaped off the tracks but remained upright.

Company Reports Workers Attacked

Dredge Owner Declares 'Union' Is Attempting to Organize

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—A dredging company working on the Hudson river near Coxsackie reports that "hoodlums" have attacked its workers.

According to J. A. La Port, owner of the La Port Dredging Company of Arlington, Va., the attackers want his men to join a union. He did not identify the union.

La Port was in Albany today to confer with army engineers.

State police received reports that two carloads of men, armed with baseball bats and axes, attacked workers Friday night as they were going out to the dredging operations. No one was hurt but the workers' boat was tipped over.

Last night, one employe—Wilson B. McWhirt, 31, of Alexandria, Va. —told state police four or five men

Nine Persons Dead In Philippines as Election Is Held

Manila, Nov. 13 (AP)—Nine Filipinos were killed in election day violence today.

A total of 104 have been killed since mid-September when campaigning started for the election of nine senators, all provincial governors and municipal officials.

More than 66,000 army regulars and reserves joined police in guarding against attempts by Communist-led Huk rebels to keep voters from the polls. Clashes between troops and Huks broke out in widely scattered spots on Luzon, main island of the Philippines.

Rivalry between candidates and political factions contributed to the gunplay.

Heavy Balloting Reported

Heavy balloting was reported in Manila, which is electing its mayor for the first time. Heretofore Manila's mayor has been appointed.

Few reports were received from other islands. Only scattered returns were expected before midnight (11 a.m. EST).

Dr. Jose P. Laurel, Puppet president during the Japanese occupation, was generally conceded election to the Senate. Laurel is leader of the anti-administration Nacionalista Party. He charged the administration of President Elpidio Quirino, who defeated him in the 1949 presidential election, is wasteful and corrupt.

Huk raids delayed balloting by the 4,600,000 registered voters at spots. The Huks had warned voters to stay away from the polls or face death.

Quirino said, "every precaution" was taken to assure orderly voting and warned:

"We must not be influenced by the violent political rabies that usually infects our body politic."

Clashes between politicians and their supporters were blamed for about half the deaths. The rest came in fights between Huks and troops.

Taft Expected to Keep Clear Of Battle in Pennsylvania

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—Supporters indicated today Senator Taft (R.-Ohio) will keep clear of an impending battle for control of Pennsylvania's 70-vote delegation to next year's GOP presidential nomination convention.

Although Taft's backers believe he can gain some support among these delegates in his bid for top spot on the ticket, they said that unless plans are changed his name will not be entered in the state's April 22 presidential primary.

Senator Duff (R.-Pa.) served notice yesterday that there is going to be "plenty of action in Pennsylvania at the proper time" in behalf of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. He wouldn't say, however, whether the general's name will go in the primary, where it could be entered without any action on the part of the candidate.

Duff has been proclaiming that Eisenhower is a Republican and will be available for that party's nomination. However, Senator Edward Martin (R.-Pa.) told reporters at a Harrisburg meeting also attended by Duff he doubts that Eisenhower will run.

"I don't think he will want to give up his job in Europe," Martin said.

This apparently represents the viewpoint of a faction headed by G. Mason Owlett, Republican national committeeman, and may also be the view of Gov. John S. Fine.

Fine was elected with Duff's help in a battle with the long-dominant state organization headed by former U. S. Senator Joseph R. Grundy. But Duff apparently is doubtful that the governor will go along with him in his draft-Eisenhower campaign. Duff is known to have told friends if Fine wants a fight over control of the delegation, he can have it.

U. S. Jury Nears Completion Of Long RFC Investigation

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—A Federal grand jury was authoritatively described today as nearing the end of its long investigation of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC), big government lending agency.

An official source who declined to be named told a reporter the grand jury probably will wind up its work "within a few weeks now." He gave no hint as to what it might do.

The panel has the options of (a) returning indictments, (b) declining to indict, or (c) filing a progress report to serve as the basis of further investigation by it or a successor grand jury.

The special panel was convened March 12 after a Senate Banking subcommittee headed by Senator Fulbright (D.-Ark.) reported the RFC in some cases had yielded improperly to an "influence ring" with contacts in the White House.

President Truman described the subcommittee's report as asinine. But later he recommended a reorganization, narrowly approved by Congress, which abolished the old RFC board of five directors and placed the agency under a single administrator, W. Stuart Symington.

Two Senate members had raised question in recent weeks concerning progress of the eight-months-old study. Senator Capehart (R.-Ind.), a member of the Banking Subcommittee, wrote the Justice Department for a progress report. Senator Nixon (R.-Calif.), a member of the special Senate Investigations subcommittee which also submitted some information to the grand jury, announced last week he plans to take up the matter of grand jury speed when Congress convenes in January. If there has been no report by that date. The U. S. District Attorney's office, in its only official comment, has said the group is at work.

The plane was one of a flight of three which attacked hills several miles northeast of Panmunjom. Reds are entrenched northeast and south of the town. A sharp patrol skirmish broke out Monday south of the village, typical of action on the generally quiet war fronts.

Truce negotiators scheduled another session for 11 a. m. Wednesday (9 p. m. Tuesday, EST).

Their five-hour Tuesday meeting was not broken for recess. It was the longest session since talks were resumed Oct. 25.

Byrnes Says South Owes No Loyalty

No Party or Candidate Is Important, but True Feeling Should Be for Country

Turmoil Is Caused

Rayburn Speech Upsets Conference, Angers GOP Governor

Hot, Springs, Ark., Nov. 13 (AP) —Gov. James E. Byrnes of South Carolina declared today the south owes its loyalty to no political party or candidate in next year's presidential election.

The governor told a news conference that he is opposed to the renomination of President Truman and would support either Sen. Richard Russell (D.-Ga.) or Sen. Harry Byrd (D.-Va.) for the presidency.

He added that "true Americans" owe their loyalty to their country rather than to any political party or leader.

And he made it clear that he believes a southern revolt against Truman should not be judged on any basis of political loyalty.

Byrnes' statements were in direct answer to a plea from House Speaker Sam Rayburn for southern Democrats to remain loyal to the Democratic nominee next year regardless of who he might be.

Rayburn threw the southern governors conference into a turmoil last night when he pleaded for party loyalty and also sharply criticized Republicans."

Quits Meeting

Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, the lone Republican governor at the meeting, stalked out in the midst of Rayburn's speech. He later accused Rayburn of turning the governors' annual state dinner into "a Democratic rally of a very low order."

Gov. Fielding Wright of Mississippi, a strong anti-Truman leader, called the speech "a partisan political talk which should never have been made" at a governors' conference.

But Gov. Sid McMath of Arkansas, a pro-Truman Democrat and a friend of the President, said: "It was a good patriotic speech by a great statesman and it was made at the right time."

Rayburn came to the conference as the main speaker. He was invited by McMath—the host governor—in an obvious move to counteract any possible move by the States' Rights leaders to use the meeting as a starting point for a "beat Truman" campaign.

Rayburn, an old friend of the President, pleaded for party loyalty in the south regardless of who the Democratic nominee for president might be.

Defends Foreign Policy

He defended the administration's foreign policy, its spending policy, its tax record and the record of the Democrats since former President Herbert Hoover was defeated in 1932.

Then he said that Texas never would have voted for Hoover for president in 1928 (against Catholic Al Smith) except for "prejudice and bigotry." He declared his state never would go Republican again "as long as the people can remember the Hoover days."

He also mentioned the name of Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio, avowed candidate for the GOP presidential nomination.

And then he said this country might be plunged into a panic by those who talk about the present administration thrusting the nation into bankruptcy.

With this criticism McKeldin walked out. His wife remained seated with the other governors' wives.

Until Rayburn's speech, the conference officially had been a discussion of state problems on education, highways and public welfare. Politics was present but in the background.

Says Gross Paid DA's

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Boss bookie Harry Gross paid part of $1,000,000 in protection money to "district attorneys" as well as to crooked policemen, an ex-lieutenant of the gambler says. Gross' former aid and pal, Sol (Chesty) Gleicher, surprised a police departmental trial yesterday with his reference to prosecutors. Only policemen had been linked to Gross previously. The 37-year-old Gleicher testified that Gross never told him the names of the allegedly bribed officers and district attorneys. Nor, Gleicher added, had he learned the identities from any other sources.

MacArthur to Speak

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur left for Seattle today for a speaking engagement tonight at the University of Washington. The general left LaGuardia Field at 6:17 a. m. (EST) on a United Airlines plane. He is due in Denver for a refueling stop at noon (EST) and in Seattle at 6 p. m. (EST). His address is part of the Seattle centennial celebration.

UN to Consider Plan To Reunify Germany

Streamliners Crash During Storm

More than a score of persons were reported killed near Evanston, Wyo., in a collision of two Union Pacific railroad passenger trains. Five cars and a Diesel engine were smashed into a giant junk heap. Heavy snow fell as the City of San Francisco ploughed into the rear of the City of Los Angeles which had halted for a block signal. Both trains were eastbound and about 80 miles out of Salt Lake City. (AP Wirephoto).

Vote Taken Over Soviet Objections

Big Three Proposal Calls for Impartial Group Study to See Whether Time Suitable

Vishinsky Says Action Repudiates Charter, Potsdam Pact

Paris, Nov. 13 (AP)—The Soviet Union today ran into a series of rebuffs in the United Nations General Assembly. The assembly refused to consider giving China's seat to the Peiping Communists, agreed to take up a western plan designed as a first step in reuniting Germany, and decided to consider a Yugoslav complaint of hostile Soviet actions.

The assembly, moving toward adoption of its agenda (program), also:

1. Agreed, without dissent, to consider diverse disarmament plans presented by the western Big Three and the Soviet Union. The western plan includes a census of atomic weapons under UN supervision. The Russian plan calls for a disarmament conference outside the United Nations.

2. Defeated a Russian attempt to force off the agenda a long-standing charge by Nationalist China that the Soviet Union is guilty of aggression in China.

The vote on the German question was 47-6 with two abstentions. The assembly rejected the contention of Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet foreign minister, that the German problem was none of the assembly's business.

Consideration Voted

Paris, Nov. 13 (AP)—Over strenuous Russian objections, the United Nations General Assembly voted today to take up a western big three plan intended as the first step in the reunification of Germany.

The vote was 47 to 6 with 2 abstentions.

By its vote, the assembly rejected Soviety Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky's claim that the German problem was none of its business.

The assembly also beat back a Russian attempt to force off the agenda long-pending Nationalist Chinese charges of Soviet aggression in China.

The Big Three plan, as explained by U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, calls for the establishment of an impartial, international commission to investigate whether conditions in both West Germany and Communist-ruled East Germany are suitable for holding elections.

Both Acheson and Eden said it was designed to lead to eventual unity of Germany, and was introduced at the request of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Begs to Differ

"I beg to differ," Vishinsky said in a slashing attack on the plan today. France, Britain and the United States want "first and foremost to perpetuate the dismemberment of Germany," he said.

Vishinsky claimed that establishment of such a commission would violate both the charter of the United Nations and the Potsdam agreements.

He also said it was "an insult to the German people to present them with demands which are usually made to such backward countries as Morocco and Tunis."

The Soviet foreign minister, in angry tones, insisted that the problem of Germany should be considered not by the UN General Assembly but in the Council of Foreign Ministers, made up of the foreign ministers of the United States, Russia, Britain and France. Russia has a veto there.

Vishinsky was backed by Moshe Sharet of Israel, who claimed that "the spirit of Nazism" was reviving in Germany and that the Big Three proposals were "morally and legally unjustified."

Has German Backing

Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb said the plan had the support of west Germany and urged its acceptance as "a preliminary step which might lead to the holding of elections throughout Germany."

Woman Is Excused From Kelly Jury; Selection Goes On

Mrs. Marie Bush Is Given Release — Extra Panel of 50 Attends Session

Because of personal reasons which have arisen in her family which would make it inconvenient for her to remain away from home for an indefinite period Mrs. Marie L. Bush was excused from serving on the Edward H. Kelly trial this morning. Counsel consented to her excuse and juror No. 8, William C. Petry of Hurley was moved up to seat seven in the jury box.

At the opening of court an extra panel of 50 jurors was in attendance. From that panel 24 were accepted after excuses had been heard by Judge Cashin.

Examination of jurors was then resumed in an effort to complete the panel which will hear the testimony in the Edward H. Kelly first degree case which was taken up last week.

Kelly is accused of the murder of Mrs. Eloise McHugh on Main street on May 22, 1950.

Twelve jurors and two alternates will be required before the testimony is taken up.

Called on the additional panel were two jurors who sat on the prior trial when Kelly was convicted. That conviction was set aside by the Court of Appeals and a new trial granted. Those jurors were Samuel J. Waters of Shandaken and Paul R. Fisher of Rosendale. Both were excused from further service at this term.

FBI Accepts Story Told By Recluse on Data

Oakland, Calif., Nov. 13 (AP)—A recluse who collected atomic and other defense data as a hobby faces a vagrancy charge today—nothing more serious.

The FBI accepted Otto Frederick Maynard's story that he is just a shy amateur photographer beating high rent by living in a cardboard shack under the strategic San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge.

Oakland police, investigating a tip, found photographs of such things as naval installations, rail yards and the cyclotron at the University of California. Maynard said he took the pictures because they were easily photographed.

As for literature on the A-bomb, it was all on what to do in case of a bombing. Maynard just wanted to be ready—if and when.

Maynard works as a gardener in nearby Berkeley.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—The position of the Treasury Nov. 8: Net budget receipts $130,107,829.31; budget expenditures $187,318,710.45; cash balance $4,279,884,627.48; customs receips for month $10,443,220.13; budget receipts for fiscal year (July 1) $16,003,974,112.23; budget expenditures for fiscal year $21,813,696,695.52; budget deficit $5,809,722,583.29; total debt $257,870,506,692.55; increase over previous day $18,609,517.62; gold assets $22,283,927,039.31.

Rescue Crews Search Wreck; 20 Are Dead

Three Persons Are Reported Missing in Wyoming Tragedy, Eight Are in Serious Condition

Evanston, Wyo., Nov. 13 (AP)—Benumbed rescue crews today continued to probe the shattered vitals of two passenger trains in which 20 or more persons died during a snowstorm-whipped collision yesterday.

An early morning check of the morgue in this small southwestern Wyoming community showed 14 of the 20 bodies identified. Three persons are listed as missing. Eight remain in serious condition, with scores of others treated for minor hurts and released.

The City of San Francisco, sleek Union Pacific luxury train, roared out of the swirling blizzard and slammed into the rear of the halted City of Los Angeles. The collision sounded to one survivor "like someone screaming."

The impact crumpled portions of the two streamliners. Bodies and parts of bodies were just "lying around."

The City of San Francisco was thundering across the snowswept, rolling desert about three miles west of Evanston, 80 miles northeast of Salt Lake City. It plowed its way through a snowstorm which already had dumped eight inches of snow on the ground. Ten minutes ahead ran the city of Los Angeles. Both were behind their schedules. The 200 odd passengers aboard both trains were getting ready for lunch.

Halts for Signal

Then the City of Los Angeles halted on the line for a block signal. At 11:32 a. m. (MST) the City of San Francisco hit the last car of the Los Angeles with a thunderous rending of metal. The three unit diesel power plant of the second train went through the last car like a plowshare and crushed four other cars. All cars of the second train leaped off the tracks but remained upright.

Company Reports Workers Attacked

Dredge Owner Declares 'Union' Is Attempting to Organize

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—A dredging company working on the Hudson river near Coxsackie reports that "hoodlums" have attacked its workers.

According to J. A. La Port, owner of the La Port Dredging Company of Arlington, Va., the attackers want his men to join a union. He did not identify the union.

La Port was in Albany today to confer with army engineers.

State police received reports that two carloads of men, armed with baseball bats and axes, attacked workers Friday night as they were going out to the dredging operations. No one was hurt but the workers' boat was tipped over.

Last night, one employe—Wilson B. McWhirt, 31, of Alexandria, Va. —told state police four or five men

Nine Persons Dead In Philippines as Election Is Held

Manila, Nov. 13 (AP)—Nine Filipinos were killed in election day violence today.

A total of 104 have been killed since mid-September when campaigning started for the election of nine senators, all provincial governors and municipal officials.

More than 66,000 army regulars and reserves joined police in guarding against attempts by Communist-led Huk rebels to keep voters from the polls. Clashes between troops and Huks broke out in widely scattered spots on Luzon, main island of the Philippines.

Rivalry between candidates and political factions contributed to the gunplay.

Heavy Balloting Reported

Heavy balloting was reported in Manila, which is electing its mayor for the first time. Heretofore Manila's mayor has been appointed.

Few reports were received from other islands. Only scattered returns were expected before midnight (11 a.m. EST).

Dr. Jose P. Laurel, Puppet president during the Japanese occupation, was generally conceded election to the Senate. Laurel is leader of the anti-administration Nacionalista Party. He charged the administration of President Elpidio Quirino, who defeated him in the 1949 presidential election, is wasteful and corrupt.

Huk raids delayed balloting by the 4,600,000 registered voters at spots. The Huks had warned voters to stay away from the polls or face death.

Quirino said, "every precaution" was taken to assure orderly voting and warned:

"We must not be influenced by the violent political rabies that usually infects our body politic."

Clashes between politicians and their supporters were blamed for about half the deaths. The rest came in fights between Huks and troops.

Taft Expected to Keep Clear Of Battle in Pennsylvania

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—Supporters indicated today Senator Taft (R.-Ohio) will keep clear of an impending battle for control of Pennsylvania's 70-vote delegation to next year's GOP presidential nomination convention.

Although Taft's backers believe he can gain some support among these delegates in his bid for top spot on the ticket, they said that unless plans are changed his name will not be entered in the state's April 22 presidential primary.

Senator Duff (R.-Pa.) served notice yesterday that there is going to be "plenty of action in Pennsylvania at the proper time" in behalf of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. He wouldn't say, however, whether the general's name will go in the primary, where it could be entered without any action on the part of the candidate.

Duff has been proclaiming that Eisenhower is a Republican and will be available for that party's nomination. However, Senator Edward Martin (R.-Pa.) told reporters at a Harrisburg meeting also attended by Duff he doubts that Eisenhower will run.

"I don't think he will want to give up his job in Europe," Martin said.

This apparently represents the viewpoint of a faction headed by G. Mason Owlett, Republican national committeeman, and may also be the view of Gov. John S. Fine.

Fine was elected with Duff's help in a battle with the long-dominant state organization headed by former U. S. Senator Joseph R. Grundy. But Duff apparently is doubtful that the governor will go along with him in his draft-Eisenhower campaign. Duff is known to have told friends if Fine wants a fight over control of the delegation, he can have it.

U. S. Jury Nears Completion Of Long RFC Investigation

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—A Federal grand jury was authoritatively described today as nearing the end of its long investigation of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC), big government lending agency.

An official source who declined to be named told a reporter the grand jury probably will wind up its work "within a few weeks now." He gave no hint as to what it might do.

The panel has the options of (a) returning indictments, (b) declining to indict, or (c) filing a progress report to serve as the basis of further investigation by it or a successor grand jury.

The special panel was convened March 12 after a Senate Banking subcommittee headed by Senator Fulbright (D.-Ark.) reported the RFC in some cases had yielded improperly to an "influence ring" with contacts in the White House.

President Truman described the subcommittee's report as asinine. But later he recommended a reorganization, narrowly approved by Congress, which abolished the old RFC board of five directors and placed the agency under a single administrator, W. Stuart Symington.

Two Senate members had raised question in recent weeks concerning progress of the eight-months-old study. Senator Capehart (R.-Ind.), a member of the Banking Subcommittee, wrote the Justice Department for a progress report. Senator Nixon (R.-Calif.), a member of the special Senate Investigations subcommittee which also submitted some information to the grand jury, announced last week he plans to take up the matter of grand jury speed when Congress convenes in January. If there has been no report by that date. The U. S. District Attorney's office, in its only official comment, has said the group is at work.

Officials Declare They Lack Power To Halt Currencies

Hong Kong, Nov. 13 (AP)—Postal and police officials in Hong Kong say they are powerless to stop the flood of foreign currency pouring into Red China to pay fines imposed by the Communists.

American officials say even the U. S. cannot stop it without freezing dollar remittances to all foreign countries.

Here's how the system works: A Chinese in China or Hong Kong writes a relative abroad asking for money to aid another relative. If the letter is from China it probably says only that the need is desperate. If it is from Hong Kong it says mother (or father, or sister, or brother, or uncle) has been arrested—and must have $500 (or some other sum) right away or be executed by the Reds.

Letters Received

Such extortion letters have been reported received by Chinese-Americans in Honolulu, San Francisco, Seattle, New York, Washington, Boston, Wichita and other American cities. Presumably the denser Chinese colonies in southeast Asia and elsewhere have been similarly hit.

The ransom letters are buried in the million or 1,500,000 letters a week from Red China to the United States. They arrive in sealed bags and are loaded on U. S. ships. It would be a violation of the International Postal Union agreement to open the letters.

Police say they cannot interfere even with the small percentage of ransom demands written right in Hong Kong.

Not Strictly Applicable

There is a law against "demanding money with menaces." But police say it isn't strictly applicable. The ransom letters are written by relatives. One official said it's "like the college student writing his family for money."

Anyway, police say they can act only if someone in Hong Kong will complain. Hong Kong Chinese haven't complained.

American officials say a ban on sending U. S. dollars to Red China would not do any good, explaining:

"Once a dollar leaves the States, there's absolutely no way of keeping it out of Red China. If necessary, the money can go all around the world, but it will get there eventually.

"The only way to stop this racket would be for the U. S. and every other country to ban all foreign remittances and that obviously is impossible."

Woman Is Dead Of Oil Burns

Mrs. Elizabeth McCoy, 40, who was employed on the Catro Giovanni farm on the Lattintown road, Milton, died at St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, at 6:45 a. m. today from second degree burns about the face and body. An Orange county coroner pronunced the death accidental.

Mrs. McCoy was severely burned about the face and body on Sunday when an oil heater exploded in the building in which she resided on the Giovanni farm. She was admitted to St. Luke's Hospital at 8:40 a. m. on Sunday and on Monday the Newburgh radio station broadcast an appeal for blood donors. Hospital authorities reported the response was exceptionally good and several transfusions were given.

A son, Roosvelt Milton of 92 South Water street, Newburgh, survives. Mrs. McCoy had been a summer worker on the farm where the accident happened, it was reported.

Cleary Was Spoofing

Providence, R. I., Nov. 13 (AP)—Joe Cleary, 63, who told police yesterday he saved his wallet in a holdup attempt by dropping it down the leg of his long underwear, admitted today he made the story up. The retired farmer told detectives that two men had followed him, as he had said last night, but they just "gave him an idea" for the holdup story.

Alberta E. Davis

Funeral services for Miss Alberta E. Davis were conducted Monday afternoon at the F. Daniel Halloran Funeral Home by the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, who spoke of her as an example of the true Christian spirit of our time in her untiring efforts for the community and her church. The services were attended by her many friends. The entire faculty of School 5 of which Miss Davis was a member attended and there were representatives from the New Paltz State Teachers College, the Kingston school system, members of the board of directors of the YWCA, the Business and professional Club, Kingston Teachers Federation, the National Association of Childhood Education and the Parents' Group of No. 5. During the time that Miss Davis' body reposed at the funeral home hundreds called to pay their last respects to their departed friend and to offer condolence to the bereaved family. The casket lay in a bank of beautiful flowers. Burial was in the family plot in Accord Cemetery where the Rev. Leonard A. Sibley gave the final blessing. The bearers were John Lathrop, Frank Gray, Fred Carpenter, Earl Tongue, Stephen Hyatt, Clair Sheaffer, William Limbacher and Herbert Fister.

Would Rename Camp

Albany, Nov. 13 (AP)—Governor Dewey today urged the Defense Department to rename the huge Pine Camp military reservation in northern New York in honor of Lt. Gen. Hugh A. Drum. Drum veteran regular army officer and former commander of the New York National Guard, died in New York city last month. He was head of the corporation that operated the Empire State building.

Will Import Registers

San Francisco, Nov. 13 (AP)—A business executive says cash registers soon will be imported to the United States from England because critical materials are not as scarce in Europe as in this country. Stanley C. Allyn, president of the National Cash Register Co., said yesterday his firm's six European plants are getting materials because Europe's defense production is lagging behind the United States.

Will Visit Canada

London, Nov. 13 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill will visit Canada after his January conference with President Truman. A statement tonight from 10 Downing street said Churchill hopes to spend two or three days in Ottawa.

Parking Tickets Double, Officers Must Explain

Bridgeport, Conn., Nov. 13 (AP)—The policemen who started a crusade against illegal parking after Bridgeport's voters failed to approve pay increases for them have some explaining to do.

The board of police commissioners ordered Superintendent John A. Lyddy last night to prepare a list naming the individual officers involved in the epidemic of tagging that followed last Tuesday's election.

Lyddy was directed to get a written explanation from each man.

The board will hold a special meeting as soon as Lyddy has completed his investigation.

The board's action followed a report in which Lyddy acknowledged that the number of parking tags had more than doubled after the voters failed to approve the pay raise for policemen and firemen. Before the election parking tags averaged 290 a day, but jumped to more than 600 daily in the four subsequent days, he reported.

Death Toll Increases

Rome, Nov. 13 (AP)—Northern Italy's death toll from disastrous storms, floods and landslides increased by five today to a total of 41. From the Po valley, where Italy's biggest river was running dangerously high, reports said a family of three drowned when a portion of the river bank broke under the water's pressure. Another death was reported in a landslide near Domodossola where three victims already had been counted.

Leave for Induction

A total of 22 city and county young men left here at 7:30 a. m. today for induction into the armed forces. Eight of the inductees were city residents sent by Selective Service Board 18, and the remaining 14 were Ulster county men drafted by Board No. 19. They are inducted at Albany, from where they are transferred to various reception centers.

Late Bulletin

Albany, Nov. 13 (AP)—The FBI said today it was investigating reports that "hoodlums" had been attacking workers dredging the Hudson river near Coxsackie.

Airlift Starts

London, Nov. 13 (AP)—The Royal Air Force started an airlift today of 2,000 men from the British Isles to the troubled Suez Canal Zone. The RAF men are mainly technicians and administrative workers who will replace civilian employes in the RAF's canal zone maintenance units. They will travel from Lyneham Air Field, in Wiltshire, at the rate of four plane loads daily until the lift is completed. The planes to be used can carry 40 passengers. The Royal Air Force also has alerted 1,000 men to go to the canal zone soon as replacements for personnel completing tours of duty there.

Performances Prevented

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—The American Guild of Variety Artists last night prevented free performances by some of the biggest names in show business at a dinner at which the actors were honored for entertaining the armed forces. Henry Dunn, executive secretary of AGVA, said today he had prevented the performances at a $100 a plate dinner of the American National Theatre and Academy. "No member of the guild can give a free performance unless first cleared by the organization," Dunn said.

Dental Training in Asia

Penang, Malaya (AP) — Malaya thinks it is the second country in the world, after New Zealand, to have a dental nurses training program. Its headquarters is in this city. C. F. Mummery, chief dental officer, Federation of Malaya, just back from an extensive holiday and survey tour of New Zealand, said that this institution might become the nucleus of dental training in Southeast Asia.

He Flew in for Them

Navy Lt. John E. Pritchett holds his son John, 3, and daughter Mary Lou, 1, when his wife and children visited him at the Navy Base Hospital in Columbus, O. Lt. Pritchett was nearly overcome with carbon monoxide while flying a Navy torpedo plane on a training flight. Two wingmen led him 100 miles back to the field where he made a near perfect landing and then collapsed in the cockpit. He said thoughts of his family and intensive Navy flying training got him in safely. (AP Wirephoto)

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—The stock market turned to a mixture of gains and losses today after moving quietly higher in early trading.

Activity was only moderate and there was no decisive rush of prices in either direction. Most price changes were in fractions although some gains of around a point cropped up.

American Airlines, United and Eastern all were ahead fractions while Trans World was down a bit.

Kennecott Copper gained better than a point at one time. American Smelting moved up a fraction and Homestake was ahead a little.

Rock Island was out front at one time with a gain of around three points after directors declared a $1 dividend compared with the previous 75 cents.

Other gainers included Westinghouse, General Electric, American Woolen, Chrysler, Radio Corp., American Telephone, Air Reduction, Southern Railway, Standard Oil (N. J.) and Johns-Manville.

Among the losers were Bethlehem Steel, Goodyear Rubber, Case, Douglas Aircraft, Anaconda, du-Pont, American Tobacco, Baltimore and Ohio, Lockheed, Schenley and Southern Pacific.

The advances included Canada Southern Oils, Consolidated Engineering, Creole Petroleum, Electric Bond and Share, Humble Oil, Lake Shore, New Mexico and Arizona Land, Shattuck Denn and Southland Royalty. Among the declines were British Celanese, Glen Alden Coal and Louisiana Land.

No Deer Shooting Locally Until Nov. 22

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—Hunters were cautioned today by the State Conservation Department not to shoot deer in the Catskills and other counties outside the Adirondacks before Thanksgiving Day.

A department spokesman explained that a new law changed the opening date this year from Nov. 15 to Nov. 22. The season runs through Dec. 6.

The Adirondack season, which opened Oct. 25, ends Nov. 25.

A supplement to a state hunting syllabus, pointing out the new date, did not reach all hunters, the Conservation Department said.

dio station KFSD in San Diego, was sitting in a compartment of the City of San Francisco. He was drinking coffee.

"The coffee flew out of my hand and the conductor flew into the room," Sharp reported. He explained that the conductor was standing in the aisle outside his doorway.

Running as Usual

Alex Henetz of Cheyenne, Wyo., a postal clerk, was riding in a coach three cars back of the San Francisco power units. "Everything was running as usual when there suddenly was a terrific roar and a sound like someone screaming," he said. "I guess that was the steel being torn apart."

Henetz said he rushed outside and helped a woman from the top of the shattered wreckage. "How she was thrown out I'll never know," he said.

A Bible was thrown into the snow beside the carnage. A woman picked it up. Nearby lay a "zoom-ray gun," the toy of some child.

The snow, a foot deep near the wreck, let up as rescue operations began, but began again at nightfall. Workmen rigged floodlights and continued their work in subfreezing temperatures.

Assistance Summoned

Assistance was summoned to the crash from as far away as Salt Lake City. One ambulance from Hill Air Force base near Ogden, Utah, crashed into a rock cliff about 30 miles from the wreck scene. No one was injured.

Two hours after the wreck, two Union Pacific freights collided north of Laramie, Wyo. No reports of injuries were received.

A large number of physicians were aboard the two trains, returning from a medical convention in San Francisco. They assisted local doctors in administering to the injured. Dr. Anthony F. Ippoliti, of Chicago, prominent orthopedic surgeon, was killed in the wreck with his wife. He was a speaker at the American College of Surgeons Convention.

Graduate of Purdue

Dr. Ippoliti was a graduate of Purdue University, and starred as a fullback on their 1937-38-39 teams. He then joined the Chicago Bears professional team and played the 1943 season as a guard.

After the wreck, those who were only slightly hurt, and the curious, who came from miles around, stood awkwardly along the creek which paralleled the tracks and the highway, some 200 yards away.

Survivors were taken by bus to Evanston where they were transferred to another eastbound train. Union Pacific officials said traffic would be routed around the wreck scene by way of McCammon, Idaho.

Union Pacific officials have advanced no reason for the mishap.

Mainline service was restored during the night, with the first train through the eastbound Pony Express, headed for Denver and Kansas City. The train, normally leaving Ogden, Utah, at 7:10 p. m. (MST), was held there until about 9 p. m., then passed the wreck scene at about 11 p. m.

Union Pacific officials said schedules should be back to normal by this afternoon.

Reds Would . . .

words Monday from Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodes, chairman of the UN subcommittee. Hodes accused the Reds of seeking a fake cease-fire line immediately in an effort to stall truce talks.

Nuckols told newsmen:

"The Communists made it even more clear today that what they desire is a de facto cease-fire immediately. Hitherto they have hinted, implied and in other indirect means indicated their desire for a de facto cease-fire. Today there was little attempt to hide it."

The UN command has objected to creating a buffer zone now because it wants to maintain military pressure on the Reds to agree to other armistice terms—exchange of prisoners, policing the truce, and recommendations to governments on withdrawal of foreign troops.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme UN commander, said in Tokyo the outcome of truce talks cannot "be accurately foretold." He added it would be difficult to say what would follow their "success or failure."

Roosevelt Possessions Are Being Sold to Public

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Some 387 items belonging to the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and his widow were sold last night at the opening of a three-week sale of 1,500 of their household articles.

A total of $9,840 was realized from the initial sales.

The Roosevelt belongings on sale have a total estimated value of $100,000. Individual articles are priced between $1 and $1,500.

Purchases were made by 138 buyers, including a number of telephone callers from as far away as California.

The items being sold at the Hammer Galleries come from the Roosevelt homes in New York, Hyde Park, N. Y., and Campobello Island, Canada. The articles include china, glassware, porcelain figurines and books autographed by the president.

Mrs. Roosevelt authorized the sales.

Proceeds of the sale will go to the Roosevelt family after expenses are deducted. Admission charges will go to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, sponsored by FDR. A $5 entry charge was made for the first night, $1 for the duration of the sale.

One of the opening night buyers was Marcia Garbus, who bought an English silver muffineer for $30. She said she would send it to her mother, Mrs. Grace Morton of Los Angeles, Calif., who is a silver collector.

Commons Gives Vote To Churchill Regime

London, Nov. 13 (AP) — The House of Commons gave Winston Churchill's new Conservative regime its first vote of confidence last night, beating down by a 39-vote margin a Labor attempt to halt repeal of steel nationalization.

The House, voting 320-281, rejected an opposition amendment regretting that the king's speech opening Parliament had promised an end to government ownership of the steel industry, which the previous Labor-controlled House had voted.

The king's speech is written by the cabinet in power and outlines its program. Return of steel to private enterprise was a major pledge of the Conservatives in the Oct. 25 general election.

The Tory regime disclosed during yesterday's debate that it plans to introduce by Feb. 1 a bill denationalizing steel. Former Supply Minister George Strauss declared Labor would fight the bill at every stage. If the Tories do take the industry out from under government control, "we shall seek to restore it at the earliest possible moment," Strauss added.

Approval of the Labor amendment to the king's speech would have forced the resignation of Churchill's government, which took office Oct. 26.

Turkey Tells Russia She'll Aid the West

Ankara, Turkey, Nov. 13 (AP)—Turkey has told Russia frankly and in strong terms that she is making strenuous military preparations to aid western defense.

A note delivered to the Soviet Union last night indicated moreover, that this country intends to continue building its defenses against possible Soviet threats to Turkish sovereignty.

The Turkish note flatly rejected Russian charges in a protest note of Nov. 4 that Turkey's adherence to the western defense community is hostile and aggressive.

The Turkish reply was considered by observers here to be considerably stronger in tone than the Russian complaint.

had thrown rocks through the windshield of his truck as he drove toward the project.

About 25 men work for the company, which has a dredging contract from the army engineers.

La Port said "we're dealing with a bunch of hoodlums, paid by higher-ups, who are threatening our men."

State police, the Greene county sheriff's office and the army engineers are looking into the reports.

Officials Declare They Lack Power To Halt Currencies

Hong Kong, Nov. 13 (AP)—Postal and police officials in Hong Kong say they are powerless to stop the flood of foreign currency pouring into Red China to pay fines imposed by the Communists.

American officials say even the U. S. cannot stop it without freezing dollar remittances to all foreign countries.

Here's how the system works:

A Chinese in China or Hong Kong writes a relative abroad asking for money to aid another relative. If the letter is from China it probably says only that the need is desperate. If it is from Hong Kong it says mother (or father, or sister, or brother, or uncle) has been arrested—and must have $500 (or some other sum) right away or be executed by the Reds.

Letters Received

Such extortion letters have been reported received by Chinese-Americans in Honolulu, San Francisco, Seattle, New York, Washington, Boston, Wichita and other American cities. Presumably the denser Chinese colonies in southeast Asia and elsewhere have been similarly hit.

The ransom letters are buried in the million or 1,500,000 letters a week from Red China to the United States. They arrive in sealed bags and are loaded on U. S. ships. It would be a violation of the International Postal Union agreement to open the letters.

Police say they cannot interfere even with the small percentage of ransom demands written right in Hong Kong.

Not Strictly Applicable

There is a law against "demanding money with menaces." But police say it isn't strictly applicable. The ransom letters are written by relatives. One official said it's "like the college student writing his family for money."

Anyway, police say they can act only if someone in Hong Kong will complain. Hong Kong Chinese haven't complained.

American officials say a ban on sending U. S. dollars to Red China would not do any good, explaining:

"Once a dollar leaves the States, there's absolutely no way of keeping it out of Red China. If necessary, the money can go all around the world, but it will get there eventually.

"The only way to stop this racket would be for the U. S. and every other country to ban all foreign remittances and that obviously is impossible."

Woman Is Dead Of Oil Burns

Mrs. Elizabeth McCoy, 40, who was employed on the Catro Giovanni farm on the Lattintown road, Milton, died at St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, at 6:45 a. m. today from second degree burns about the face and body. An Orange county coroner pronunced the death accidental.

Mrs. McCoy was severely burned about the face and body on Sunday when an oil heater exploded in the building in which she resided on the Giovanni farm. She was admitted to St. Luke's Hospital at 8:40 a. m. on Sunday and on Monday the Newburgh radio station broadcast an appeal for blood donors. Hospital authorities reported the response was exceptionally good and several transfusions were given.

A son, Roosvelt Milton of 92 South Water street, Newburgh, survives. Mrs. McCoy had been a summer worker on the farm where the accident happened, it was reported.

Cleary Was Spoofing

Providence, R. I., Nov. 13 (AP)—Joe Cleary, 63, who told police yesterday he saved his wallet in a holdup attempt by dropping it down the leg of his long underwear, admitted today he made the story up. The retired farmer told detectives that two men had followed him, as he had said last night, but they just "gave him an idea" for the holdup story.

During the time that Miss Davis' body reposed at the funeral home hundreds called to pay their last respects to their departed friend and to offer condolence to the bereaved family. The casket lay in a bank of beautiful flowers. Burial was in the family plot in Accord Cemetery where the Rev. Leonard A. Sibley gave the final blessing. The bearers were John Lathrop, Frank Gray, Fred Carpenter, Earl Tongue, Stephen Hyatt, Clair Sheaffer, William Limbacher and Herbert Fister.

Would Rename Camp

Albany, Nov. 13 (AP)—Governor Dewey today urged the Defense Department to rename the huge Pine Camp military reservation in northern New York in honor of Lt. Gen. Hugh A. Drum. Drum veteran regular army officer and former commander of the New York National Guard, died in New York city last month. He was head of the corporation that operated the Empire State building.

Will Import Registers

San Francisco, Nov. 13 (AP)—A business executive says cash registers soon will be imported to the United States from England because critical materials are not as scarce in Europe as in this country. Stanley C. Allyn, president of the National Cash Register Co., said yesterday his firm's six European plants are getting materials because Europe's defense production is lagging behind the United States.

Parking Tickets Double, Officers Must Explain

Bridgeport, Conn., Nov. 13 (AP)—The policemen who started a crusade against illegal parking after Bridgeport's voters failed to approve pay increases for them have some explaining to do.

The board of police commissioners ordered Superintendent John A. Lyddy last night to prepare a list naming the individual officers involved in the epidemic of tagging that followed last Tuesday's election.

Lyddy was directed to get a written explanation from each man.

The board will hold a special meeting as soon as Lyddy has completed his investigation.

The board's action followed a report in which Lyddy acknowledged that the number of parking tags had more than doubled after the voters failed to approve the pay raise for policemen and firemen. Before the election parking tags averaged 290 a day, but jumped to more than 600 daily in the four subsequent days, he reported.

Death Toll Increases

Rome, Nov. 13 (AP)—Northern Italy's death toll from disastrous storms, floods and landslides increased by five today to a total of 41. From the Po valley, where Italy's biggest river was running dangerously high, reports said a family of three drowned when a portion of the river bank broke under the water's pressure. Another death was reported in a landslide near Domodossola where three victims already had been counted.

Leave for Induction

A total of 22 city and county young men left here at 7:30 a. m. today for induction into the armed forces. Eight of the inductees were city residents sent by Selective Service Board 18, and the remaining 14 were Ulster county men drafted by Board No. 19. They are inducted at Albany, from where they are transferred to various reception centers.

Late Bulletin

Albany, Nov. 13 (AP)—The FBI said today it was investigating reports that "hoodlums" had been attacking workers dredging the Hudson river near Coxsackie.

Airlift Starts

London, Nov. 13 (AP)—The Royal Air Force started an airlift today of 2,000 men from the British Isles to the troubled Suez Canal Zone. The RAF men are mainly technicians and administrative workers who will replace civilian employes in the RAF's canal zone maintenance units. They will travel from Lyneham Air Field, in Wiltshire, at the rate of four plane loads daily until the lift is completed. The planes to be used can carry 40 passengers. The Royal Air Force also has alerted 1,000 men to go to the canal zone soon as replacements for personnel completing tours of duty there.

Performances Prevented

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—The American Guild of Variety Artists last night prevented free performances by some of the biggest names in show business at a dinner at which the actors were honored for entertaining the armed forces. Henry Dunn, executive secretary of AGVA, said today he had prevented the performances at a $100 a plate dinner of the American National Theatre and Academy. "No member of the guild can give a free performance unless first cleared by the organization," Dunn said.

Halley Is Certified

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—The New York City Board of Elections today certified Rudolph Halley as winner in the City Council presidency race Nov. 6 by a plurality of 163,342 votes. The official ballot totals were: Halley, Liberal-City Fusion-Independent, 657,871; Joseph T. Sharkey, Democrat, 494,529; Henry J. Latham, Republican, 455,480; Clifford T. McAvoy, American Labor Party, 102,279; Michael Bartell, Socialist Workers Party, 3,583.

Three Policemen Hurt

Montevideo, Uruguay, Nov. 13 (AP)—Three policemen were injured last night in clashes between police and employes of the government agency ANCAP striking for recognition of their union. One thousand demonstrators were arrested.

Dental Training in Asia

Penang, Malaya (AP) — Malaya thinks it is the second country in the world, after New Zealand, to have a dental nurses training program. Its headquarters is in this city. C. F. Mummery, chief dental officer, Federation of Malaya, just back from an extensive holiday and survey tour of New Zealand, said that this institution might become the nucleus of dental training in Southeast Asia.

He Flew in for Them

Navy Lt. John E. Pritchett holds his son John, 3, and daughter Mary Lou, 1, when his wife and children visited him at the Navy Base Hospital in Columbus, O. Lt. Pritchett was nearly overcome with carbon monoxide while flying a Navy torpedo plane on a training flight. Two wingmen led him 100 miles back to the field where he made a near perfect landing and then collapsed in the cockpit. He said thoughts of his family and intensive Navy flying training got him in safely. (AP Wirephoto)

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—The stock market turned to a mixture of gains and losses today after moving quietly higher in early trading.

Activity was only moderate and there was no decisive rush of prices in either direction. Most price changes were in fractions although some gains of around a point cropped up.

American Airlines, United and Eastern all were ahead fractions while Trans World was down a bit.

Kennecott Copper gained better than a point at one time. American Smelting moved up a fraction and Homestake was ahead a little.

Rock Island was out front at one time with a gain of around three points after directors declared a $1 dividend compared with the previous 75 cents.

Other gainers included Westinghouse, General Electric, American Woolen, Chrysler, Radio Corp., American Telephone, Air Reduction, Southern Railway, Standard Oil (N. J.) and Johns-Manville.

Among the losers were Bethlehem Steel, Goodyear Rubber, Case, Douglas Aircraft, Anaconda, du-Pont, American Tobacco, Baltimore and Ohio, Lockheed, Schenley and Southern Pacific.

The advances included Canada Southern Oils, Consolidated Engineering, Creole Petroleum, Electric Bond and Share, Humble Oil, Lake Shore, New Mexico and Arizona Land, Shattuck Denn and Southland Royalty. Among the declines were British Celanese, Glen Alden Coal and Louisiana Land.

No Deer Shooting Locally Until Nov. 22

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—Hunters were cautioned today by the State Conservation Department not to shoot deer in the Catskills and other counties outside the Adirondacks before Thanksgiving Day.

A department spokesman explained that a new law changed the opening date this year from Nov. 15 to Nov. 22. The season runs through Dec. 6.

The Adirondack season, which opened Oct. 25, ends Nov. 25.

A supplement to a state hunting syllabus, pointing out the new date, did not reach all hunters, the Conservation Department said.

Rescue Crews . . .

dio station KFSD in San Diego, was sitting in a compartment of the City of San Francisco. He was drinking coffee.

"The coffee flew out of my hand and the conductor flew into the room," Sharp reported. He explained that the conductor was standing in the aisle outside his doorway.

Running as Usual

Alex Henetz of Cheyenne, Wyo., a postal clerk, was riding in a coach three cars back of the San Francisco power units. "Everything was running as usual when there suddenly was a terrific roar and a sound like someone screaming," he said. "I guess that was the steel being torn apart."

Henetz said he rushed outside and helped a woman from the top of the shattered wreckage. "How she was thrown out I'll never know," he said.

A Bible was thrown into the snow beside the carnage. A woman picked it up. Nearby lay a "zoom-ray gun," the toy of some child.

The snow, a foot deep near the wreck, let up as rescue operations began, but began again at nightfall. Workmen rigged floodlights and continued their work in subfreezing temperatures.

Assistance Summoned

Assistance was summoned to the crash from as far away as Salt Lake City. One ambulance from Hill Air Force base near Ogden, Utah, crashed into a rock cliff about 30 miles from the wreck scene. No one was injured.

Two hours after the wreck, two Union Pacific freights collided north of Laramie, Wyo. No reports of injuries were received.

A large number of physicians were aboard the two trains, returning from a medical convention in San Francisco. They assisted local doctors in administering to the injured. Dr. Anthony F. Ippoliti, of Chicago, prominent orthopedic surgeon, was killed in the wreck with his wife. He was a speaker at the American College of Surgeons Convention.

Graduate of Purdue

Dr. Ippoliti was a graduate of Purdue University, and starred as a fullback on their 1937-38-39 teams. He then joined the Chicago Bears professional team and played the 1943 season as a guard.

After the wreck, those who were only slightly hurt, and the curious, who came from miles around, stood awkwardly along the creek which paralleled the tracks and the highway, some 200 yards away.

Survivors were taken by bus to Evanston where they were transferred to another eastbound train. Union Pacific officials said traffic would be routed around the wreck scene by way of McCammon, Idaho.

Union Pacific officials have advanced no reason for the mishap.

Mainline service was restored during the night, with the first train through the eastbound Pony Express, headed for Denver and Kansas City. The train, normally leaving Ogden, Utah, at 7:10 p. m. (MST), was held there until about 9 p. m., then passed the wreck scene at about 11 p. m.

Union Pacific officials said schedules should be back to normal by this afternoon.

Reds Would . . .

words Monday from Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodes, chairman of the UN subcommittee. Hodes accused the Reds of seeking a fake cease-fire line immediately in an effort to stall truce talks.

Nuckols told newsmen:

"The Communists made it even more clear today that what they desire is a de facto cease-fire immediately. Hitherto they have hinted, implied and in other indirect means indicated their desire for a de facto cease-fire. Today there was little attempt to hide it."

The UN command has objected to creating a buffer zone now because it wants to maintain military pressure on the Reds to agree to other armistice terms—exchange of prisoners, policing the truce, and recommendations to governments on withdrawal of foreign troops.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme UN commander, said in Tokyo the outcome of truce talks cannot "be accurately foretold." He added it would be difficult to say what would follow their "success or failure."

Roosevelt Possessions Are Being Sold to Public

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Some 387 items belonging to the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and his widow were sold last night at the opening of a three-week sale of 1,500 of their household articles.

A total of $9,840 was realized from the initial sales.

The Roosevelt belongings on sale have a total estimated value of $100,000. Individual articles are priced between $1 and $1,500.

Purchases were made by 138 buyers, including a number of telephone callers from as far away as California.

The items being sold at the Hammer Galleries come from the Roosevelt homes in New York, Hyde Park, N. Y., and Campobello Island, Canada. The articles include china, glassware, porcelain figurines and books autographed by the president.

Mrs. Roosevelt authorized the sales.

Proceeds of the sale will go to the Roosevelt family after expenses are deducted. Admission charges will go to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, sponsored by FDR. A $5 entry charge was made for the first night, $1 for the duration of the sale.

One of the opening night buyers was Marcia Garbus, who bought an English silver muffineer for $30. She said she would send it to her mother, Mrs. Grace Morton of Los Angeles, Calif., who is a silver collector.

Commons Gives Vote To Churchill Regime

London, Nov. 13 (AP) — The House of Commons gave Winston Churchill's new Conservative regime its first vote of confidence last night, beating down by a 39-vote margin a Labor attempt to halt repeal of steel nationalization.

The House, voting 320-281, rejected an opposition amendment regretting that the king's speech opening Parliament had promised an end to government ownership of the steel industry, which the previous Labor-controlled House had voted.

The king's speech is written by the cabinet in power and outlines its program. Return of steel to private enterprise was a major pledge of the Conservatives in the Oct. 25 general election.

The Tory regime disclosed during yesterday's debate that it plans to introduce by Feb. 1 a bill denationalizing steel. Former Supply Minister George Strauss declared Labor would fight the bill at every stage. If the Tories do take the industry out from under government control, "we shall seek to restore it at the earliest possible moment," Strauss added.

Approval of the Labor amendment to the king's speech would have forced the resignation of Churchill's government, which took office Oct. 26.

Turkey Tells Russia She'll Aid the West

Ankara, Turkey, Nov. 13 (AP)—Turkey has told Russia frankly and in strong terms that she is making strenuous military preparations to aid western defense.

A note delivered to the Soviet Union last night indicated moreover, that this country intends to continue building its defenses against possible Soviet threats to Turkish sovereignty.

The Turkish note flatly rejected Russian charges in a protest note of Nov. 4 that Turkey's adherence to the western defense community is hostile and aggressive.

The Turkish reply was considered by observers here to be considerably stronger in tone than the Russian complaint.

Company Reports

had thrown rocks through the windshield of his truck as he drove toward the project.

About 25 men work for the company, which has a dredging contract from the army engineers.

La Port said "we're dealing with a bunch of hoodlums, paid by higher-ups, who are threatening our men."

ACTION ON HOOVER REFORMS

The Hoover Commission's recommendations on government reorganization and economy were among the boldest and most hopeful proposals ever offered for the betterment of our federal system.

In the beginning, both the President and Congress seemed to realize this, and they moved energetically and with some courage to put these recommendations in force. By the time the 81st Congress was well into its second year, half the program had been adopted, and savings of consequence were foreseen.

At this juncture, however, the streamlining drive gradually bogged down. Mr. Truman sent up to Capitol Hill certain proposals which were modified with apparent political intent. The lawmakers balked at these, and then stubbornly refused to approve other important features of the commission plan.

The 82nd Congress, which convened this January, allowed the unfinished portion of the program to languish in the backwaters. Nothing was done.

Thus we stand, with perhaps the most vital half of the Hoover proposals still awaiting action nearly three years after their original presentation.

If we can believe the cheerful supporters of the program, additional savings rising ultimately to from $3 billion to $5 billion could be realized by carrying it through. Whichever measure you take, it means greater value from the taxpaying dollar, perhaps some day a smaller tax burden.

This is no dull academic matter of interest only to students of efficient government. It concerns every American who is worried over the course of federal spending. With defense, foreign aid, pensions and debt requiring huge outlays that simply cannot be escaped, there is almost no hope for real savings except through a wholesale modernization of our creaky, jerry-built government structure.

Each sound advance made should contribute to a result that one day will mean more money in your pocket. You therefore have a right to expect action, both from the President and from Congress. This is the perfect opportunity for the lawmakers to demonstrate their oft-expressed affection for economy.

If they do not act affirmatively, you may be sure they are yielding to pressures from those who have a vested interest in fat government — in waste, duplication, of effort, over-expansion and mismanagement.

A governing body which feels itself powerless to control or reduce its expanding girth is a danger to its country and to the democratic system it seeks to make effective.

The voters of America will mark carefully how their representatives meet this problem in 1952. The testing time is nearly at hand for the men who shout so much and do so little for economy.

HISTORY OF TREATIES

In 3,865 years there have been 8,250 peace treaties and only 323 years of complete peace, according to a Paris newspaper. Pessimists may point to the figures as proof of their contention that man's nature is warlike and that his efforts to find peaceful settlements of his differences are doomed to failure.

Undoubtedly some of these 8,250 treaties of peace were sighted by nations which never intended to abide by them. But what of the countless idealists who approached the conference tables with the high hope that their treaties would banish war? Were these men fools, unlearned in or unconcerned with the history of previous failures of treaties? Or did they believe so firmly in man's ability to learn and to profit by mistakes that they rejected cynicism to make one more effort, undeterred by past failures?

Treaties are, after all, only the record of the intentions of those who signed them. A treaty's power to maintain peace is only as strong as the faith and the integrity of the nations which made it. Throughout history men have continued to make these attempts, and have refused to admit that war is inevitable. Only when men no longer make treaties, even unsuccessful ones, will pessimism be really justified.

THE SCARSDALE LADIES

Those who devote themselves to the battle of fighting the infiltration of Communists into the life of the American people find their opposition in most unusual places. Often, it is the rich, the upper middle class so-called Liberals who run interference against the anti-Communists. Often they do not quite know why they do it, although their stated objective is to have both sides of every question heard, which is laudable enough. Usually it works out that only one side is heard, namely, that of the sleep propagandist for the liberal or internationalist position. The anti-Communist is smeared as pro-Fascist, as a crackpot, or as of bad character.

For 34 years, we have been hearing the Communist side in a rising crescendo of opposition to the United States and to every principle of American life. President Truman stated this phase of the problem adequately in his speech last Wednesday night. Even he, who has bent over backwards trying to find a way to peace with Russia and who once referred to Alger Hiss as a red-herring, is wearying of the tactics of Russia and her supporters.

Now appears a curious situation. The New York State Federation of Women's Clubs invited Rabbi Benjamin Schultz of the American Jewish League against Communist to address their convention on November 15. The Scarsdale Woman's Club, which consists of ladies in the better-heeled economic group, objected to Rabbi Schultz being the sole speaker on a subject involving our schools, they desiring a debate instead of a lecture. They would not entrust so serious a matter solely to an anti-Communist.

Their opposition arose from the fact that Rabbi Schultz is known to believe that there has been a Communist infiltration into the schools and that textbooks have been written in such a manner that the United States is presented to our children, in language and ideas which weaken their love of country, and that Soviet Russia is often extolled. This battle has been fought before in Scarsdale and won by the Liberals.

The merits of Rabbi Schultz's position on schools and textbooks need not be discussed here. What is significant is that while it seems to be possible to present the so-called Liberal side of the case freely, whenever the strongly anti-Communist side is advocated, opposition arises. This does not mean that the opposition to Rabbi Schultz are Communists, nor even that it is not sound to have a debate, or a dozen debates, on the subject. Our children are involved and their mental and spiritual health is as important as keeping them in a rich suburb away from the germ-ridden city.

It does mean that there is a one-way rule here, namely, that those who are aggressive in the anti-Communist fight find personal opposition in unusual places and also are smeared for their pains. Few have been as vilely and as unfairly smeared as Rabbi Schultz.

I asked the Scarsdale club for their position in the matter. They replied:

"Thank you for your telegram of November fifht. We do not wish to comment for the press on a matter under discussion between a membered club and the New York State Federation.

Scarsdale Women's Club."

The next day, a carefully prepared account appeared in "The New York Times," a large part of which was devoted to an attack on the character and career of Rabbi Schultz. It would appear from that account that those who objected to the rabbi lecturing on public schools and textbooks before these ladies were more annoyed with his violent anti-communism than with his prospective speech. The late Rabbi Stephen S. Wise was quoted on the subject of Communist baiting as though that were a criminal offense.

This is but one example of a tendency to class active anti-Communists as crackpots or queers or something horrible by Libeals who still seem not to know that Russia is our enemy, that infiltration into our public life is being used as a weapon, that many textbooks have presented the wrong position to our children and that our peril is that the will to defend our country against this virulent enemy is being weakened. This weakness is apparent in the continued unwillingness of many educated and otherwise knowing persons to recognize infiltration and propaganda as weapons of the war against this country.

Sometimes I wonder whether these so-called Liberals are truly liberal in their attitude or employ a smiling guise to make the fight against weakening ideologies too unpleasant to pursue.

That Body of Yours

LATEST TREATMENT FOR ACNE

When outstanding skin specialists, who have treated a disease for many years by a method that gave such excellent results that it became the routine or regular treatment for this disease, decide to try out an entirely new method for at least a year, something about this new method must have appeared logical. I am referring to that common embarrassing distressing skin disease, acne.

In the Journal of the American Medical Association, Drs. George C. Andrews, Anthony N. Domonkos and Charles F. Post, Presbyterian Hospital, New York city, state that prior to the use of this new method of treatment—antibiotics (germ killing drugs) and estrogenic substances (sex gland extracts)—X-ray treatment was routinely used on practically all cases of acne and was considered essential. It was suddenly discovered that without x-ray treatment just as good, if not better, results were achieved. In fact, in some stubborn cases in which x-ray treatment had been used for long period without success, brilliant results were obtained with the new treatment. Photographs of several patients (before and after treatment) illustrate the great improvement of these cases by the new method after x-ray was no longer successful.

Disturbances occurred at the monthly periods of the majority of the female patients. Some of the male patients were also given limited doses of sex hormones.

Patients with the disfiguring pus or pustular type of acne were given sulfonamides (antibiotics) in addition to the new sex homones.

These skin specialists found that a number of their teen age patients had infections in impacted and unerupted wisdom teeth. Of 384 patients, infection was found in 45 (teeth, tonsils, sinuses).

In regard to food, the foods that must be avoided are fatty and fried foods and sweets, nuts, cheese, ice cream, egg yolk, chocolate. Foods to be eaten are fruits, cereals, meat and vegetables.

Emotional disturbances are an important factor in acne, as can be expected at the puberty age.

In regard to local treatment, it is recommended that the skin be first cleansed with alcohol in addition to the use of soap and water, morning, noon and night, and then local treatment applied.

Drs. Andrews, Domonkos and Post do not recommend that estrogen of sex gland treatment be the sole or only treatment for acne, but the above method cured or improved 94 per cent of their series of cases.

That's Gratitude

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Three figures in three different parts of the world last week pointed up the story of the world's hopes, its pains, its fears.

Figure No. 1 was a young girl whose courage and graciousness won great sympathy, but who in a way seemed a little sad—because she represents a once-great empire which has seen its best days and now has to lean heavily on wealthy cousins and its Dominion children.

Figure No. 2 was an aged, valiant, prime minister, returned to office at the age of 76 to guide the limping destinies of a country whose stock market skidded to alarming lows in a virtual vote of no confidence in even his ability to cope with his nation's crisis.

Fgure No. 3 was an American soldier who flew home from Europe to report on his difficult, discouraging task of building up an army to defend countries so war weary they would almost prefer to be conquered than to fight.

Of the three, Winston Churchill represented a brave attempt to revive private enterprise in an area slowly being engulfed in red tape and regulation; Priness Elizabeth represented the brave attempt of the next generation to cope with problems which their elders have so miserably failed to solve; and General Eisenhower represented the thesis that from armed might is derived peace.

All three, however, were symbols of hope—tired, discouraged, lagging hope, it is true, put nevertheless hope.

Money and Hope

That hope in each case, however was based on virtually the same foundation—money from the U.S. Eisenhower has to have more American money if he is to succeed in rearming Europe. Churchill will desperately need two billions if British finances are not to reach the vanishing point. And it was part of the Princess' job to help create the goodwill so necessary for American-British economic cooperation.

However, money is not inexhaustible. Furthermore, it is only a temporary palliative. And while more money will be necessary to bolster British finances and European armament, it is time we worked out long-range plans that will give our European friends permanent hope — not cash-and-carry hope.

As a result of my two visits to Europe this year I would like to urge two deep-rooted and permanent changes for Europe. Both are purely American. They are two of the great principles that have made us great, and without them I do not think Europe can long survive.

One is a United States of Europe.

Two is applying the Declaration of Independence to Europe.

No European Equality

Proposing that these be applied to Europe may sound like pious preaching, but when you don't have equality and unity, you cannot build a firm foundation of peace and free government. Unfortunately, equality, the basic guarantee of the Declaration of Independence, simply does not exist in Europe. It exists politically in France and some other countries, but it does not exist economically. A man is born to a certain economic level, and in most countries there he usually stays. If your mother was a servant in England, the chances are you will be a servant, too. If your father worked at a certain trade in Italy, the chances are you would not be able to rise above his status—unless you migrated to the United States.

Thus the great mass of the people, stuck in one groove, with little chance of improving themselves, abandon hope.

That is why communism, full of wonderful though phony promises of a bright, new horizon, brings hope—plus European converts by the thousands.

Meanwhile we have sat on our hands and failed to sell the greatest creed we have—the Declaration of Independence. We have passed out billions in dollars and material things, but hardly two cents worth of spiritual, cultural or philosophical things.

We have rebuilt factories, helped big business, but have failed completely to attach any of the basic principles of the Declaration of Independence regarding lush profits or workmen's opportunities.

United States of Europe

Point No. 1, the United States of Europe, is indirectly the chief reason General Eisenhower flew back to Washington.

For in trying to build up a European army, he has had to put the cart before the horse. He has been like George Washington, who tried to draft the Revolutionary army from the thirteen colonies. Each colony reserved the right to decide how many men it would send to fight the British, how much they would be paid and when they would be mustered out. Washington had no control over them except the appeal to patriotism.

Likewise with Eisenhower. He has no more control over the number of troops France will send him than General Washington had over the size of the Pennsylvania militia.

Out of Washington's experience with the 13 colonies, there was gradually forged a United States of America. And out of Eisenhower's experience there may emerge a United States of Europe.

However, he needs a lot of political help from the State Department, from the British, and from American public opinion—help which he isn't getting.

For instance, he has been trying to get the French to build jet engines in their own factories, but using British blueprints. He argues that the British have about the best jet engine in the world, so there is no use having the French spend a year fussing over new plans to develop their own engine. Ike wants production right now. The French have the factories, but also they have the national pride that demands that they develop their own blueprints.

Disastrous Pride

This illustration could be duplicated a dozen times. The chief reason Europe remains economically unstable, unsound and without our support would be bankrupt, is the conflicting criss-cross of boundaries, customs barriers, and national prides which demand a steel industry for both France and Belgium, when one industry in one country could easily supply both countries.

The United States is the only nation in the world which has solved the problem of federal government while preserving a fair degree of states rights. A similar federal unity is what Europe needs more than anything else.

Without it her people know there will be unemployment, human misery and eventually war. But with it and with the equality of human endeavor inherent in our Declaration of Independence, Europe can have genuine, not cash-and-carry hope. And with hope, the phony promises of communism fade away.

These two American principles will not be easy to sell Europe, but the alternative is a continual flow of loans across the Atlantic, plus a continual flow of troops—until the American people either rebel or are sucked dry and bled white.

Ripley's—Believe It or Not!

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

S. S. Caronia — Dr. Edward Rumely, a tireless propagandist, has been sentenced to prison and fined for distributing a patriotic document written by John T. Flynn and published by Devin-Adair of Chicago. The prison sentence was remitted, not as of right, but because of Rumely's age.

Flynn's book, entitled "The Road Ahead," is strong, clear and truthful. It traces Great Britain's tragic progress from personal freedom and national strength to personal serfdom and national poverty under a muddled Socialist bureaucracy. It warned us that we were treading the same course with the Democratic party playing the same role of host to the Socialists that the Liberal party played in Britain. Flynn drew the deadly parallel between the conduct of the unions in both countries and pointed out that Walter Reuther and David Dubinsky, our most aggressive Socialist unioneers, were leaders of the American phase of this revolution.

Flynn's book got the silent treatment by those New York papers which always advertise with lavish praise books, however trashy and vulnerable, by propagandists of the Socialist-Communist line. There is a powerful conspiracy at work in our country which tipped its hand again when a Pennsylvania congressman named Frank Buchanan, a cheap swindler long in league with a gang of slot-machine racketeers, organized a special committee of the House to investigate "lobbying." There was a hidden force pushing Buchanan. Its purpose was to persecute selected victims and make the rest of us afraid to speak out against the Socialist conspiracy. Many subsidized letter-head fronts have been operating for years and making free use of the congressional franks of Senator Murray, of Montana, and a dozen left-wing members of the House. Isidore Lipschutz, a diamond dealer from Belgium, operates two of these fronts and uses these congressional franks for this ulterior purpose without ever appearing in the scene himself.

I exposed Lipschutz but Buchanan just went on hounding Rumely and the Democratic party's Department of Justice convicted him on a trumped up charge of contempt of Congress. Many congressmen were ready to testify that Rumely had not offended Congress. All Rumely did was refuse to expose the names of thousands of persons to whom, as manager of a modest patriotic propaganda society, he had furnished cut-rate copies of a great political document, "The Road Ahead." He refused because he knew Congress didn't care who had bought this book. He knew the plotters behind Buchanan had despaired of stealing his lists out of his office, a common practice of secret terroristic societies. He knew that some of the vicious sneaks employed by one of Lipschutz's private gestapos had boasted under oath of stealing private records from loyal Americans who had hired them as confidential office employes. Rumely knew that if he gave Buchanan his lists he would be exposing thousands of decent citizens to secret reprisals. That is why he refused and that is why he was persecuted on a spurious charge of contempt.

Buchanan died, but not before he had been exposed as a cheap swindler and had declined to challenge the facts. Why he had lent himself to this dark conspiracy I could not learn. He was not intellectual. He was not a Communist nor a Socialist. He was not even a consistent Democrat. He had been a Republican some years before. Maybe one of Lipschutz's gum-shoe men had uncovered his past and put the heat on him.

Flynn has taken bad punishment for his opposition to Roosevelt, and his masterly explanation of the similarity between the British and American socialist movements. The Socialists could get nowhere as Socialists. So they sneaked themselves into established political parties with strong prestige to do an inside job. In both cases they have made use of big union organizations. The result is that, today, millions of patriotic American workers hate unions because they have been identified with every political debacle in Europe and Britain in the last 35 years. The unions always show up on the enemy's side, shooting, looting, burning. And the working people, the true living body of labor, always suffer most.

For ten years, Flynn couldn't find a publisher to produce a book, although he had been a noted scholar on historical, social and political topics long before Roosevelt. He certainly hadn't lost his authority or his clear, vehement style. Nevertheless, he was silenced. There may be a clue in a recent revelation by a typical New Deal political bore, one Karl Schriftgeiser, who wrote a book on the Buchanan Committee. Schriftgeiser arbitrarily condemned Flynn's "Road Ahead" although his writing suffers by comparison. Schriftgeiser revealed that Roosevelt long ago wrote a letter to Wilbur Cross, one time governor of Connecticut, demanding that Flynn be suppressed because he criticized Roosevelt and his works. The same New York book reviewers who give Flynn the silent treatment gave Schriftgeiser a grand build-up, although he ignored Buchanan's shady character and the proof that Lipschutz had used a dozen congressional franks to mail great quantities of political propaganda at the taxpayers' expense.

I just thought I would get this information to you before I start writing about developments on this side of the water, including the stealthy organization of an independent, world-wide "State Department" with socialist political ramifications by Dave Dubinsky and Walter Reuther.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

Nov. 13, 1931—The Rev. Francis X. Fitz Patrick, assistant priest at St. Mary's Church, was transferred to New York city, and was succeeded by the Rev. James P. Moore.

Albert Kubicek died at the home of his nephew, Rudolph Kubicek, on Downs street.

Mrs. Francisco Polaeco, of Cordts street, died.

Daniel M. Secor, of Cedar street, died.

Nov. 13, 1941—The city's five banks with Christmas Club service planned to mail out checks totalling $432,000, an increase of $57,000 over 1940.

Artists Marianne Appel, Doris Lee, Anton Refregier and Andree Ruellan of Woodstock were represented in an exhibition at the Whitney Museum of American Art in New York.

The M.J.M. School announced a schedule of three one-act plays.

Sale by William Pintard, of Tillson, of the Half Moon Dairy Farm to Wallkill Farms, Inc., was announced.

WALLKILL

Wallkill, Nov. 12—A decision to sell religious Christmas cards was made at a meeting of the Junior Newman Club Tuesday night in the community room of the Wallkill National Bank. The committee appointed to select an assortment of cards and manage the sale were Donald Decker, May Kraus, Jim Holzinger, Bob Carroll and George Keator. The Rev. William B. O'Brien, club chaplain, with four members, attended a meeting of the Middletown Newman Club Sunday night. Plans were to arrange some social function for Newman Club members of Middletown, Wallkill and Walden. Those accompanying Father O'Brien were Jim Holzinger, Bob Carroll, Elinor Ryder and Audrey O'Connor. For the purpose of setting qualifications for membership the following committee was appointed: Alta Sheeley, Mary Jane Shelby, Arlene Decker and Elinor Ryder. After there was discussion on what topics the club members would like to hear outside speakers talk about, it was decided to invite a speaker to give a general talk about the Newman Club. Other topics suggested were pre-marital guidance, the practical application of religion to a student's everyday school life and the Christopher movement.

The Women's Bible Study Class of Reformed Church will meet Tuesday, Nov. 20, at the parsonage. Mrs. Edward Lown and Mrs. Clyde Decker are co-hostesses and Mrs. Alfred Masten will lead the devotions.

The Missionary Society will meet Nov. 14 at 2:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Mary Sharp. Topic is Gateway with Mrs. J. A. Crowell, leader. Mrs. H. McCord will be in charge of devotions. Bible word is Youth.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Meredith are parents of twin sons weighing 5½ and 6½ pounds, born Nov. 7 at Horton Hospital in Middletown.

Students of Wallkill Central School have nominated Vincent DeAngelis, athletic director and football coach as the jolliest teacher in their school. As such he will be entered with other teacher-candidates from the county for the Christmas Seal Santa. This Santa will be selected soon by a committee of judges and he will come into Kingston Saturday, Nov. 17, during the pageant which will launch the annual Christmas Seal Sale, on a red fire truck and buy the first two sheets from little Sara-Jane Palmer, four year old daughter of William Palmer, county agricultural agent, and Mrs. Palmer, member of the planning committee.

The Rev. and Mrs. T. Frederick Cooper of Sand Hill road observed their 25th wedding anniversary Saturday. The Rev. Mr. Cooper is the resident chaplain at the Wallkill State Prison. They were married in Pittsburgh by the Rev. Thomas Hicks. They have three daughters, Mrs. Barbara Dianne Dexter of Clinton, Mass., Miss Glenna Joanne Cooper who is in training at New England Deaconess Hospital in Boston, and Miss Elizabeth Adrianne Cooper who attends New Paltz State Teachers College. Chaplain Cooper and his wife spent the day with their three daughters in a family reunion at Clinton, Mass.

ACTION ON HOOVER REFORMS

The Hoover Commission's recommendations on government reorganization and economy were among the boldest and most hopeful proposals ever offered for the betterment of our federal system.

In the beginning, both the President and Congress seemed to realize this, and they moved energetically and with some courage to put these recommendations in force. By the time the 81st Congress was well into its second year, half the program had been adopted, and savings of consequence were foreseen.

At this juncture, however, the streamlining drive gradually bogged down. Mr. Truman sent up to Capitol Hill certain proposals which were modified with apparent political intent. The lawmakers balked at these, and then stubbornly refused to approve other important features of the commission plan.

The 82nd Congress, which convened this January, allowed the unfinished portion of the program to languish in the backwaters. Nothing was done.

Thus we stand, with perhaps the most vital half of the Hoover proposals still awaiting action nearly three years after their original presentation.

If we can believe the cheerful supporters of the program, additional savings rising ultimately to from $3 billion to $5 billion could be realized by carrying it through. Whichever measure you take, it means greater value from the taxpaying dollar, perhaps some day a smaller tax burden.

This is no dull academic matter of interest only to students of efficient government. It concerns every American who is worried over the course of federal spending. With defense, foreign aid, pensions and debt requiring huge outlays that simply cannot be escaped, there is almost no hope for real savings except through a wholesale modernization of our creaky, jerry-built government structure.

Each sound advance made should contribute to a result that one day will mean more money in your pocket. You therefore have a right to expect action, both from the President and from Congress. This is the perfect opportunity for the lawmakers to demonstrate their oft-expressed affection for economy.

If they do not act affirmatively, you may be sure they are yielding to pressures from those who have a vested interest in fat government — in waste, duplication, of effort, over-expansion and mismanagement.

A governing body which feels itself powerless to control or reduce its expanding girth is a danger to its country and to the democratic system it seeks to make effective.

The voters of America will mark carefully how their representatives meet this problem in 1952. The testing time is nearly at hand for the men who shout so much and do so little for economy.

HISTORY OF TREATIES

In 3,865 years there have been 8,250 peace treaties and only 323 years of complete peace, according to a Paris newspaper. Pessimists may point to the figures as proof of their contention that man's nature is warlike and that his efforts to find peaceful settlements of his differences are doomed to failure.

Undoubtedly some of these 8,250 treaties of peace were sighted by nations which never intended to abide by them. But what of the countless idealists who approached the conference tables with the high hope that their treaties would banish war? Were these men fools, unlearned in or unconcerned with the history of previous failures of treaties? Or did they believe so firmly in man's ability to learn and to profit by mistakes that they rejected cynicism to make one more effort, undeterred by past failures?

Treaties are, after all, only the record of the intentions of those who signed them. A treaty's power to maintain peace is only as strong as the faith and the integrity of the nations which made it. Throughout history men have continued to make these attempts, and have refused to admit that war is inevitable. Only when men no longer make treaties, even unsuccessful ones, will pessimism be really justified.

THE SCARSDALE LADIES

Those who devote themselves to the battle of fighting the infiltration of Communists into the life of the American people find their opposition in most unusual places. Often, it is the rich, the upper middle class so-called Liberals who run interference against the anti-Communists. Often they do not quite know why they do it, although their stated objective is to have both sides of every question heard, which is laudable enough. Usually it works out that only one side is heard, namely, that of the sleep propagandist for the liberal or internationalist position. The anti-Communist is smeared as pro-Fascist, as a crackpot, or as of bad character.

For 34 years, we have been hearing the Communist side in a rising crescendo of opposition to the United States and to every principle of American life. President Truman stated this phase of the problem adequately in his speech last Wednesday night. Even he, who has bent over backwards trying to find a way to peace with Russia and who once referred to Alger Hiss as a red-herring, is wearying of the tactics of Russia and her supporters.

Now appears a curious situation. The New York State Federation of Women's Clubs invited Rabbi Benjamin Schultz of the American Jewish League against Communist to address their convention on November 15. The Scarsdale Woman's Club, which consists of ladies in the better-heeled economic group, objected to Rabbi Schultz being the sole speaker on a subject involving our schools, they desiring a debate instead of a lecture. They would not entrust so serious a matter solely to an anti-Communist.

Their opposition arose from the fact that Rabbi Schultz is known to believe that there has been a Communist infiltration into the schools and that textbooks have been written in such a manner that the United States is presented to our children, in language and ideas which weaken their love of country, and that Soviet Russia is often extolled. This battle has been fought before in Scarsdale and won by the Liberals.

The merits of Rabbi Schultz's position on schools and textbooks need not be discussed here. What is significant is that while it seems to be possible to present the so-called Liberal side of the case freely, whenever the strongly anti-Communist side is advocated, opposition arises. This does not mean that the opposition to Rabbi Schultz are Communists, nor even that it is not sound to have a debate, or a dozen debates, on the subject. Our children are involved and their mental and spiritual health is as important as keeping them in a rich suburb away from the germ-ridden city.

It does mean that there is a one-way rule here, namely, that those who are aggressive in the anti-Communist fight find personal opposition in unusual places and also are smeared for their pains. Few have been as vilely and as unfairly smeared as Rabbi Schultz.

I asked the Scarsdale club for their position in the matter. They replied:

"Thank you for your telegram of November fifht. We do not wish to comment for the press on a matter under discussion between a membered club and the New York State Federation.

Scarsdale Women's Club."

The next day, a carefully prepared account appeared in "The New York Times," a large part of which was devoted to an attack on the character and career of Rabbi Schultz. It would appear from that account that those who objected to the rabbi lecturing on public schools and textbooks before these ladies were more annoyed with his violent anti-communism than with his prospective speech. The late Rabbi Stephen S. Wise was quoted on the subject of Communist baiting as though that were a criminal offense.

This is but one example of a tendency to class active anti-Communists as crackpots or queers or something horrible by Libeals who still seem not to know that Russia is our enemy, that infiltration into our public life is being used as a weapon, that many textbooks have presented the wrong position to our children and that our peril is that the will to defend our country against this virulent enemy is being weakened. This weakness is apparent in the continued unwillingness of many educated and otherwise knowing persons to recognize infiltration and propaganda as weapons of the war against this country.

Sometimes I wonder whether these so-called Liberals are truly liberal in their attitude or employ a smiling guise to make the fight against weakening ideologies too unpleasant to pursue.

LATEST TREATMENT FOR ACNE

When outstanding skin specialists, who have treated a disease for many years by a method that gave such excellent results that it became the routine or regular treatment for this disease, decide to try out an entirely new method for at least a year, something about this new method must have appeared logical. I am referring to that common embarrassing distressing skin disease, acne.

In the Journal of the American Medical Association, Drs. George C. Andrews, Anthony N. Domonkos and Charles F. Post, Presbyterian Hospital, New York city, state that prior to the use of this new method of treatment—antibiotics (germ killing drugs) and estrogenic substances (sex gland extracts)—X-ray treatment was routinely used on practically all cases of acne and was considered essential. It was suddenly discovered that without x-ray treatment just as good, if not better, results were achieved. In fact, in some stubborn cases in which x-ray treatment had been used for long period without success, brilliant results were obtained with the new treatment. Photographs of several patients (before and after treatment) illustrate the great improvement of these cases by the new method after x-ray was no longer successful.

Disturbances occurred at the monthly periods of the majority of the female patients. Some of the male patients were also given limited doses of sex hormones.

Patients with the disfiguring pus or pustular type of acne were given sulfonamides (antibiotics) in addition to the new sex homones.

These skin specialists found that a number of their teen age patients had infections in impacted and unerupted wisdom teeth. Of 384 patients, infection was found in 45 (teeth, tonsils, sinuses).

In regard to food, the foods that must be avoided are fatty and fried foods and sweets, nuts, cheese, ice cream, egg yolk, chocolate. Foods to be eaten are fruits, cereals, meat and vegetables.

Emotional disturbances are an important factor in acne, as can be expected at the puberty age.

In regard to local treatment, it is recommended that the skin be first cleansed with alcohol in addition to the use of soap and water, morning, noon and night, and then local treatment applied.

Drs. Andrews, Domonkos and Post do not recommend that estrogen of sex gland treatment be the sole or only treatment for acne, but the above method cured or improved 94 per cent of their series of cases.

That's Gratitude

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Three figures in three different parts of the world last week pointed up the story of the world's hopes, its pains, its fears.

Figure No. 1 was a young girl whose courage and graciousness won great sympathy, but who in a way seemed a little sad—because she represents a once-great empire which has seen its best days and now has to lean heavily on wealthy cousins and its Dominion children.

Figure No. 2 was an aged, valiant, prime minister, returned to office at the age of 76 to guide the limping destinies of a country whose stock market skidded to alarming lows in a virtual vote of no confidence in even his ability to cope with his nation's crisis.

Fgure No. 3 was an American soldier who flew home from Europe to report on his difficult, discouraging task of building up an army to defend countries so war weary they would almost prefer to be conquered than to fight.

Of the three, Winston Churchill represented a brave attempt to revive private enterprise in an area slowly being engulfed in red tape and regulation; Priness Elizabeth represented the brave attempt of the next generation to cope with problems which their elders have so miserably failed to solve; and General Eisenhower represented the thesis that from armed might is derived peace.

All three, however, were symbols of hope—tired, discouraged, lagging hope, it is true, put nevertheless hope.

Money and Hope

That hope in each case, however was based on virtually the same foundation—money from the U.S. Eisenhower has to have more American money if he is to succeed in rearming Europe. Churchill will desperately need two billions if British finances are not to reach the vanishing point. And it was part of the Princess' job to help create the goodwill so necessary for American-British economic cooperation.

However, money is not inexhaustible. Furthermore, it is only a temporary palliative. And while more money will be necessary to bolster British finances and European armament, it is time we worked out long-range plans that will give our European friends permanent hope — not cash-and-carry hope.

As a result of my two visits to Europe this year I would like to urge two deep-rooted and permanent changes for Europe. Both are purely American. They are two of the great principles that have made us great, and without them I do not think Europe can long survive.

One is a United States of Europe.

Two is applying the Declaration of Independence to Europe.

No European Equality

Proposing that these be applied to Europe may sound like pious preaching, but when you don't have equality and unity, you cannot build a firm foundation of peace and free government. Unfortunately, equality, the basic guarantee of the Declaration of Independence, simply does not exist in Europe. It exists politically in France and some other countries, but it does not exist economically. A man is born to a certain economic level, and in most countries there he usually stays. If your mother was a servant in England, the chances are you will be a servant, too. If your father worked at a certain trade in Italy, the chances are you would not be able to rise above his status—unless you migrated to the United States.

Thus the great mass of the people, stuck in one groove, with little chance of improving themselves, abandon hope.

That is why communism, full of wonderful though phony promises of a bright, new horizon, brings hope—plus European converts by the thousands.

Meanwhile we have sat on our hands and failed to sell the greatest creed we have—the Declaration of Independence. We have passed out billions in dollars and material things, but hardly two cents worth of spiritual, cultural or philosophical things.

We have rebuilt factories, helped big business, but have failed completely to attach any of the basic principles of the Declaration of Independence regarding lush profits or workmen's opportunities.

United States of Europe

Point No. 1, the United States of Europe, is indirectly the chief reason General Eisenhower flew back to Washington.

For in trying to build up a European army, he has had to put the cart before the horse. He has been like George Washington, who tried to draft the Revolutionary army from the thirteen colonies. Each colony reserved the right to decide how many men it would send to fight the British, how much they would be paid and when they would be mustered out. Washington had no control over them except the appeal to patriotism.

Likewise with Eisenhower. He has no more control over the number of troops France will send him than General Washington had over the size of the Pennsylvania militia.

Out of Washington's experience with the 13 colonies, there was gradually forged a United States of America. And out of Eisenhower's experience there may emerge a United States of Europe.

However, he needs a lot of political help from the State Department, from the British, and from American public opinion—help which he isn't getting.

For instance, he has been trying to get the French to build jet engines in their own factories, but using British blueprints. He argues that the British have about the best jet engine in the world, so there is no use having the French spend a year fussing over new plans to develop their own engine. Ike wants production right now. The French have the factories, but also they have the national pride that demands that they develop their own blueprints.

Disastrous Pride

This illustration could be duplicated a dozen times. The chief reason Europe remains economically unstable, unsound and without our support would be bankrupt, is the conflicting criss-cross of boundaries, customs barriers, and national prides which demand a steel industry for both France and Belgium, when one industry in one country could easily supply both countries.

The United States is the only nation in the world which has solved the problem of federal government while preserving a fair degree of states rights. A similar federal unity is what Europe needs more than anything else.

Without it her people know there will be unemployment, human misery and eventually war. But with it and with the equality of human endeavor inherent in our Declaration of Independence, Europe can have genuine, not cash-and-carry hope. And with hope, the phony promises of communism fade away.

These two American principles will not be easy to sell Europe, but the alternative is a continual flow of loans across the Atlantic, plus a continual flow of troops —until the American people either rebel or are sucked dry and bled white.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

S. S. Caronia — Dr. Edward Rumely, a tireless propagandist, has been sentenced to prison and fined for distributing a patriotic document written by John T. Flynn and published by Devin-Adair of Chicago. The prison sentence was remitted, not as of right, but because of Rumely's age.

Flynn's book, entitled "The Road Ahead," is strong, clear and truthful. It traces Great Britain's tragic progress from personal freedom and national strength to personal serfdom and national poverty under a muddled Socialist bureaucracy. It warned us that we were treading the same course with the Democratic party playing the same role of host to the Socialists that the Liberal party played in Britain. Flynn drew the deadly parallel between the conduct of the unions in both countries and pointed out that Walter Reuther and David Dubinsky, our most aggressive Socialist unioneers, were leaders of the American phase of this revolution.

Flynn's book got the silent treatment by those New York papers which always advertise with lavish praise books, however trashy and vulnerable, by propagandists of the Socialist-Communist line. There is a powerful conspiracy at work in our country which tipped its hand again when a Pennsylvania congressman named Frank Buchanan, a cheap swindler long in league with a gang of slot-machine racketeers, organized a special committee of the House to investigate "lobbying." There was a hidden force pushing Buchanan. Its purpose was to persecute selected victims and make the rest of us afraid to speak out against the Socialist conspiracy. Many subsidized letter-head fronts have been operating for years and making free use of the congressional franks of Senator Murray, of Montana, and a dozen left-wing members of the House. Isidore Lipschutz, a diamond dealer from Belgium, operates two of these fronts and uses these congressional franks for this ulterior purpose without ever appearing in the scene himself.

I exposed Lipschutz but Buchanan just went on hounding Rumely and the Democratic party's Department of Justice convicted him on a trumped up charge of contempt of Congress. Many congressmen were ready to testify that Rumely had not offended Congress. All Rumely did was refuse to expose the names of thousands of persons to whom, as manager of a modest patriotic propaganda society, he had furnished cut-rate copies of a great political document, "The Road Ahead." He refused because he knew Congress didn't care who had bought this book. He knew the plotters behind Buchanan had despaired of stealing his lists out of his office, a common practice of secret terroristic societies. He knew that some of the vicious sneaks employed by one of Lipschutz's private gestapos had boasted under oath of stealing private records from loyal Americans who had hired them as confidential office employes. Rumely knew that if he gave Buchanan his lists he would be exposing thousands of decent citizens to secret reprisals. That is why he refused and that is why he was persecuted on a spurious charge of contempt.

Buchanan died, but not before he had been exposed as a cheap swindler and had declined to challenge the facts. Why he had lent himself to this dark conspiracy I could not learn. He was not intellectual. He was not a Communist nor a Socialist. He was not even a consistent Democrat. He had been a Republican some years before. Maybe one of Lipschutz's gum-shoe men had uncovered his past and put the heat on him.

Flynn has taken bad punishment for his opposition to Roosevelt, and his masterly explanation of the similarity between the British and American socialist movements. The Socialists could get nowhere as Socialists. So they sneaked themselves into established political parties with strong prestige to do an inside job. In both cases they have made use of big union organizations. The result is that, today, millions of patriotic American workers hate unions because they have been identified with every political debacle in Europe and Britain in the last 35 years. The unions always show up on the enemy's side, shooting, looting, burning. And the working people, the true living body of labor, always suffer most.

For ten years, Flynn couldn't find a publisher to produce a book, although he had been a noted scholar on historical, social and political topics long before Roosevelt. He certainly hadn't lost his authority or his clear, vehement style. Nevertheless, he was silenced. There may be a clue in a recent revelation by a typical New Deal political bore, one Karl Schriftgeiser, who wrote a book on the Buchanan Committee. Schriftgeiser arbitrarily condemned Flynn's "Road Ahead" although his writing suffers by comparison. Schriftgeiser revealed that Roosevelt long ago wrote a letter to Wilbur Cross, one time governor of Connecticut, demanding that Flynn be suppressed because he criticized Roosevelt and his works. The same New York book reviewers who give Flynn the silent treatment gave Schriftgeiser a grand build-up, although he ignored Buchanan's shady character and the proof that Lipschutz had used a dozen congressional franks to mail great quantities of political propaganda at the taxpayers' expense.

I just thought I would get this information to you before I start writing about developments on this side of the water, including the stealthy organization of an independent, world-wide "State Department" with socialist political ramifications by Dave Dubinsky and Walter Reuther.

WALLKILL

Wallkill, Nov. 12—A decision to sell religious Christmas cards was made at a meeting of the Junior Newman Club Tuesday night in the community room of the Wallkill National Bank. The committee appointed to select an assortment of cards and manage the sale were Donald Decker, May Kraus, Jim Holzinger, Bob Carroll and George Keator. The Rev. William B. O'Brien, club chaplain, with four members, attended a meeting of the Middletown Newman Club Sunday night. Plans were to arrange some social function for Newman Club members of Middletown, Wallkill and Walden. Those accompanying Father O'Brien were Jim Holzinger, Bob Carroll, Elinor Ryder and Audrey O'Connor. For the purpose of setting qualifications for membership the following committee was appointed: Alta Sheeley, Mary Jane Shelby, Arlene Decker and Elinor Ryder. After there was discussion on what topics the club members would like to hear outside speakers talk about, it was decided to invite a speaker to give a general talk about the Newman Club. Other topics suggested were pre-marital guidance, the practical application of religion to a student's everyday school life and the Christopher movement.

The Women's Bible Study Class of Reformed Church will meet Tuesday, Nov. 20, at the parsonage. Mrs. Edward Lown and Mrs. Clyde Decker are co-hostesses and Mrs. Alfred Masten will lead the devotions.

The Missionary Society will meet Nov. 14 at 2:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Mary Sharp. Topic is Gateway with Mrs. J. A. Crowell, leader. Mrs. H. McCord will be in charge of devotions. Bible word is Youth.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Meredith are parents of twin sons weighing 5½ and 6½ pounds, born Nov. 7 at Horton Hospital in Middletown.

Students of Wallkill Central School have nominated Vincent DeAngelis, athletic director and football coach as the jolliest teacher in their school. As such he will be entered with other teacher-candidates from the county for the Christmas Seal Santa. This Santa will be selected soon by a committee of judges and he will come into Kingston Saturday, Nov. 17, during the pageant which will launch the annual Christmas Seal Sale, on a red fire truck and buy the first two sheets from little Sara-Jane Palmer, four year old daughter of William Palmer, county agricultural agent, and Mrs. Palmer, member of the planning committee.

The Rev. and Mrs. T. Frederick Cooper of Sand Hill road observed their 25th wedding anniversary Saturday. The Rev. Mr. Cooper is the resident chaplain at the Wallkill State Prison. They were married in Pittsburgh by the Rev. Thomas Hicks. They have three daughters, Mrs. Barbara Dianne Dexter of Clinton, Mass., Miss Glenna Joanne Cooper who is in training at New England Deaconess Hospital in Boston, and Miss Elizabeth Adrianne Cooper who attends New Paltz State Teachers College. Chaplain Cooper and his wife spent the day with their three daughters, in a family reunion at Clinton, Mass.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, JR.

Plans Discussed For Yule Period

Woodstock, Nov. 13—At the invitation of Joseph Holdridge, chairman of the Woodstock Masonic Square Club's annual Christmas Eve celebration on the village green, representatives of various town organizations met Monday night to discuss tentative plans and ideas for this year's program. In the absence of Holdridge, George J. Braendly, president of the Masonic Square Club, presided at the meeting and introduced Leon Carey past chairman for the Christmas program who explained how the organizations had worked together last year at the behest of the Masonic Square Club to bring about a colorful and unique observance of the holidays in the village.

Two years ago the Masonic Square Club contributed $30 from its welfare fund to purchase candy and oranges which were distributed Christmas Eve; last year the club spent $80 for the same purpose, and this year, Carey announced the club had allotted $150 as its contribution to the Christmas program.

It was also announced that Joseph F. Marr of Bearsville will again donate a large blue spruce Christmas tree which will be set up on the green by Benjamin DeGraff and Birge Simmons. Prizes will again be awarded for the most beautifully decorated homes and places of business.

The Christmas Eve program, which will include a carol service on the green and the exciting arrival of Santa Claus will take place Monday, Dec. 24, between 5 and 6 p. m.

Attending the meeting were the following representatives from the various organizations: Mrs. Albert Montgomery, Woodstock Home Bureau; George J. Braendly, Odd Fellows Lodge; Mrs. Erwin Holumzer, American Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. Harold Mellin and Mrs. Margot King, Parent-Teacher Association; Griffin Herrick, Woodstock Riding Club; Mrs. Kathryn Van Ness, Woodstock Garden Club; Alice Fischer, Crafts Cooperative; Wayne Underhill, Woodstock Business Association; Houston Richards, Woodstock Library; Mrs. Irving Ostrander, Overlook Home Bureau; Bert Wangler, American Legion Post 1026; Florence Peper, Agapae Rebekah Lodge.

Further plans will be discussed by committee members at the next meeting at the Masonic Square Club rooms, Monday, Nov. 19, at 7:30 p. m.

Legion Auxiliary Collecting Gifts

Woodstock, Nov. 13—As in past years Woodstock Unit 1026, American Legion is asking support from its members and friends for the Castle Point Veterans Hospital gift shop program, sponsored every year by the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of New York.

This program supplies free of charge to the patients at veterans hospitals all over the state Christmas gifts which they may choose and send home to their families and loved ones. The gift shop is set up in the hospital so that the men may do their Christmas shopping as conveniently as possible.

In past years Woodstockers have been most generous and it is hoped that enough gifts may be collected throughout the New York Department this year so the men will not be limited to choosing one or two gifts. The gifts should be new and worth at least one dollar. They should be unbreakable and no cosmetics or food are acceptable. They should also be boxed if possible. They should not be wrapped, but Christmas wrappings may be included separately and are acceptable.

Boxes for the collection of these gifts are now in Mower's Food Market, the Woodstock Food Market and the Woodstock Dairy. The deadline for collecting these gifts is Nov. 24. It is hoped that Woodstock townspeople will be as generous as they have been in past years. With our Korean casualties there are many more men in the veterans hospitals to be served by this program than ever before. Further information may be obtained by communicating with Mrs. Erwin Holumzer, Woodstock 2501.

Card Party Nov. 19

Woodstock, Nov. 13 — Woodstock Unit 1026, American Legion Auxiliary will hold the second of its winter series of card parties at the Legion Hall, Monday, Nov. 19, beginning at 8 p. m. There will be refreshments. The public is cordially invited to attend. Further information may be obtained by communicating with Mrs. Clarence Snyder, Woodstock 9356.

Two-Story Trailer Home Is Novelty

Woodstock, Nov. 13 — The shining new two-story trailer parked on Orchard Lane for the past week, which will be the new home of Mr. and Mrs. William Elwyn, Jr., and their daughter, Bonnie, aged 5, has been the cause of considerable excitement and wonder in the village. The first of its kind ever to be seen here, is a spacious, completely equipped two-story modern home in which the family expects to live while traveling about the country during the coming year.

Bill Elwyn, who was formerly employed at the Woodstock post office is now associated with the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, will leave in the near future with his family and his new home for Troy, the first stop on their extended trip.

The trailer which boasts two bedrooms upstairs, has a kitchen, hot waterheater and oil burner, indirect lighting and a maximum of closet space. It is 28 feet from end to end, 11 feet high and weighs 7,100 pounds before occupancy.

Village Notes

Woodstock, Nov. 13 —Mrs. Orestes Cleveland and her daughter Mrs. William Shirey spent the weekend in New York.

The Misses Marie and Berta Fry of Bearsville returned to New York Monday.

Miss Nan Mason and Miss Wilna Hervey left Sunday to spend the winter at Annamaria, Fla.

Mrs. George Aplustill and Mrs. Erwin Holumzer attended the Third District Conference of the American Legion Auxiliary which was held at Albany, Nov. 9, as delegates from Woodstock Unit 1026, American Legion Auxiliary.

Engineer Is Happy

Munsan, Korea, Nov. 13 (AP)—The engineer of a train that has stood still for four months is happy in his work. He is Chung Nam Yong, engineer of the press train stationed here as housing for allied correspondents covering the Panmunjom cease-fire talks. Like the talks, the train has gone nowhere. Chung keeps steam up, though to provide heat, hot water and water pressure for the sleeping cars. "I am glad to do this," he said, "because this is the honorable peace train."

Bruyn Avenue Home Damaged

A home at 86 Bruyn avenue and its contents were damaged by heat, smoke and condensation from a fire which broke out in the siding of its kitchen at 4:50 p. m. Monday, the fire department reported. The heat from a smoke pipe serving the kitchen range conducted through a tile sleeve and ignited the wood siding of the one story addition used as a kitchen, fire officials said. The alarm was sounded from Box 5211, Smith avenue and O'Neil street. The building is owned by Mary S. Greaux of 89 South Manor avenue and occupied by Willow Harrell. Firemen confined the fire to the kitchen addition, but the heat caused damage in other parts of the house, according to the fire department report. (Freeman Photo)

HOME BUREAU

Will Honor Leaders

Miss Hazel Reed, assistant state leader of home demonstration agents, will bring greetings from the College of Home Economics to the leaders who will be present at a special meeting, planned in her honor by the Ulster County Home Bureau, Nov. 16 from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m. at the First Baptist Church hall.

Officers and local leaders are responsible for the educational program in home bureau units and study clubs which number 59 in the county. The occasion of Nov. 16 is planned for those who have served during the 1950 and 1951 program year.

In addition to Miss Reed, two other specialists from the Colleges of Agriculture and Home Economics, James White and Edward Pope, bringing new understandings of leadership especially the important factors of how to be at ease with a group.

Three skits illustrating typical scenes in the everyday life of extension families will be given by local leaders in skits and social dramas from Ellenville, Kingston and Plank road.

Mrs. William Powers, county chairman, will preside and Ralph Halbert of Kingston will be the pianist.

Immediately following the program refreshments will be served.

Yale Decoration School

Tuesday, Nov. 20 is the newly-scheduled date for the local leader training school on the making of Christmas decorations to be conducted by Raymond Fox. The meeting will be held from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. at the municipal auditorium in Kingston.

Kingston Day Unit

The Day Unit, Kingston Home Bureau, will have its first meeting for the tailored cotton dress class on Thursday, Nov. 15, from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. Those attending are requested to bring their lunch as well as pins, tape measure, twill tape and pencil. It is suggested that patterns and material not be purchased before the meeting. The class will be held at the Home Bureau rooms, 410 Broadway.

Lomontville Unit

The Lomontville Home Bureau meeting will take place in the Community hall on Thursday, Nov. 15, beginning at 10 a. m. for the third food lesson. Luncheon will be prepared and served. Mrs. Henry Rygh, food leader, will be in charge. The business meeting will be held in the afternoon.

Esopus Legion Meets Tonight

Port Ewen, Nov. 13—The Town of Esopus Post No. 1298, American Legion, will hold its regular monthly meeting this evening at 8 p. m. at the Post Memorial Home on Legion Court in Port Ewen. The two principal items of interest to come before the meeting will center on the membership drive and plans for the annual card party.

The membership drive was opened with a kick-off dinner at the Legion Home, October 30. At tonight's meeting, the first formal report will be made. The drive has been organized by the membership chairman, P. Joseph Beichert, so that exery potential member in the Town of Esopus will be contacted. The membership committee will meet prior to the regular meeting at 7:15 p. m.

The card party is planned for Thursday evening, Nov. 29, at the Town Hall in Port Ewen. Alfred Schoonmaker is chairman of this event and with his sub-committee chairman is working to make this year's card party particularly outstanding. This year's party will be the seventh annual card party to be conducted by the Esopus Legion Post.

Preliminary plans for the annual Legion Christmas Party for the children of the town will also be discussed at tonight's meeting. At the conclusion of the meeting, refreshments will be served.

Millionth DP To Arrive in U. S.

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—The old world's one-millionth displaced person, swept from his Czechoslovakia home by the tides of war and revolt, will arrive here today for a new life in the new world.

Alexander Ranezay and his family are due aboard the military transport, Gen. C. H. Muir, carrying some 1,280 refugees from Bremerhaven.

Special pier-side ceremonies are planned to greet Ranezay. In the afternoon, Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri will welcome him at city hall.

The Ranezay family, including the DP's wife and their two daughters, 10 and 21 years old, are going to Midland, Texas, where they have been offered housing by William Y. Penn, a petroleum engineer. Ranezay, a farmer, will work as a gardner and handyman for Penn.

Ranezay is one of the 280,000 DPs who have come to the United States. Another 720,000 have left Europe for homes in other countries — in Israel, Canada, South America, Australia.

Only about 100,000 DPs are left in Europe, and by the end of the year all but a few thousand will be settled or getting their final departure papers ready.

Eastman Blaze Is Out

Rochester, Nov. 13 (AP)—The $2,000,000 blaze in an Eastman Kodak building is out — and Rochester city firemen are "all in" after fighting the flames for more than 50 hours. The fire in the Kodak building, which started shortly after noon Saturday, was put out yesterday at 3 p. m. Kodak officials are investigating the cause of the plant fire. An official said half the damage was to paper stock and the other half to the building.

Adenauer Is Too Busy

Bonn, Germany, Nov. 13 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said today he is too busy to attend a meeting in Paris on Thursday of foreign ministers from countries which would participate in a proposed European army. He named Prof. Walter Hallstein, secretary of state in the foreign office, to represent Western Germany in his place.

New Store to Open On Central Broadway

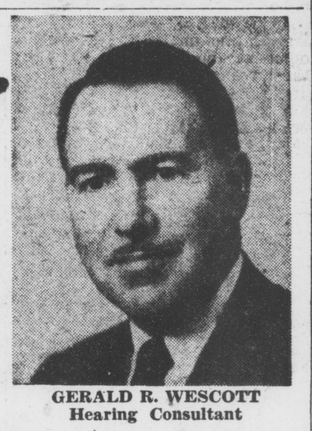

Justine and Mort Englander are completing plans for the opening of a gift and party shop, to be known as The Mid-Way, and located in the new Broadmar Apartment building at the corner of Broadway and O'Neil street. A feature will be The Mid-Way's Party Corner. A lending library featuring the latest best sellers is being installed.

Englander formerly operated the United Cut Rate Pharmacy on Wall street for over 16 years. Mrs. Englander, the former Justine Rowe, has been associated with her father at the Rowe Shoe Company of John street.

Bomb Threat Only Scare

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—The Communist Party's national headquarters was the scene of the city's latest bomb threat—but like most of the other warnings, it was only a scare. Some 25 policemen searched the party's offices in Harlem yesterday and found no bomb. They were summoned there by the building telephone operator who said a man's voice warned: "A time bomb has been planted in the building. It's going off at 4:30 p. m."

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, JR.

Plans Discussed For Yule Period

Woodstock, Nov. 13—At the invitation of Joseph Holdridge, chairman of the Woodstock Masonic Square Club's annual Christmas Eve celebration on the village green, representatives of various town organizations met Monday night to discuss tentative plans and ideas for this year's program. In the absence of Holdridge, George J. Braendly, president of the Masonic Square Club, presided at the meeting and introduced Leon Carey past chairman for the Christmas program who explained how the organizations had worked together last year at the behest of the Masonic Square Club to bring about a colorful and unique observance of the holidays in the village.

Two years ago the Masonic Square Club contributed $30 from its welfare fund to purchase candy and oranges which were distributed Christmas Eve; last year the club spent $80 for the same purpose, and this year, Carey announced the club had allotted $150 as its contribution to the Christmas program.

It was also announced that Joseph F. Marr of Bearsville will again donate a large blue spruce Christmas tree which will be set up on the green by Benjamin DeGraff and Birge Simmons. Prizes will again be awarded for the most beautifully decorated homes and places of business.

The Christmas Eve program, which will include a carol service on the green and the exciting arrival of Santa Claus will take place Monday, Dec. 24, between 5 and 6 p. m.

Attending the meeting were the following representatives from the various organizations: Mrs. Albert Montgomery, Woodstock Home Bureau; George J. Braendly, Odd Fellows Lodge; Mrs. Erwin Holumzer, American Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. Harold Mellin and Mrs. Margot King, Parent-Teacher Association; Griffin Herrick, Woodstock Riding Club; Mrs. Kathryn Van Ness, Woodstock Garden Club; Alice Fischer, Crafts Cooperative; Wayne Underhill, Woodstock Business Association; Houston Richards, Woodstock Library; Mrs. Irving Ostrander, Overlook Home Bureau; Bert Wangler, American Legion Post 1026; Florence Peper, Agapae Rebekah Lodge.

Further plans will be discussed by committee members at the next meeting at the Masonic Square Club rooms, Monday, Nov. 19, at 7:30 p. m.

Legion Auxiliary Collecting Gifts

Woodstock, Nov. 13—As in past years Woodstock Unit 1026, American Legion is asking support from its members and friends for the Castle Point Veterans Hospital gift shop program, sponsored every year by the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of New York.

This program supplies free of charge to the patients at veterans hospitals all over the state Christmas gifts which they may choose and send home to their families and loved ones. The gift shop is set up in the hospital so that the men may do their Christmas shopping as conveniently as possible.

In past years Woodstockers have been most generous and it is hoped that enough gifts may be collected throughout the New York Department this year so the men will not be limited to choosing one or two gifts. The gifts should be new and worth at least one dollar. They should be unbreakable and no cosmetics or food are acceptable. They should also be boxed if possible. They should not be wrapped, but Christmas wrappings may be included separately and are acceptable.

Boxes for the collection of these gifts are now in Mower's Food Market, the Woodstock Food Market and the Woodstock Dairy. The deadline for collecting these gifts is Nov. 24. It is hoped that Woodstock townspeople will be as generous as they have been in past years. With our Korean casualties there are many more men in the veterans hospitals to be served by this program than ever before. Further information may be obtained by communicating with Mrs. Erwin Holumzer, Woodstock 2501.

Two Men Killed By N.Y. Patrolmen

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Two alleged robbers were shot to death early today by patrolmen answering the cry of "help" from their victim, police said.

In the melee on upper Madison avenue an innocent bystander was wounded slightly.

The two dead men were identified as Roberto Carrasquillo, 22, who died at the scene, and Antonio Jose Soria, 26, who died later in a hospital. Both listed New York addresses.

Police said they were mugging Walter Bright, 45, of South Amboy, N. J., when Sergeant Martin J. Redden and Patrolman John Kelleher went by in a radio car.

Redden said the men fled with $2.50 and Bright's fountain pen as the police yelled at them. The sergeant added that he and Kelleher first fired warning shots, then aimed at the pair.

A stray bullet struck Julio Gordon, 15, in a finger.

Police said a patient at the hospital identified the two men as the pair who mugged him 30 minutes earlier.

Bright was treated for bruises and then released.

Jewelry Display

Students of the Cooperative Retailing two class of 1952, periods one and two, made a display pertaining to men and women's jewelry during the week of Nov. 5. The jewelry consisted of men and women's watches, rings and bracelets. Those in charge of the display were Geraldine Billings, Margaret Glennon, Josephine DeCicco and Ida Marchetti. Jewelry for the display was loaned through the courtesy of Safford and Scudder.

Window Exhibits

The Cooperative Retailing classes, periods three and four, completed two window displays last week. The first show case displayed toys ranging from a walking doll to a model size fire truck. The arrangement of this display was done by Joan Green and Georgè Dickson. The merchandise was loaned thrpugh the courtesy of Elston's Sport Shop.

The second display was of men's trousers, shirts and socks arranged on a white and red background. Those responsible for the display were Connie Hauser, Floyd Halwick and Robert Gehrer. Flanagan's loaned the articles for the display. The class also took a field trip last week to study billboards on Route 28.

Do You Remember

BY SOPHIE MILLER

From time to time I have seen old clocks at a rummage sale, some go, some don't, and some that do go do not always go correctly. But what I have been looking for is a cuckoo clock. No one ever seems to get rid of them. I think a cuckoo clock or any of those mechanical clocks which have figures that move are something. From time to time folks have asked me about fixing up old clocks. For instance, just repainting the large clock dials. As a rule if it is a paper face, hand painting it has to be done by an expert. If the numbers are metal, they can be shined up. Among my catalogues I found one from the Ralph Herman Clock House of 628 Coney Island avenue in Brooklyn, 18. This catalogue is illustrated with every part you can think of not only for modern clocks but also for the old-fashioned cuckoo and even the grandfather and hall clock.

For instance they have clock dials made from glazed index bristol which is gummed so no doubt can be pasted right on the old face. They run in size and price from about 2 inches for 15 cents each to 12 inches for 75 cents. I take it, they mean diameters. They can be had in Arabic or Roman numbers. They explain, that "All sizes on clock hands indicate the diameter of the dial for which the hands are intended. Minute hands are either square or oblong holes. All spade, maltese and moon hands can be obtained with either square or oblong minute holes. The hands run from 25 cents a pair. No exchange or refunds, I notice.

You should see the clock hands for the old fashioned hall or grandfather clocks, they are brass and hand cut in serpentine style and are priced at $3 a pair. There are also calendar hands which run around $1. Perhaps prices have changed as this catalogue is not dated.

Just the other day, some of the ladies called me over to the rummage sale across the street so that I could wind a clock for them with one of my old keys of which I happen to have several. This clock house, I notice has all kinds of keys and they run from around 15 cents each to $1.50. For instance, they have chime clock keys, and double end keys, and French travel keys and Seth Thomas double-end chime keys, brass 75 cents each. Heavy duty keys, which can be used for foreign clocks too.

I know how folks feel when they have a favorite clock from which some part is missing or broken and they would like to tinker with it themselves. My grandfather used to like to work on clocks in his spare time, and my father kept a large store clock going for years with a broken main spring. He nailed up a block of wood so that it could not spring back, and he knew just how far to wind it so it wouldn't spring back. Anyway, since he died, I cannot make it run on its half spring. This book has pendulums too of all kinds, and of course mainsprings of standard sizes from 35 cents to about $1.20.

The parts which interest me are the trims, like antler heads of four and five points, cuckoo hands, hand cut, leaf type pendulums, cuckoo clock weights, cuckoo birds. The birds are hand carved, hand painted with moveable wings and tongue at $2.50 each. They have many items which are a mystery to me, like the bellows, "Your bellows-releathered $1.25 each." They are cuckoo bellows which can be glued onto the old whistles, they are covered with imported French kidskin. In the long run, I think it would take a lot of time, effort and money to make your own cuckoo clock, but it certainly would be fun, if it worked.

Geisha Girls Are On Strike, Fight Employer Lockout

By OLEN CLEMENTS

Tokyo, Nov. 13 (AP)—There are two kinds of Geisha girls in Japan—one sings.

The other kind sings, dances and lingers a while.

Both types work from a sort of communal boarding house and are on call to restaurants, clubs or homes—for a price.

Their greatest enemies are Japanese wives.

Geisha is an age-old Japanese custom. But it may be on the way out, although the girls insist not yet.

They formed a union.

Last week in Omiya, a suburb of Tokyo, 60 pretty, kimono-clad geishas went on strike. Right in the middle of their entertainment.

Employers wanted them to work from a registration center, not the postwar boarding house.

The girls carried placards proclaiming, "we, the laborers, demand—"

Imports From Tokyo

Employers rushed in a new batch of geishas from Tokyo and the shows went on. They locked out the striking girls.

The union instructed the geishas to oppose "mizuten"—a sort of carefree way of spending an evening, and to stick to singing and dancing and to fight, fight, fight.

The girls strummed their samisens (three-stringed lutes) and howled that central registration was a return to the occupation-outlawed system of "kemban"—central registration for quick calls.

When the occupation ruled out kemban, Japanese employers retaliated by adopting the geishas or giving them jobs as maids.

Rich geisha patrons paid off the girls' debts and set them up as their mistresses.

The wives don't like it.

The wealthy patrons around the end of this month will begin hiring theatres, dance halls and clubs for solo recitals of their geisha proteges. It is a Japanese custom.

The fight is on. So is the geisha season. Banzai! Or—in English—10,000 years!

On the Wrong Track

Bismark, N. D., (AP)—August Lang of Bismark heard a train whistle as his car approached a crossing. He looked to his left and a switch engine bearing down on him. Lang quickly turned his car to avoid being hit. He found himself driving down the tracks in front of the engine. Lang finally forced the car over onto another set of tracks. He then jumped into a ditch and was unhurt. The damage was four tires ruined and steering mechanism thrown out of whack.

Shirt Pickup

Buffalo, (AP)—The prisoner had a fancy for plaid shirts. He was wearing three of them when he was brought before City Judge Charles T. Yeager on a charge of stealing one of them. After losing his shirts, he told the court he came from New Orleans to pick up potatoes on a farm near here. "It's OK to pick up potatoes, but quit picking up shirts," the judge commented. He suspended a 30-day sentence and told the man to get out of town.

Red Submarine Fleet Reported—380 in All

London, Nov. 13 (AP)—Brassey's Annual, an unofficial British review of the world's armed forces, says Russia has a formidable submarine force which is causing apprehension among other naval powers.

The review—generally considered to receive its information from authoritative sources—said Russia is believed to have 380 submarines in service and 120 more under construction.

It said the Soviet Union now has some 2,800,000 men under arms and could mobilize 300 divisions — half of Russia's World War 2 peak — within two months of an outbreak of war.

The Russian air force has "very large numbers" of high quality jet fighters, notably the MIG-15 seen in Korea, the review said, but a copy of the U. S. B-29 Superfortress is still its only heavy bomber in service.

Latest Opinion in United States May Lead Churchill to Biggest Disappointment of Career

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 13—Prime Minister Churchill more than any other man in British public life may know the psychology of the American people but unless he is posted on the latest trends of opinion in the United States his forthcoming visit to President Truman may be the worst disappointment of his career.

There are several important phases of the Anglo-American situation on which the British prime minister will want to be briefed and the most recent of these is a developing antagonism against lending or granting any more money than has already been appropriated for aid to Europe.

Rightly or wrongly, the impression has been developing that Churchill took over a Labor government receivership and is coming to America to get help in reorganizing Britain's whole economic system and that he is counting heavily on the support of American conservatives who presumably are jubilant that a socialist regime has been defeated in Britain.

But many of these same conservatives are isolationist at heart and, seeing the high taxes on incomes and corporations, are more anxious than ever to curb the flow of aid to Europe. The Truman administration basically has been closer and more sympathetic to British policies than have the Republicans. The Democrats on the other hand are today a bit cool toward the conservative policies that Churchill might bring back. So the prime minister comes to a house not as hospitable politically as it has been before.

Apart from the isolationist groups, which though in a minority are powerful, there is a substantial sentiment in America for the preservation of a sound economic base in Europe. The chief difficulty at the moment arises from a suspicion that Churchill may play on American good nature and generosity and expect his personality and prestige to win what really can come only when the facts about Britain's plight and her willingness to make sacrifices are thoroughly and persuasively presented.

If the British Prime Minister comes here with a plan that will blaze a trail throughout the British comonwealth of nations in leading perhaps not at once but eventually to a "free enterprise" system that is real and not a disguised form of monopoly or cartel, he will be achieving something that no European has managed to put across to the hardboiled business elements of America who are just now pounding away at any further loans or grants to Europe.

It is understood that Mr. Churchill is more interested in steel and raw materials than he is in money as such and that the pinch will come when the American government is asked to allocate some of the same products to Britain for which American factories are clamoring.

If the people here can be persuaded that a stable economy can be achieved in Britain and that extreme socialism and the chaos of a disequilibrium can be avoided through American economic aid, the chances are that the Prime Minister will go back home with something worth while.

But already the situation has been confused by reports that European statesmen, seeing that Marshal Plan aid has been tapered off, now want to bring about a shift from military aid back to economic assistance. After all much of the money to be spent for the Eisenhower army and its equipment in Europe has been allocated to a foreign aid program many of whose ingredients will be bought inside the United States. What the Europeans want is more dollars spent in Europe for perhaps the same total appropriation.

One thing that Americans do not generally know—and that is the importance of the British empire in the general scheme of things. Already cynical comments for example are being made that England isn't needed as a base against Russia. But the British empire has important Uranium deposits in Africa and in dozens of other ways is essential to the whole economic and political partnership which is now aligned against communism. Prime Minister Churchill may find himself up against an artificially stimulated anti-British propaganda in the next few weeks. He will be pictured as a shrewd bargainer who comes to take away by skillful oratory hard earned dollars that already are destined for our tax collectors. But a strong Britain is as important today as it was in June 1940 when the roof was falling in at Dunkirk. For a strained relationship now instead of a deep understanding of mutual problems as between Britain and America could be fatal to the free world.

Father Is Relieved At Statements on U. S. Honor Medal

Glenwood Springs, Colo., Nov. 13 (AP)—Retired Army Captain Eugene R. Guild said today he has devoted "more than $1,800 of my son's death benefits" in a constant effort to present to President Truman the viewpoint of one parent of a boy who died in the Korean fighting.

"This viewpoint," he said, "I think is shared by a great many of the parents of the other some 20,000 who have died in Korea and the parents of those who are still dying and will continue to die."

The captain, who wrote the President Nov. 1 asking whether Mr. Truman's failure to award the Medal of Honor to his son was due to his criticism of tactics in Korea, said he was "greatly troubled and disappointed by my failure to reach the ear of the President over the last 11 months."

He added, however, that "I am relieved more and more by the statements from Key West and Washington" concerning the award of the Medal of Honor to Marine Lt. Henry Alfred Commiskey and the award of a Navy Cross to the captain's son, 25-year-old Marine Lt. John Guild, who was killed while fighting at Commiskey's side.

Now Gets Information

"It indicates that the affair is at least being handled and also that the President is now receiving information which he never got before."

Presidential Secretary Joseph Short yesterday told newsmen at Key West, Fla., where the President is vacationing, that Mr. Truman considered the Congressional Medal of Honor as "sacred" and would not tolerate "any one tampering" with the procedures set up for its award.

In Washington, Secretary of the Navy Dan Kimball said there was "no basis in fact" for Capt. Guild's suggestion that his criticism of the Truman administration figured in the medal award.

Kimball said the records show young Guild and Commiskey were both initially recommended for the Navy Cross by their division commander but that the commander of U. S. naval forces in the Far East, Vice Admiral Charles Turner Joy, had recommended Commiskey's award be raised to the Medal of Honor.

Prompts Letter

The posthumous bestowal of the Navy Cross to Marine Lt. John Guild (above) has prompted the Marine's father, retired Army Capt. Eugene R. Guild of Glenwood Springs, Colo., to ask President Truman why his son was not awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor. The elder Guild is a critic of the administration. Lt. Guild was killed in action in Korea. (AP Wirephoto)

Geisha Girls Are On Strike, Fight Employer Lockout

By OLEN CLEMENTS

Tokyo, Nov. 13 (AP)—There are two kinds of Geisha girls in Japan—one sings.

The other kind sings, dances and lingers a while.

Both types work from a sort of communal boarding house and are on call to restaurants, clubs or homes—for a price.

Their greatest enemies are Japanese wives.

Geisha is an age-old Japanese custom. But it may be on the way out, although the girls insist not yet.

They formed a union.

Last week in Omiya, a suburb of Tokyo, 60 pretty, kimono-clad geishas went on strike. Right in the middle of their entertainment.

Employers wanted them to work from a registration center, not the postwar boarding house.

The girls carried placards proclaiming, "we, the laborers, demand—"

Imports From Tokyo

Employers rushed in a new batch of geishas from Tokyo and the shows went on. They locked out the striking girls.

The union instructed the geishas to oppose "mizuten"—a sort of carefree way of spending an evening, and to stick to singing and dancing and to fight, fight, fight.

The girls strummed their samisens (three-stringed lutes) and howled that central registration was a return to the occupation-outlawed system of "kemban"—central registration for quick calls.

When the occupation ruled out kemban, Japanese employers retaliated by adopting the geishas or giving them jobs as maids.

Rich geisha patrons paid off the girls' debts and set them up as their mistresses.

The wives don't like it.

The wealthy patrons around the end of this month will begin hiring theatres, dance halls and clubs for solo recitals of their geisha proteges. It is a Japanese custom.

The fight is on. So is the geisha season. Banzai! Or—in English—10,000 years!

On the Wrong Track

Bismark, N. D., (AP)—August Lang of Bismark heard a train whistle as his car approached a crossing. He looked to his left and a switch engine bearing down on him. Lang quickly turned his car to avoid being hit. He found himself driving down the tracks in front of the engine. Lang finally forced the car over onto another set of tracks. He then jumped into a ditch and was unhurt. The damage was four tires ruined and steering mechanism thrown out of whack.

Shirt Pickup

Buffalo, (AP)—The prisoner had a fancy for plaid shirts. He was wearing three of them when he was brought before City Judge Charles T. Yeager on a charge of stealing one of them. After losing his shirts, he told the court he came from New Orleans to pick up potatoes on a farm near here. "It's OK to pick up potatoes, but quit picking up shirts," the judge commented. He suspended a 30-day sentence and told the man to get out of town.

Red Submarine Fleet Reported—380 in All

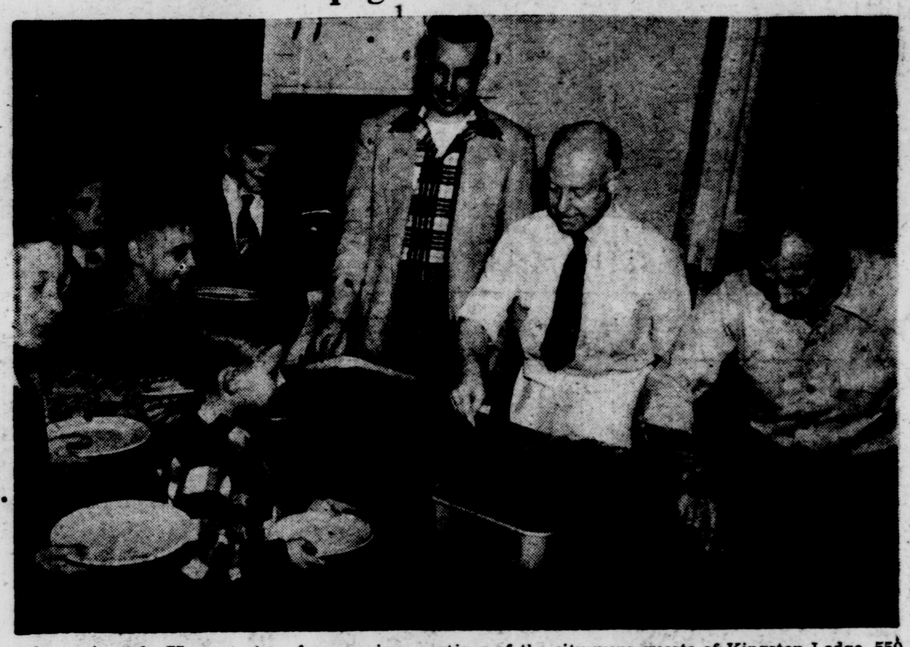

London, Nov. 13 (AP)—Brassey's Annual, an unofficial British review of the world's armed forces, says Russia has a formidable submarine force which is causing apprehension among other naval powers.

The review—generally considered to receive its information from authoritative sources—said Russia is believed to have 380 submarines in service and 120 more under construction.

It said the Soviet Union now has some 2,800,000 men under arms and could mobilize 300 divisions — half of Russia's World War 2 peak — within two months of an outbreak of war.

The Russian air force has "very large numbers" of high quality jet fighters, notably the MIG-15 seen in Korea, the review said, but a copy of the U. S. B-29 Superfortress is still its only heavy bomber in service.

Latest Opinion in United States May Lead Churchill to Biggest Disappointment of Career

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 13—Prime Minister Churchill more than any other man in British public life may know the psychology of the American people but unless he is posted on the latest trends of opinion in the United States his forthcoming visit to President Truman may be the worst disappointment of his career.

There are several important phases of the Anglo-American situation on which the British prime minister will want to be briefed and the most recent of these is a developing antagonism against lending or granting any more money than has already been appropriated for aid to Europe.

Rightly or wrongly, the impression has been developing that Churchill took over a Labor government receivership and is coming to America to get help in reorganizing Britain's whole economic system and that he is counting heavily on the support of American conservatives who presumably are jubilant that a socialist regime has been defeated in Britain.

But many of these same conservatives are isolationist at heart and, seeing the high taxes on incomes and corporations, are more anxious than ever to curb the flow of aid to Europe. The Truman administration basically has been closer and more sympathetic to British policies than have the Republicans. The Democrats on the other hand are today a bit cool toward the conservative policies that Churchill might bring back. So the prime minister comes to a house not as hospitable politically as it has been before.

Apart from the isolationist groups, which though in a minority are powerful, there is a substantial sentiment in America for the preservation of a sound economic base in Europe. The chief difficulty at the moment arises from a suspicion that Churchill may play on American good nature and generosity and expect his personality and prestige to win what really can come only when the facts about Britain's plight and her willingness to make sacrifices are thoroughly and persuasively presented.

If the British Prime Minister comes here with a plan that will blaze a trail throughout the British comonwealth of nations in leading perhaps not at once but eventually to a "free enterprise" system that is real and not a disguised form of monopoly or cartel, he will be achieving something that no European has managed to put across to the hardboiled business elements of America who are just now pounding away at any further loans or grants to Europe.

It is understood that Mr. Churchill is more interested in steel and raw materials than he is in money as such and that the pinch will come when the American government is asked to allocate some of the same products to Britain for which American factories are clamoring.

If the people here can be persuaded that a stable economy can be achieved in Britain and that extreme socialism and the chaos of a disequilibrium can be avoided through American economic aid, the chances are that the Prime Minister will go back home with something worth while.

But already the situation has been confused by reports that European statesmen, seeing that Marshal Plan aid has been tapered off, now want to bring about a shift from military aid back to economic assistance. After all much of the money to be spent for the Eisenhower army and its equipment in Europe has been allocated to a foreign aid program many of whose ingredients will be bought inside the United States. What the Europeans want is more dollars spent in Europe for perhaps the same total appropriation.

One thing that Americans do not generally know—and that is the importance of the British empire in the general scheme of things. Already cynical comments for example are being made that England isn't needed as a base against Russia. But the British empire has important Uranium deposits in Africa and in dozens of other ways is essential to the whole economic and political partnership which is now aligned against communism. Prime Minister Churchill may find himself up against an artificially stimulated anti-British propaganda in the next few weeks. He will be pictured as a shrewd bargainer who comes to take away by skillful oratory hard earned dollars that already are destined for our tax collectors. But a strong Britain is as important today as it was in June 1940 when the roof was falling in at Dunkirk. For a strained relationship now instead of a deep understanding of mutual problems as between Britain and America could be fatal to the free world.

Father Is Relieved At Statements on U. S. Honor Medal

Glenwood Springs, Colo., Nov. 13 (AP)—Retired Army Captain Eugene R. Guild said today he has devoted "more than $1,800 of my son's death benefits" in a constant effort to present to President Truman the viewpoint of one parent of a boy who died in the Korean fighting.

"This viewpoint," he said, "I think is shared by a great many of the parents of the other some 20,000 who have died in Korea and the parents of those who are still dying and will continue to die."

The captain, who wrote the President Nov. 1 asking whether Mr. Truman's failure to award the Medal of Honor to his son was due to his criticism of tactics in Korea, said he was "greatly troubled and disappointed by my failure to reach the ear of the President over the last 11 months."

He added, however, that "I am relieved more and more by the statements from Key West and Washington" concerning the award of the Medal of Honor to Marine Lt. Henry Alfred Commiskey and the award of a Navy Cross to the captain's son, 25-year-old Marine Lt. John Guild, who was killed while fighting at Commiskey's side.

Now Gets Information

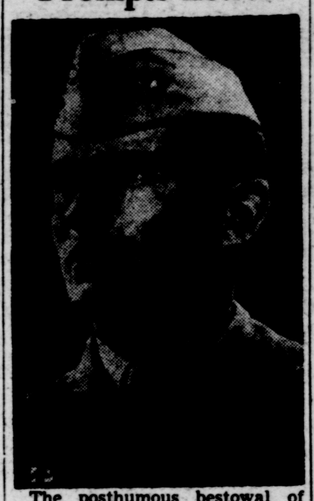

"It indicates that the affair is at least being handled and also that the President is now receiving information which he never got before."

Presidential Secretary Joseph Short yesterday told newsmen at Key West, Fla., where the President is vacationing, that Mr. Truman considered the Congressional Medal of Honor as "sacred" and would not tolerate "any one tampering" with the procedures set up for its award.

In Washington, Secretary of the Navy Dan Kimball said there was "no basis in fact" for Capt. Guild's suggestion that his criticism of the Truman administration figured in the medal award.

Kimball said the records show young Guild and Commiskey were both initially recommended for the Navy Cross by their division commander but that the commander of U. S. naval forces in the Far East, Vice Admiral Charles Turner Joy, had recommended Commiskey's award be raised to the Medal of Honor.

Prompts Letter

The posthumous bestowal of the Navy Cross to Marine Lt. John Guild (above) has prompted the Marine's father, retired Army Capt. Eugene R. Guild of Glenwood Springs, Colo., to ask President Truman why his son was not awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor. The elder Guild is a critic of the administration. Lt. Guild was killed in action in Korea. (AP Wirephoto)

Little Junior was given a rabbit for a pet. He shouted at it "How much is four times three? How much is four times three?" and finally left it in disgust, convinced that his teacher had lied when she said rabbits mulitply faster than any other animal.

Doctor—You've been a pretty sick man. In fact, I may say that it was only your strong constitution that pulled you through.

Patient—Well, I trust you will remember that when you come to make out your bill.

When Dad tells her
What time it is
She tells him what.

The teacher was trying to get over the intricacies of subtraction.

Teacher—You have ten fingers. Suppose you had three less, then what would you have?

Son—Dad, what do you call a man who drives a car?

Dad—It all depends on how close he comes to me, my boy.

Daughter—Father, can my new boy friend replace your business partner that died this morning?

Father—It's all right with me—if you can arrange it with the undertaker.

Modena, Nov. 12—The progressive dinner sponsored recently by members of the Wesleyan Service Guild proved an evening of fun and fellowship for those participating. The various courses of the meal were served at the homes of Mrs. Burton Ward, Mrs. J. Leonard Coy, Jr., Mrs. William A. Imler, Mrs. Ralph Tice and Mrs. Louis Hyatt. In the group were the Rev. and Mrs. William Imler, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hyatt and son, Harold, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Hyatt, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Ward, Mr. and Mrs. J. Leonard Coy, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald DuBois and Mrs. Bert Vincent. Further activities of the Guild will be announced.

The November meeting of the public health nursing committee of the Town of Plattekill was held at the home of Mrs. Oscar Mount in Clintondale last Monday night and attended by the following: Mrs. Frank Coy, Mrs. William Imler, Mrs. Roy Jensen, Mrs. Lillian Courter and the public health nurse, Mrs. Berthold. Mrs. Berthold gave an interesting and concise report of the conference of the Ulster county public health nursing committee units held recently at the Town Hall in Woodstock. Ulster county is one of the first counties in the state of New York to inaugurate the Apprentice Public Health Nurse program with registered nurses serving as trainees. These nurses who serve Kingston and rural area of the county are under the jurisdiction of County Department of Health, according to authoritative sources. The December meeting of the local group will be held at the home of Mrs. Simon DuBois in Modena.

Quartermaster Byron F. Paltridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Freston J. Paltridge of this place, is now in the Korean war zone, aboard the Wisconsin. He was stationed at Philadelphia, Pa., for two years, prior to his present assignment.

When John Jones, private citizen, goes to his bank to borrow a thousand dollars, he is often put through a social, economic and moral examination. The banker may have some embarrassing family questions to ask. Or the borrower's financial ability to repay the loan on time may be of prime importance. And there's always the chance that there is something shady about the loan.

Thousand dollar loans are frequently character advances. This being the case, a banker's diligence can't be too searching. His extensions of credit carry great responsibility. On a national basis its implications are tremendous.

During my undergraduate days, I borrowed $1,500 over a period of four years from sound country bankers. They limited me to $100 a loan; my father had to sign each note. When my loans totalled $1,000, they suggested I take out a $2,000 life insurance policy with my father the beneficiary.

Limiting my loans to $100 a time (sometimes they were $50) was excellent procedure. It curtailed my spending. In fact, occasionally the bankers asked for proof that the money was going for college essentials. My father always saw to that. But the bankers wanted to be sure.

So, years ago, I learned first hand that the lending of money should rest on solid foundations. I learned that borrowed dollars spent for economic foolishness, inefficiency, wastefulness and corruption were monies badly handled.

Uncle Sam is borrowing billions of dollars. One of the Democratic senators in Washington believes that for the next fiscal year—July 1, 1952 to July 1, 1953—eighteen thousand million dollars (18-billions, briefly stated) will have to be borrowed.

Where are the niceties of private borrowing in that picture? One can't discover them, that's all. Government spending has got out of hand. And with it, taxation and borrowing.

It is so, so easy for Uncle Sam to borrow money. That is what is knocking the integrity out of the dollar. I don't believe that one per cent of the people in America knowns the origin of our money.

Well, here is a little lesson for the other 99 percent. On August 31, 1951, there were $24,937,000,000 of Federal Reservenotes in circulation. That constitutes the bulk of the money in America. Silver coins, minor coin, silver certificates make up only about three billions.

What is the backing of these Federal Reserve notes? Among other credit instruments, direct obligations of the United States—bonds sold to pay Uncle Sam's bills.

Now, Congress and the Administration in Washington have tremendous economic powers. They pass huge appropriation bills. They pass high tax measures. And when they run deep, deep into the red and have to raise billions upon billions of dollars to pay the bills, they enact deficit financing laws.

Deficit financing necessitates borrowing. You, the reader, may buy one of these bonds. Later on you may need the money and you turn it in to your bank for cash. Your bank may also need the money that the deficit financing bond represents. If so, this bond may go right to the central Reserve bank where Federal Reserve notes (America's principal money) are handed out. Federal Reserve Banks are banks of issue.

Deficit financing in other words, can be the means of flooding the country with billions upon billions of paper money, secured by obligations created to pay bills of a thousand varieties and some of them with bad social, economic and even moral foundations.

As I have said, I don't believe one person in 100 in America can intelligently explain the origin of our principal money—the Federal Reserve note. If more people understood the vicious economic consequences of wild spending, deficit financing and dollar creation, we would have a Congress and an Administration of a different complexion.

A $257,000,000,000 Federal debt has flooded America with dollars, imposed frightful taxes on our best people and most efficiently managed corporations and forced wages and prices higher and higher.

Would that Federal borrowing might have some of the foundations of private borrowing or, to put it another way, that $1,000 and $1,000,000,000 loans had something in common.

More Counterfeiting

The U. S. Secret Service, Treasury Department, warns that there is more counterfeiting today than at any time in the past 10 years.

Garland Show Suspends

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Judy Garland's show at the Palace Theatre has closed until Friday to give the red-haired singer a rest after a backstage collapse.

A medical report said Miss Garland "rested comfortably" yesterday. She faltered during her Sunday evening performance, then collapsed off-stage. Her doctor said she was suffering from "nervous exhaustion."

MODENA

Modena, Nov. 12—The progressive dinner sponsored recently by members of the Wesleyan Service Guild proved an evening of fun and fellowship for those participating. The various courses of the meal were served at the homes of Mrs. Burton Ward, Mrs. J. Leonard Coy, Jr., Mrs. William A. Imler, Mrs. Ralph Tice and Mrs. Louis Hyatt. In the group were the Rev. and Mrs. William Imler, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hyatt and son, Harold, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Hyatt, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Ward, Mr. and Mrs. J. Leonard Coy, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald DuBois and Mrs. Bert Vincent. Further activities of the Guild will be announced.

The November meeting of the public health nursing committee of the Town of Plattekill was held at the home of Mrs. Oscar Mount in Clintondale last Monday night and attended by the following: Mrs. Frank Coy, Mrs. William Imler, Mrs. Roy Jensen, Mrs. Lillian Courter and the public health nurse, Mrs. Berthold. Mrs. Berthold gave an interesting and concise report of the conference of the Ulster county public health nursing committee units held recently at the Town Hall in Woodstock. Ulster county is one of the first counties in the state of New York to inaugurate the Apprentice, Public Health Nurse program with registered nurses serving as trainees. These nurses who serve Kingston and rural area of the county are under the jurisdiction of County Department of Health, according to authoritative sources. The December meeting of the local group will be held at the home of Mrs. Simon DuBois in Modena.

Quartermaster Byron F. Paltridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Freston J. Paltridge of this place, is now in the Korean war zone, aboard the Wisconsin. He was stationed at Philadelphia, Pa., for two years, prior to his present assignment.

The Modena Fire Department was called to Ardonia Sunday where a shed on the Apuzzo property was completely destroyed by fire.

Mrs. Bert Vincent has employment in the office of the Montgomery Ward Co., in Newburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Minard and family were recent guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leander T. Minard, here.

Mrs. Edythe Ackhart has returned from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Harry Olivett and family in Pleasant Valley.

Mrs. George Rhinehart was called to Long Island last week due to the death of her father-in-law, Mr. Rhinehart, Sr.

Mrs. Charles Rhodes visited her grandmother, Mrs. Alvina Matheisen last week.

Mrs. William Decker and Mrs. Harry Roosa were in New Paltz Friday.

Flowers placed on the altar of the Highland Presbyterian Church last Sunday were in memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Yeager of this place, and were given by their daughter, Mrs. Sarah Yeager Donavan of Highland.

Mrs. Emma Jenkins of the Clintondale section has been accepted as a juror at the Ulster county court house in Kingston.

Miss Shirley Niddrie attended a bridal shower given in honor of Miss Marie Decker at Wallkill Friday night. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Edna Davis and Miss Joan Wood.

Mrs. Donald Decker attended the fourth annual dinner at the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Gardiner Fire Department held recently in the Gardiner Hotel and assisted with the program of entertainment.

Pfc. Ivar Klyve has returned to the Elgin Air Force base in Florida after spending several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Issak Klyve at Irelands Corners.

Cattle Rustler Killed

Semarang, Java, (AP) — An Indonesian cattle rustler met death by stoning. A small-time bandit leader near Salatiga, Central Java, chased by a mob of villagers, fell into a ravine and was stoned to death by his angry pursuers. His gang, among other things, had stolen 16 cows.

Garland Show Suspends

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Judy Garland's show at the Palace Theatre has closed until Friday to give the red-haired singer a rest after a backstage collapse. A medical report said Miss Garland "rested comfortably" yesterday. She faltered during her Sunday evening performance, then collapsed off-stage. Her doctor said she was suffering from "nervous exhaustion."

Investor Forum

When John Jones, private citizen, goes to his bank to borrow a thousand dollars, he is often put through a social, economic and moral examination. The banker may have some embarrassing family questions to ask. Or the borrower's financial ability to repay the loan on time may be of prime importance. And there's always the chance that there is something shady about the loan.

Thousand dollar loans are frequently character advances. This being the case, a banker's diligence can't be too searching. His extensions of credit carry great responsibility. On a national basis its implications are tremendous.

During my undergraduate days, I borrowed $1,500 over a period of four years from sound country bankers. They limited me to $100 a loan; my father had to sign each note. When my loans totalled $1,000, they suggested I take out a $2,000 life insurance policy with my father the beneficiary.

Limiting my loans to $100 a time (sometimes they were $50) was excellent procedure. It curtailed my spending. In fact, occasionally the bankers asked for proof that the money was going for college essentials. My father always saw to that. But the bankers wanted to be sure.

So, years ago, I learned first hand that the lending of money should rest on solid foundations. I learned that borrowed dollars spent for economic foolishness, inefficiency, wastefulness and corruption were monies badly handled.

Uncle Sam is borrowing billions of dollars. One of the Democratic senators in Washington believes that for the next fiscal year—July 1, 1952 to July 1, 1953—eighteen thousand million dollars (18-billions, briefly stated) will have to be borrowed.

Where are the niceties of private borrowing in that picture? One can't discover them, that's all. Government spending has got out of hand. And with it, taxation and borrowing.

It is so, so easy for Uncle Sam to borrow money. That is what is knocking the integrity out of the dollar. I don't believe that one per cent of the people in America knowns the origin of our money.

Well, here is a little lesson for the other 99 percent. On August 31, 1951, there were $24,937,000,000 of Federal Reservenotes in circulation. That constitutes the bulk of the money in America. Silver coins, minor coin, silver certificates make up only about three billions.

What is the backing of these Federal Reserve notes? Among other credit instruments, direct obligations of the United States—bonds sold to pay Uncle Sam's bills.

Now, Congress and the Administration in Washington have tremendous economic powers. They pass huge appropriation bills. They pass high tax measures. And when they run deep, deep into the red and have to raise billions upon billions of dollars to pay the bills, they enact deficit financing laws.

Deficit financing necessitates borrowing. You, the reader, may buy one of these bonds. Later on you may need the money and you turn it in to your bank for cash. Your bank may also need the money that the deficit financing bond represents. If so, this bond may go right to the central Reserve bank where Federal Reserve notes (America's principal money) are handed out. Federal Reserve Banks are banks of issue.

Deficit financing in other words, can be the means of flooding the country with billions upon billions of paper money, secured by obligations created to pay bills of a thousand varieties and some of them with bad social, economic and even moral foundations.

As I have said, I don't believe one person in 100 in America can intelligently explain the origin of our principal money—the Federal Reserve note. If more people understood the vicious economic consequences of wild spending, deficit financing and dollar creation, we would have a Congress and an Administration of a different complexion.

A $257,000,000,000 Federal debt has flooded America with dollars, imposed frightful taxes on our best people and most efficiently managed corporations and forced wages and prices higher and higher.

Would that Federal borrowing might have some of the foundations of private borrowing or, to put it another way, that $1,000 and $1,000,000,000 loans had something in common.

YWCA Women Making Dresses For Mayor's Christmas Program

The Women's Club of the YWCA met last Thursday for an all day session of sewing for social service and completed forty children's dresses which is approximately two-thirds of the number expected to be finished in time for the Mayor's Christmas program.

Mrs. James L. Rowe is chairman of the Social Service program and is assisted by the Mmes. George DuBois, Adam Thiel, Earl Schoonmaker, John Watson and Miss Helena Clearwater.

According to an announcement made during the meeting, the traditional "Hanging of the Greens" ceremony for Christmas will be more colorful than usual this year. Plans are under way to have each room at the YWCA depict the observance of the Christian holiday in different lands. Miss Clearwater will represent the Women's Club in arranging and decorating the rooms on the second floor.

The food sale to be conducted at the Montgomery Ward store on Saturday, Nov. 17, beginning at 10:30 a. m. will be under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Brandt.

Additional volunteer workers to serve at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital clinic were enrolled by Mrs. Robert Pixley. They are Miss Florence Cordts, and the Mmes. Warren Smith, Norman Swibold, Charles Terwilliger, Raymond Woodard and Miss Louise Merikle.

During the afternoon session, Mrs. Fred R. Port, member of the board of directors of the YWCA and Mrs. Robert Pixley, vice-president of the Women's Club, read the proposed revision of the constitution and by-laws of the YWCA, to be adopted by the electorate at the annual meeting in January, or immediately preceding the meeting.

Mrs. Charles Terwilliger, president of the Women's Club, made a correction in the time of meeting for January when the group will meet at 8 p. m. instead of 2:30 p. m.

Mrs. Brandt's luncheon committee for the day included the Mmes. Norman Swibold, Hans Decker, Charles Terwilliger, William Petry, William S. Jackson, R. H. Van Valkenburgh and Florence Cubberly.

The next meeting of the group will take place on Thursday, Dec. 13, at 2:30 p. m. when there will be a Christmas party with guest privileges for each member.

Cancer Group Invites Workers

Anyone interested in making pads and bandages for the needy patients suffering from incurable cancer in the Rosary Hill Hospital are asked to join with the group organized for this purpose when it meets on Wednesdays at the municipal auditorium from 10 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

After a short summer recess the ladies will resume their worthy activity on Wednesday of this week and they hope a great many more women will join with them this year.

Ahavath Israel Committee Plans Thanksgiving Eve Ball

Committee chairmen have been announced for the annual Thanksgiving Eve ball sponsored by Ahavath Israel Congregation and which will take place in the municipal auditorium. Because of public demand, this year there will be 300 reserved seats. In its effort to top all previous entertainment presented at the annual ball, the committee has engaged Xavier Cugat and his world famous orchestra to play for the dancing. The entertainment program will be announced shortly but Herman Rafalowsky, general chairman, has stated that it will be the finest ever presented in this city. The chairmen shown in the photo, in the usual order, are, standing, Benjamin Schecter, congregation president; Murray Greene, reserved tickets; Moe Schwartz, single tickets! Max Millens, patron tickets; Morris Lazarowitz, ushers; Eugene Tepper, checking; seated, Mrs. David Seigal, flowers; Herman G. Rafalowsky, general chairman; Mrs. William Zwick, journal;and Carl Upright, secretary and treasurer. (Freeman Photo)

Alma Mathiesen Has Autumn Wedding In New Paltz Methodist Church

The marriage of Miss Alma Mathiesen of Gardiner, daughter of George Mathiesen of Passaic, N. J., to Charles Rhodes, son of Mrs. Edith Gerow, Tuckers Corners, took place on Sunday, Oct. 28, at 1 p. m. in the New Paltz Methodist Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. Willett R. Porter. A reception followed for 100 guests, including the maternal grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. William Kaiser, at the home of the bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Alvina Mathiesen in Modena.

Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Eugene C. Trautwein, organist of the church, and included "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin with heavy net embroidery, long train, finger tip veil with Juliet cap of seed pearls and carried white chrysanthemums with white bows and streamers.

Mrs. Donald Palmateer of Ardonia, sister of the groom, was the matron of honor. Her ensemble included a gown of deep wine red velvet and taffeta with a velvet jacket and matching headpiece and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Miss Christina Mathiesen was her sister's flower girl. She wore a white nylon dress over a green slip with lace insets and green ribbons for her headpiece and carried an old fashioned bouquet of yellow asters.

Arthur Rhodes of Wallkill was his brother's best man. The ushers were Richard Mathiesen of Clifton, N. J., brother of the bride, and LeRoy Brown of Modena.

For their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes went to Florida. For traveling, the bride wore a green taffeta dress with black coat and accessories and a corsage of white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Rhodes is a graduate of New Paltz High School and is associated with the Rosendale Electric Corporation.

Mr. Rhodes attended schools in Highland and Wallkill and is employed by A. P. LeFevre and Son in New Paltz.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes will reside on Church street in New Paltz.

Special Music Will Be Presented At Old First Reformed Church

Special music will be offered at the morning worship services on the next two Sundays at the Old First Reformed Church.

On the Sunday preceding Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 18, the six choirs of the church will be heard. The Primary and Cherub choirs will sing the Call to Worship and a Thanksgiving anthem. The Boys,' Young People's' Girls' and Senior Choirs will give a rendition of Noble Cain's "The King of Love My Shepherd Is." As a special presentation, Felix Mendelssohn's sacred cantata, "Hear My Prayer" will be performed in its entirety by Marjorie Hinkley, soloist, and the Senior, Young People's and Girls' choirs.

The following Sunday, Nov. 25, the music will include three new compositions by Donald Romme, minister of music, who directs all the church choirs. The first is a "Sanctus" with Latin text which will be used as an introit. The other two compositions are anthem settings of Biblical texts, "The Lord's Prayer" and "Psalm 100," the latter with Gloria Simmons, soloist.

Book Club Reviews T. S. Eliot Works

The works of T. S. Eliot including "The Cocktail Party" as reviewed by Mrs. Morris Friedman were the subject for discussion when the Kingston Book Club met last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Walter Levy, 128 Fair street.

In "The Cocktail Party," the author's most celebrated work, Mrs. Friedman explained, Mr. Eliot presents the situation of an English couple whose marriage is about to fail, and is salvaged in the consulting room of the psychiatrist who tried to solve their marital problems.

The next meeting of this group will feature a review of J. D. Salinger's recent best seller "The Catcher in the Rye" by Mrs. Sidney Pauker, and will be held at the home of Mrs. David Kline, 109 Hone street.

AN UNWASHED FORK

An embarrassing situation is described in the following letter: "Will you please tell me what to do when dining in a friend's house and you notice that a fork at your place is dirty? This happened to me the other evening and I was at a loss to know what to do without embarrassing my hostess. Is there a tactful way to handle a situation such as this one?

Never having encountered this, I can only imagine that you would surreptitiously wipe off the tines on your napkin under the protection of the table's edge.

Which Name First?

Dear Mrs. Post: When signing both husband's and wife's names together in an informal way, which is correct? Mary and John Jones, or John and Mary Jones? (2) Is it ever correct for a married woman to sign her name Mrs. John Jones?

Answer: The one signing writes the other's name first. (2) As her signature, no! But when signing a hotel register or receipting a package addressed to "Mrs." yes.

Christmas Present

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been going with a boy for the past six months. Would it be proper for me to give him a Christmas present? If so, what would you suggest? He gave me a present on my birthday and I feel sure that he will also give me a Christmas present.

Answer: Certainly give him a present if you would like to. A fountain pen, or pencil, a cigarette case or a wallet, would be suitable.

Doctor's Signature

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the correct signature for a doctor when writing to his patients?

Answer: Generally his title is on the letter head of his paper and he signs his name John Squills. When writing on paper without a letterhead to someone who does not know him well, it might be necessary to add M.D. after his name.

Would you like to know when to send a gift of "wood, paper or cotton" for wedding anniversaries? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer mail, but her leaflet E-7 includes a list of anniversaries and appropriate gifts. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Grange News

Grange thinking, as crystallized in the nearly 100 resolutions acted upon recently by representatives of this state's 143,000 members in their 79th annual sessions at Syracuse, has shown a strong tendency toward a "middle-of-the-road" policy, with a strong dislike for socialism, a resistance to oppressive taxes, a curb on reckless government spending, a stiffening of the moral fibre of the nation's people and a strong sense of responsibility in the stewardship of our most important resources, the soil.

This week there will open a 10-day session of National Grange at Atlantic City. Already on the way to this body are the specific recommendations which our state session has passed up to the national organization, and will be carefully weighed and acted upon along with others from Granges all over the nation. Thus democratically does this strongest of farm organizations raise its collective voice.

Most significant of all, is the fact that more than half the actions taken by our state meeting were on subjects of general public welfare in which all segments of our society are interested, rather than in specific gains to themselves as a group set apart. This is a refreshing attitude in these days of "selfish interests." Farmers and rural people everywhere, living close to the land, have a deep-seated pride and faith in their country.

Farm Practice Project for New York State Grange members in 1952 will be "Better Gardens for Better Living." Phases of the program will be explained at the Lecturers Schools beginning later this month as well as the Deputies' Conference in Ithaca, December 2-6. Details will be furnished to all Subordinate Granges soon as complete literature on the subject is available. There will be particular meaning in your winter study of the seed catalogs this year. We suggest that you can quicken local interest by sponsoring prizes to outstanding garden growers. In any event, it's a project for anyone in the family, preferably everybody.

Suppers & Food Sales

Missionary Society

The annual supper and Christmas bazaar sponsored by the Ladies' Aid of the Missionary Society of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts and Rogers streets will be held Wednesday, Dec. 5th when a baked ham supper will be served. All church organizations will cooperate in arrangements for the sale. Mrs. Chester Fox is general chairman.

YWCA Women Making Dresses For Mayor's Christmas Program

The Women's Club of the YWCA met last Thursday for an all day session of sewing for social service and completed forty children's dresses which is approximately two-thirds of the number expected to be finished in time for the Mayor's Christmas program.

Mrs. James L. Rowe is chairman of the Social Service program and is assisted by the Mmes. George DuBois, Adam Thiel, Earl Schoonmaker, John Watson and Miss Helena Clearwater.

According to an announcement made during the meeting, the traditional "Hanging of the Greens" ceremony for Christmas will be more colorful than usual this year. Plans are under way to have each room at the YWCA depict the observance of the Christian holiday in different lands. Miss Clearwater will represent the Women's Club in arranging and decorating the rooms on the second floor.

The food sale to be conducted at the Montgomery Ward store on Saturday, Nov. 17, beginning at 10:30 a. m. will be under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Brandt.

Additional volunteer workers to serve at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital clinic were enrolled by Mrs. Robert Pixley. They are Miss Florence Cordts, and the Mmes. Warren Smith, Norman Swibold, Charles Terwilliger, Raymond Woodard and Miss Louise Merikle.

During the afternoon session, Mrs. Fred R. Port, member of the board of directors of the YWCA and Mrs. Robert Pixley, vice-president of the Women's Club, read the proposed revision of the constitution and by-laws of the YWCA, to be adopted by the electorate at the annual meeting in January, or immediately preceding the meeting.

Mrs. Charles Terwilliger, president of the Women's Club, made a correction in the time of meeting for January when the group will meet at 8 p. m. instead of 2:30 p. m.

Mrs. Brandt's luncheon committee for the day included the Mmes. Norman Swibold, Hans Decker, Charles Terwilliger, William Petry, William S. Jackson, R. H. Van Valkenburgh and Florence Cubberly.

The next meeting of the group will take place on Thursday, Dec. 13, at 2:30 p. m. when there will be a Christmas party with guest privileges for each member.

Cancer Group Invites Workers

Anyone interested in making pads and bandages for the needy patients suffering from incurable cancer in the Rosary Hill Hospital are asked to join with the group organized for this purpose when it meets on Wednesdays at the municipal auditorium from 10 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

After a short summer recess the ladies will resume their worthy activity on Wednesday of this week and they hope a great many more women will join with them this year.

Ahavath Israel Committee Plans Thanksgiving Eve Ball

Committee chairmen have been announced for the annual Thanksgiving Eve ball sponsored by Ahavath Israel Congregation and which will take place in the municipal auditorium. Because of public demand, this year there will be 300 reserved seats. In its effort to top all previous entertainment presented at the annual ball, the committee has engaged Xavier Cugat and his world famous orchestra to play for the dancing. The entertainment program will be announced shortly but Herman Rafalowsky, general chairman, has stated that it will be the finest ever presented in this city. The chairmen shown in the photo, in the usual order, are, standing, Benjamin Schecter, congregation president; Murray Greene, reserved tickets; Moe Schwartz, single tickets! Max Millens, patron tickets; Morris Lazarowitz, ushers; Eugene Tepper, checking; seated, Mrs. David Seigal, flowers; Herman G. Rafalowsky, general chairman; Mrs. William Zwick, journal;and Carl Upright, secretary and treasurer. (Freeman Photo)

Alma Mathiesen Has Autumn Wedding In New Paltz Methodist Church

The marriage of Miss Alma Mathiesen of Gardiner, daughter of George Mathiesen of Passaic, N. J., to Charles Rhodes, son of Mrs. Edith Gerow, Tuckers Corners, took place on Sunday, Oct. 28, at 1 p. m. in the New Paltz Methodist Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. Willett R. Porter. A reception followed for 100 guests, including the maternal grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. William Kaiser, at the home of the bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Alvina Mathiesen in Modena.

Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Eugene C. Trautwein, organist of the church, and included "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin with heavy net embroidery, long train, finger tip veil with Juliet cap of seed pearls and carried white chrysanthemums with white bows and streamers.

Mrs. Donald Palmateer of Ardonia, sister of the groom, was the matron of honor. Her ensemble included a gown of deep wine red velvet and taffeta with a velvet jacket and matching headpiece and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Miss Christina Mathiesen was her sister's flower girl. She wore a white nylon dress over a green slip with lace insets and green ribbons for her headpiece and carried an old fashioned bouquet of yellow asters.

Arthur Rhodes of Wallkill was his brother's best man. The ushers were Richard Mathiesen of Clifton, N. J., brother of the bride, and LeRoy Brown of Modena.

For their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes went to Florida. For traveling, the bride wore a green taffeta dress with black coat and accessories and a corsage of white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Rhodes is a graduate of New Paltz High School and is associated with the Rosendale Electric Corporation.

Mr. Rhodes attended schools in Highland and Wallkill and is employed by A. P. LeFevre and Son in New Paltz.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes will reside on Church street in New Paltz.

Special Music Will Be Presented At Old First Reformed Church

Special music will be offered at the morning worship services on the next two Sundays at the Old First Reformed Church.

On the Sunday preceding Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 18, the six choirs of the church will be heard. The Primary and Cherub choirs will sing the Call to Worship and a Thanksgiving anthem. The Boys,' Young People's Girls' and Senior Choirs will give a rendition of Noble Cain's "The King of Love My Shepherd Is." As a special presentation, Felix Mendelssohn's sacred cantata, "Hear My Prayer" will be performed in its entirety by Marjorie Hinkley, soloist, and the Senior, Young People's and Girls' choirs.

The following Sunday, Nov. 25, the music will include three new compositions by Donald Romme, minister of music, who directs all the church choirs. The first is a "Sanctus" with Latin text which will be used as an introit. The other two compositions are anthem settings of Biblical texts, "The Lord's Prayer" and "Psalm 100," the latter with Gloria Simmons, soloist.

Coach House Players Hold Party for New Members

Irving Rose, president, Coach House Players, Inc., welcomed new members at a regular meeting and party held last Thursday evening in the Coach House. Teresa Lloyd was chairman of the party committee. The main room in the building was decorated in fall colors. There was music for dancing, and refreshments were served.

Tickets were distributed by Mary Becker for the piano recital to be given by David Kushner at the high school auditorium November 29.

Book Club Reviews T. S. Eliot Works

The works of T. S. Eliot including "The Cocktail Party" as reviewed by Mrs. Morris Friedman were the subject for discussion when the Kingston Book Club met last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Walter Levy, 128 Fair street.

In "The Cocktail Party," the author's most celebrated work, Mrs. Friedman explained, Mr. Eliot presents the situation of an English couple whose marriage is about to fail, and is salvaged in the consulting room of the psychiatrist who tried to solve their marital problems.

The next meeting of this group will feature a review of J. D. Salinger's recent best seller "The Catcher in the Rye" by Mrs. Sidney Pauker, and will be held at the home of Mrs. David Kline, 109 Hone street.

Good Taste Today

by Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

AN UNWASHED FORK

An embarrassing situation is described in the following letter: "Will you please tell me what to do when dining in a friend's house and you notice that a fork at your place is dirty? This happened to me the other evening and I was at a loss to know what to do without embarrassing my hostess. Is there a tactful way to handle a situation such as this one?

Never having encountered this, I can only imagine that you would surreptitiously wipe off the tines on your napkin under the protection of the table's edge.

Which Name First?

Dear Mrs. Post: When signing both husband's and wife's names together in an informal way, which is correct? Mary and John Jones, or John and Mary Jones? (2) Is it ever correct for a married woman to sign her name Mrs. John Jones?

Answer: The one signing writes the other's name first. (2) As her signature, no! But when signing a hotel register or receipting a package addressed to "Mrs." yes.

Christmas Present

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been going with a boy for the past six months. Would it be proper for me to give him a Christmas present? If so, what would you suggest? He gave me a present on my birthday and I feel sure that he will also give me a Christmas present.

Answer: Certainly give him a present if you would like to. A fountain pen, or pencil, a cigarette case or a wallet, would be suitable.

Doctor's Signature

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the correct signature for a doctor when writing to his patients?

Answer: Generally his title is on the letter head of his paper and he signs his name John Squills. When writing on paper without a letterhead to someone who does not know him well, it might be necessary to add M.D. after his name.

Would you like to know when to send a gift of "wood, paper or cotton" for wedding anniversaries? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer mail, but her leaflet E-7 includes a list of anniversaries and appropriate gifts. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Grange News

Grange thinking, as crystallized in the nearly 100 resolutions acted upon recently by representatives of this state's 143,000 members in their 79th annual sessions at Syracuse, has shown a strong tendency toward a "middle-of-the-road" policy, with a strong dislike for socialism, a resistance to oppressive taxes, a curb on reckless government spending, a stiffening of the moral fibre of the nation's people and a strong sense of responsibility in the stewardship of our most important resources, the soil.

This week there will open a 10-day session of National Grange at Atlantic City. Already on the way to this body are the specific recommendations which our state session has passed up to the national organization, and will be carefully weighed and acted upon along with others from Granges all over the nation. Thus democratically does this strongest of farm organizations raise its collective voice.

Most significant of all, is the fact that more than half the actions taken by our state meeting were on subjects of general public welfare in which all segments of our society are interested, rather than in specific gains to themselves as a group set apart. This is a refreshing attitude in these days of "selfish interests." Farmers and rural people everywhere, living close to the land, have a deep-seated pride and faith in their country.

Farm Practice Project for New York State Grange members in 1952 will be "Better Gardens for Better Living." Phases of the program will be explained at the Lecturers Schools beginning later this month as well as the Deputies' Conference in Ithaca, December 2-6. Details will be furnished to all Subordinate Granges soon as complete literature on the subject is available. There will be particular meaning in your winter study of the seed catalogs this year. We suggest that you can quicken local interest by sponsoring prizes to outstanding garden growers. In any event, it's a project for anyone in the family, preferably everybody.

Annual Parish Reception and Party Sponsored by St. Joseph's Church

The Rt. Rev. Monsignor Stephen P. Connelly, pastor of St. Joseph's R. C. Church is the honorary chairman for the annual reception and card party sponsored by the parish and which will take place in the Municipal Auditorium, Monday evening, Nov. 19. His honorary assistants are the Rev. John D. Simmons and the Rev. James P. Keating.

Miss Teresa Brophy is general chairman of the event. She will be assisted by many hard working committees. She has named some of these committees who will assist in making the annual affair, she states, "a success both socially and financially."

The ticket committee will include the Misses Marguerite Flaherty, Katherine Morgan, Ruth Garrity and Sylvia Janacek.

The floor committee—Misses Madeline Berg and Marguerite Flaherty, chairmen, and the Misses Stella Brophy, Katherine Maloney, Mary Greene, and Mmes. Charles Trice and Sam Peterman. The younger group assisting, includes the Misses Sharon Gormley, Carolyn Colburn, Helen Bellswinger, Mary E. Donnelly, Cornelia Roach, Josephine Tecce, Mary J. McSpirit, Ellen Roach, Marguerite Mehm, Patricia Schoonmaker, Margaret Hoffay, Margaret Glennon, Elizabeth McCord, Mary K. Eselby, Mary C. Fennelly, Mary Jo O'Reilly, and Carol Scharp.

The favor committee — Mrs. R. E. Fredenburgh, chairman, with Mrs. William Donovan as co-chairman. They will be assisted by the Mmes. James Doyle, John Crosby, William Maisenhelder, Joseph Medve, William McManus, William Eselby, Edwin Ashdown, Arthur Melchior, Mary Robins, John Decker, and Miss Stella Brophy.

Additional committees will be announced later in the week, according to Miss Brophy.

Music in Her Toes

Los Angeles (AP)—A 9-year-old girl, who can't hear music because she's deaf, has become a proficient tap dancer nonetheless. Her mother says she feels the music through her toes. The girl's mother, Mrs. Don Rodgers, said little Elaine made the discovery by accident. "A record player was on and she suddenly felt vibrations through a wooden floor. She let out an exclamation, pointed to the machine, then to her ears and feet." Elaine joined a dancing class and is one of the star pupils.

Dinner Club Guest

CARLETON SMITH

The Kingston National Dinner Club will meet Wednesday, Nov. 14, at 6:30 p. m. in the Governor Clinton Hotel when the guest speaker will be Carleton Smith, director of National Arts Foundation, who has frequently been heard on the broadcasts of the Philharmonic Orchestra, the Metropolitan Opera, the Philadelphia Orchestra and those of other great musical organizations.

Carleton Smith is known to music lovers wherever great performances have taken place in current times, including the Salsburg, Bayreuth, Moscow and Glyndebourne festivals.

For eight years, Mr. Smith was the music editor of Esquire and Coronet Magazines. Many of his articles have appeared in the New York Times and New York Herald Tribune publications. Scores of his writings have been reprinted in French, German, Spanish, Portuguese, Russian, Chinese and Arabic.

He knows intimately the great of the music world, including the late celebrities, Paderewski, Rachmaninoff and Schumman-Heink. He has visited in the homes of Jan Sibelius, Sir Thomas Beecham, Fritz Kreisler, Arturo Toscaninni and Serge Koussevitsky.

Mr. Smith has the greatest collection of folk songs in the world. Before World War 2, he traveled 40,000 miles in foreign lands recording the songs and the chants of the peasants and primitive peoples.

Mr. Smith also is known as a brilliant critic and political economist. He lives abroad about half of the time and knows Europe well, and many of its leaders intimately. He knew Hitler and Mussolini and has had an interview with Stalin.

He is "bullish" on our chances for a peaceful and prosperous future. "It lies straight ahead of us," he says, "if we will only take it."

The Dinner Club meeting this week will be known as "guest night." Each member will have the privilege of inviting a guest to attend the dinner and hear Mr. Smith. This is a deviation from the customary routine when members only are eligible to attend the meetings.

Cornell Students Admit Cribbing

Ithaca, Nov. 13 (AP)—Nearly half of 322 Cornell students who responded to a student council questionnaire admitted cribbing in classes or on examinations.

The council said the questionnaire was sent to 500 students at random recently. It announced the results yesterday.

Of the 322 students who returned the questionnaire about 10 per cent admitted cheating "frequently or occasionally," the council said. An additional 37 per cent admitted cheating "once or twice."

The council said the survey indicated that men and women were about equally guilty of cribbing.

For purposes of the questionnaire, it said, cheating was defined to include "cribbing, copying, giving and receiving aid such as signals and notes, and discussing and using information about an examination which had been obtained illegally."

Two-Thirds Disapprove

The council said that although 47 per cent of the students replying to the questionnaire admitted cheating, two-thirds of them disapproved of it.

The replies showed that students who studied most cribbed less, the council said.

In an editorial on the survey today, The Cornell Sun, a student daily, said:

"We don't think anyone was radically surprised or shocked at the figures unearthed by the student council survey committee on the subject of academic integrity.

"A few Cornellians may not have realized the extent to which cheating is an occasional or even perennial practice in the college classroom, but all of us, at one time or another, have observed—or for that matter participated—in this form of academic activity."

The Sun said that "at fault, of course, is a system which places so much emphasis upon grades as end-all.

"A large university, however, cannot be run successfully or fairly without some form of grading system. Where then does the answer lie?" the paper asked rhetorically.

Cornell has about 10,000 students.

Apples are one of your best buys now. So why not gather a few new recipes. Here's one from New Jersey, an apple state, that has "style" and delightful flavor.

Baked Apple Halves with Almonds
(serves 4)

One-half cup almonds, blanched, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup water, 4 large Stayman or McIntosh apples, 2 teaspoons butter, 8 maraschino cherries, red or green.

Cut almonds lengthwise into halves. Boil sugar and water to make a syrup—about 5 minutes. Cut unpeeled apples into halves, core with French ball cutter, and brush with syrup. Place 16 halved almonds flat side down in a circle on each apple.

Fill cavity with very little butter (peanut size), brush apples with syrup again, and place in baking dish. Pour remaining syrup in bottom of baking dish, cover and make in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 30 minutes.

Uncover, and bake for another 20 minutes. Or put apples under medium broiler to brown almonds slightly. Put a maraschino cherry in center of apple before serving.

"Apples In Appealing Ways" is a new booklet put out by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Leaflet No. 312, it costs 10 cents. Address Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C. The booklet gives many tested recipes as well as lots of valuable information about apples. Here is one good recipe:

Applesauce Puff
(4 servings)

Four slices bread or plain cake, 2 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, 1½ cups applesauce, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/3 cup brown sugar, 1 egg, 1 cup milk, ¼ teaspoon salt.

Spread bread or cake slices with butter or margarine and arrange in the bottom of a greased baking dish. Cover with applesauce; sprinkle with cinnamon and about half the sugar. Beat together egg, milk, salt and rest of sugar. Omit sugar in this mixture if cake is used. Pour over mixture in baking dish. Set in pan of hot water and bake at 350 degrees F. (moderate oven) about 40 minutes.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Canned blended orange and grapefruit juice, oatmeal, cinnamon toast, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Lentil soup, rye bread, cottage cheese and vegetable salad, sour cream dressing, molasses cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Green peppers stuffed with minced ham in tomato sauce, steamed rice, buttered shredded cabbage, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, baked apple halves with almonds, coffee, milk.

UN to Consider tin also urged inclusion of the item on the agenda of the 60-nation assembly.

The vote to keep the Nationalist Chinese charges against the Soviets on the agenda was 30 to 8 with 13 abstentions.

Nationalist China has had before the UN for two years the charge that Russia boosted the Chinese Communists to power in violation of the UN charter and her treaty with Chiank Kai-shek.

The Assembly also was expected to hand the Soviets another setback later today by ruling there can be no further debate at this session on the Russian demand to admit Communist China to the UN. Such action was recommended Saturday by the Assembly steering committee, despite strong Communist objection.

Denounces Charges

Soviet Delegate Jacob A. Malik denounced the Nationalist Chinese charges as "silly and provocative libel" and charged that the real menace to China's territorial integrity was American aggression.

Nationalist China's T. F. Tsiang replied that the question, which was debated inconclusively at last year's Assembly, was the most important item before the United Nations. He demanded that it be taken up immediately as unfinished business.

The Nationalist charges were referred last year to the "Little Assembly." It was expected they would be shunted off again in the same manner.

The Assembly also decided, over strenuous South African objections, to air Indian charges that the Indian minority in South Africa had been mistreated. This also was on the agenda for last year's General Assembly, but no definite conclusion was reached. Only South Africa voted against inclusion of the item on this year's agenda.

Before taking up the issue of Nationalist China's charges against Russia, the 60-nation Assembly adopted 22 agenda items without discussion.

These included international control of atomic energy, the problem of independence for Korea and threats to political independence in Greece. Most others were such non-political matters as agreeing to hear reports from specialized UN agencies.

Iran Is Granted Emergency Loan

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—Iran, almost bankrupt in a dispute with Great Britain over its rich oil reserves, received an $8,750,000 emergency credit today from the International Monetary Fund.

The fund announced it would exchange that amount in dollars for Iranian rials at the rate of 32.25 rials per dollar.

Iran can spend the dollars now to bolster its tottering economy and return them to the fund when it weathers its financial crisis.

The fund's action gives Iran at least a temporary breathing spell in the economic crisis arising from its dispute with Great Britain over the Iranian government's move to take over oil properties formerly held by England.

A fund spokesman, talking to reporters, said fund directors unanimously approved the exchange of rials for dollars on the assumption that the oil dispute eventually will be settled and Iran's economic stability will be restored.

There appears to be no prospect, however, for an early solution to the differences between Iran and Britain.

Annual Parish Reception and Party Sponsored by St. Joseph's Church

The Rt. Rev. Monsignor Stephen P. Connelly, pastor of St. Joseph's R. C. Church is the honorary chairman for the annual reception and card party sponsored by the pastor and which will take place in the Municipal Auditorium, Monday evening, Nov. 19. His honorary assistants are the Rev. John D. Simmons and the Rev. James P. Keating.

Miss Teresa Brophy is general chairman of the event. She will be assisted by many hard working committees. She has named some of these committees who will assist in making the annual affair, she states, "a success both socially and financially."

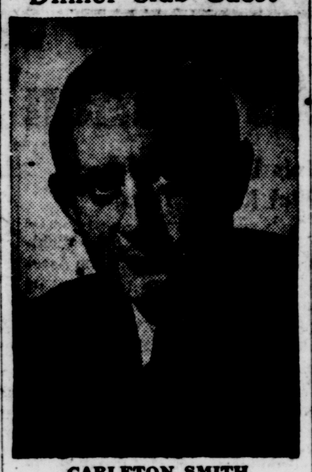

The ticket committee will include the Misses Marguerite Flaherty, Katherine Morgan, Ruth Garrity and Sylvia Janacek.

The floor committee—Misses Madeline Berg and Marguerite Flaherty, chairmen, and the Misses Stella Brophy, Katherine Maloney, Mary Greene, and Mmes. Charles Trice and Sam Peterman. The younger group assisting, includes the Misses Sharon Gormley, Carolyn Colburn, Helen Bellswinger, Mary E. Donnelly, Cornelia Roach, Josephine Tecce, Mary J. McSpirit, Ellen Roach, Marguerite Mehm, Patricia Schoonmaker, Margaret Hoffay, Margaret Glennon, Elizabeth McCord, Mary K. Eselby, Mary C. Fennelly, Mary Jo O'Reilly, and Carol Scharp.

The favor committee — Mrs. R. E. Fredenburgh, chairman, with Mrs. William Donovan as co-chairman. They will be assisted by the Mmes. James Doyle, John Crosby, William Maisenhelder, Joseph Medve, William McManus, William Eselby, Edwin Ashdown, Arthur Melchior, Mary Robins, John Decker, and Miss Stella Brophy.

Additional committees will be announced later in the week, according to Miss Brophy.

Dinner Club Guest

CARLETON SMITH

The Kingston National Dinner Club will meet Wednesday, Nov. 14, at 6:30 p. m. in the Governor Clinton Hotel when the guest speaker will be Carleton Smith, director of National Arts Foundation, who has frequently been heard on the broadcasts of the Philharmonic Orchestra, the Metropolitan Opera, the Philadelphia Orchestra and those of other great musical organizations.

Carleton Smith is known to music lovers wherever great performances have taken place in current times, including the Salsburg, Bayreuth, Moscow and Glyndebourne festivals.

For eight years, Mr. Smith was the music editor of Esquire and Coronet Magazines. Many of his articles have appeared in the New York Times and New York Herald Tribune publications. Scores of his writings have been reprinted in French, German, Spanish, Portuguese, Russian, Chinese and Arabic.

He knows intimately the great of the music world, including the late celebrities, Paderewski, Rachmaninoff and Schumman-Heink. He has visited in the homes of Jan Sibelius, Sir Thomas Beecham, Fritz Kreisler, Arturo Toscanini and Serge Koussevitsky.

Mr. Smith has the greatest collection of folk songs in the world. Before World War 2, he traveled 40,000 miles in foreign lands recording the songs and the chants of the peasants and primitive peoples.

Mr. Smith also is known as a brilliant critic and political economist. He lives abroad about half of the time and knows Europe well, and many of its leaders intimately. He knew Hitler and Mussolini and has had an interview with Stalin.

He is "bullish" on our chances for a peaceful and prosperous future. "It lies straight ahead of us," he says, "if we will only take it."

The Dinner Club meeting this week will be known as "guest night." Each member will have the privilege of inviting a guest to attend the dinner and hear Mr. Smith. This is a deviation from the customary routine when members only are eligible to attend the meetings.

Cornell Students Admit Cribbing

Ithaca, Nov. 13 (AP)—Nearly half of 322 Cornell students who responded to a student council questionnaire admitted cribbing in classes or on examinations.

The council said the questionnaire was sent to 500 students at random recently. It announced the results yesterday.

Of the 322 students who returned the questionnaire about 10 per cent admitted cheating "frequently or occasionally," the council said. An additional 37 per cent admitted cheating "once or twice."

The council said the survey indicated that men and women were about equally guilty of cribbing.

For purposes of the questionnaire, it said, cheating was defined to include "cribbing, copying, giving and receiving aid such as signals and notes, and discussing and using information about an examination which had been obtained illegally."

Two-Thirds Disapprove

The council said that although 47 per cent of the students replying to the questionnaire admitted cheating, two-thirds of them disapproved of it.

The replies showed that students who studied most cribbed less, the council said.

In an editorial on the survey today, The Cornell Sun, a student daily, said:

"We don't think anyone was radically surprised or shocked at the figures unearthed by the student council survey committee on the subject of academic integrity.

"A few Cornellians may not have realized the extent to which cheating is an occasional or even perennial practice in the college classroom, but all of us, at one time or another, have observed—or for that matter participated—in this form of academic activity."

The Sun said that "at fault, of course, is a system which places so much emphasis upon grades as end-all.

"A large university, however, cannot be run successfully or fairly without some form of grading system. Where then does the answer lie?" the paper asked rhetorically.

Cornell has about 10,000 students.

Allen, Holmes, Judge Loughran Little League Speakers Tonight

More Than 400 Due For Baseball Dinner

Chief Judge John T. Loughran of the New York State Court of Appeals has been added to the list of speakers for the first annual Little League banquet this evening at 6:30 p. m. at the high school gym.

A capacity turnout of more than 400 persons — including 72 members of Kingston's first Little League organization—will hear Judge Loughran share speaking honors with Mel Allen, famous sports broadcaster and Manager Tommy Holmes of the Boston Braves.

Replacing the annual "Hot Stove League" dinner, the Little League banquet will set a new all-time attendance record for a Kingston Athletic Association function.

President Bob Umpleby of the KAA said this morning that more than 400 tickets have been sold and a late influx is expected to swell the total near the 450 mark.

KAA Pleased

"We are certainly proud of our battery of speakers tonight," Umpleby said, "and we think it will be the finest sports dinner ever staged in Kingston. It will be a great thrill for the kids to hear Mel Allen and Tommy Holmes talk baseball. And, of course, Judge Loughran is a distinguished figure at any function."

Various team and individual awards will be made to championship performers in the Little League. The championship Yankees, managed by Walt Black, will be the guest of honor.

All members of the championship team will receive a Little League pin, while the star players who made up Kingston's District 4 champions will get an additional award.

Allen, the famed voice of the baseball Yankees and the nation's No. 1 sportscaster in 1950, will be making his second trip to Kingston. A couple of years ago he was a sensational hit at the KAA's Hot Stove League dinner.

Holmes, youngest manager in the big show, is in great demand as a speaker at baseball functions and is expected to have an interesting message.

Dick McCarthy, sports director of WKNY, will be the master of ceremonies.

Tickets may be purchased at the door this evening.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

Sports Headline: Red Sox seek Lemon. Thought they've had dozens of them around Fenway Park for the last several seasons.

This man Mel (How About That!) Allen, who will address some 400 persons at the Little League banquet, is a graduate of the University of Alabama who turned to the more lucrative field of sports broadcasting. A fich, incidentally, in which he is the finest personality. He has a rich, warm, dispassionate voice and seems to have years ahead of him as top man in his profession.

The tipoff on the all 'round brilliance of the Voice of the Yankees is this: In 1936, at the age of 23, he obtained his law degree. He had entered the University of Alabama at the age of 15 and received his A.B. degree at 19. Following his graduation, Mel was awarded a teaching fellowship in the speech department. Mel remained at the university another year as a full-time instructor in the speech department and as debating coach.

Although a member of the Alabama Bar Association, Mel won an audition and joined CBS as a staff announcer on January 17, 1937. That was the start of his radio career and a few months later he got his break when Ted Husing was busy with another assignment and Allen covered the Vanderbilt Cup auto races at Roosevelt Raceway. He has been at the top of the heap ever since.

• That Goldback Monster:

The magnitude of the task facing Kingston High on Thanksgiving Day was emphasized by the manner in which NFA's Goldbacks manhandled a pretty fair Poughkeepsie squad on Saturday.

Nobody expected Newburgh to trample the Blues by that margin—33 to 6—not even "Bo" Gill. That they did points up the fact that Coach Stan Hemingway has developed the greatest DUSO football monster since Bill Burke's 1948 machine.

In Don Jackson, the Goldbacks boast one of the slickest running backs in recent DUSO history. They have all-round power, poise and experience in the line and backfield. In short, they are slightly terrific.

Kingston High will have to come a long way from its performance against Port Jervis to rate even a mild threat against NFA on Turkey Day. The Burkemen were guilty of glaring defensive lapses. Their tackling was shoddy and inept. En toto it was their worst exhibition of the season.

Coach Bill Burke, who generally does a first rate job of getting the Maroon "up" for the traditional battle with Newburgh has a man-sized challenge staring him in the face. He has many psychological weapons at his command and he can inculcate in the Maroons the belief that they can win—and in doing so achieve the most glorious upset in KHS football history.

We have a hunch that he will do a good job, maybe even acquaint the boys with the fundamental idea that in tackling it is preferred form that you hit the other fellow low—generally around the hips and knees. Occasionally a headlock or an embrace works, but only occasionally. Bill Burke taught the boys these fundamentals way back in September, but don't be surprised if they are repeated in the practice drills between now and Turkey Day. And maybe a couple of the boys will get more sleep.

Upstate boxing promoters who in the past have been unable to get "name boxers" for their shows, because of the New York monopoly should benefit most from the pending investigation of boxing in the state that Governor Dewey has launched.

The new commission, with Manuel L. "Manny" Robbins, one of Gov. Dewey's aides in the old racket busting days in New York, assisting Bob Christenberry, will have two objectives in this inquiry:

1—Why cannot any boxer fight for any club in the state?

2—Can every matchmaker, promoter, manager, etc., stand the light of public scrutiny?

The commission has to smash any fetters and make it a matter of right that a boxer can fight any place. In his new role, Robbins will be both matchmaker and referee in the upcoming probe.

Maryland Terrapins Wanted by All, Apparently Available to None

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—The powerful, unbeaten Maryland football team was the apex of a triangle today that threatened to throw the bowl picture into wild confusion.

Both the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans and the Cotton Bowl in Dallas are flirting with the terrific Terrapins from College Park. Maryland is flirting right back.

But the Southern Conference, of which Maryland is a paid-up member, is on record as opposing all post-season games.

If Maryland wants to play in a bowl—and it definitely does—it will have to get conference approval first. This appears impossible in view of a 13-1 vote (Maryland abstained) by college presidents to outlaw bowls.

The presidents' vote came in the form of a recommendation, which is to be acted on at the Dec. 14 conference meeting.

The Sugar and Orange bowls can't wait until then to pick their teams. Maryland can't wait until then to say, "yes or no."

Maryland Coach Jim Tatum, in New York yesterday to address a football writers' luncheon, said if given a definite bid Maryland probably would take an immediate telephonic poll of the conference members.

If the members said "no," which is figured likely, there are reports Maryland may bolt the conference and go on its own hook.

But this creates additional problems.

The Sugar Bowl directors, for example, say they wouldn't want to take a Maryland team that didn't carry its conference blessings. They wouldn't want to antagonize a whole league just to get one team for one year.

The Cotton Bowl crowd may be of the same mind. In this case, Maryland couldn't gain by pulling out of the conference because it wouldn't get the bowl gravy, anyhow.

DAVI'S PROPHECY CAME TRUE

When this photo was taken back in 1947 in a St. Louis gym, Larry "Yogi" Berra was a comparative unknown in the New York Yankee farm system. But Fred Davi had watched Yogi perform for his fabulous wartime Waterbury Brasscos—an independent squad that whipped four major league clubs in one week—and was confident that Yogi would some day become one of baseball's greatest stars. The rest of the story is baseball history. Last week the squat Yankee catcher who ranks among the game's best was voted the most valuable player in the American League.

Turner Stops Docusen in 7th

Philadelphia, Nov. 13 (AP)—Gil Turner feels he has passed all the tests necessary for a fight with welterweight champion Kid Gavilan.

The 21-year-old Philadelphian won his 25th and most convincing triumph of an unbeaten career last night when he threw so many punches at Bernie (Bug Duke) Docusen that the clever little Filipino decided discretion was the better part of valor and quit in his corner.

Docusen refused to come out for the seventh round. He told ringside physician Dr. W. G. B. Terry he had had enough. In his Convention Hall dressing room, the New Orleans veteran said Turner was just too good for him.

"I had nothing left. Turner is everything they said he was. I wouldn't have believed one man could throw so many punches if I hadn't felt them."

Dr. Terry who examined Docusen's cut, bleeding and closed left eye and his slashed right eye, said he probably would have let the fight go on, "but Docusen asked me to end it. I told the referee to give Turner the fight."

Three Cities Seek Marciano-Savold

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Al Weill, matchmaker for the International Boxing Club, said today three cities—Philadelphia, Chicago and Miami—are seeking a winter bout between Rocky Marciano and Lee Savold.

"This match hasn't reached a serious talking stage yet," Weill said. "It's still in the works."

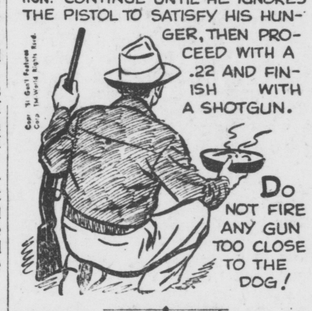

Marciano is the undefeated Brockton, Mass., heavyweight who knocked out Joe Louis at Madison Square Garden last month. Savold, recognized as heavyweight champion of the world by Great Britain, lost to Louis in June.

Second to Do It

Yonkers, Nov. 13 (AP)—Harness racing driver William Myer last night became the second pilot of the Yonkers Raceway season to win both halves of the daily double. The payoff was good for $127.20 as Myer's Grattan Fingo beat Foremost in the first race, a $1,500 pace, and Miss Song triumphed by a length over Piper Lad in the follow-up $1,500 trot. Stanley Dancer, the track's leading driver, brought in the first double last April 17.

Michigan State Ousts Tennessee As Nation's No. 1 Grid Squad

Vols Drop to Second; Illini Rated Third

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Michigan State, back on top in the Associated Press' football poll, may be hard to dislodge from its position as the No. 1 team in the nation.

The spectacular Spartans take on Indiana Saturday and close out their season the following week against Colorado. Both games should prove easy for the infant members of the Big Ten.

Tennessee, which dropped to second after a three-week reign at the top, has three toughies barring its way to a perfect season. The Vols take on Mississippi, Kentucky and Vanderbilt.

Michigan State, leader the first two weeks, vaulted from fifth place this week after drawing 55 to 158 first-place votes and 1,316 points from sports writers and sports casters.

Tennessee gained 42 first and 1,155 points to nose out Illinois for second. The Illini, Big Ten leaders, finished third with 20 firsts and 1,145 points. The three pacesetters are riding seven-game winning streaks.

The Spartans charged to the top as a result of their smashing 35-0 victory over Notre Dame. Tennesssee and Illinois scored easy 60-14 and 40-13 victories, respectively, over Washington and Lee, and Iowa. Illinois has two tough conference games remaining against Ohio State and Northwestern.

Stanford Fourth

Three other unbeaten and united teams followed the top three. Stanford, with eight victories, came in fourth with 951 points. Maryland, boasting seven victories, placed fifth with 927 points and Princeton, also unbeaten in seven outings, was sixth with 793 points. Rounding out the top ten are: Georgia Tech, Wisconsin, Kentucky and Baylor in that order.

Stanford gained fourth on the strength of its 27-20 victory over Southern California. Maryland breezed to a 40-21 win over Navy and Princeton staggered Harvard, 54-13.

Georgia Tech's unbeaten but once-tied Engineers moved up to seventh after trouncing V.M.I., 34-7. Wisconsin edged into eighth place despite a tough 16-7 decision over Pennsylvania. Kentucky smeared Tulane, 37-0. Baylor moved back into the tenth slot by trimming Texas, 18-6.

Both Southern Cal and Texas dropped out of the top ten. The Trojans fell from sixth to 11th and Texas dropped from tenth to 15th.

The leaders with first place votes in parentheses (points on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis).

1.	Michigan State (55)	1,316
2.	Tennessee (42)	1,155
3.	Illinois (20)	1,145
4.	Stanford (12)	951
5.	Maryland (16)	927
6.	Princeton (6)	793
7.	Georgia Tech	519
8.	Wisconsin (2)	400
9.	Kentucky (4)	249

Indian Friends Help Jim Thorpe

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Indians in the metropolitan area are rallying to help Jim Thorpe, the fabulous Indian athlete who is recovering from an operation at Philadelphia.

Thorpe's wife said the onetime All America football star and Olympic medal winner, voted "athlete of the century" in Associated Press poll, is without funds.

A Sioux princess, Juanita Senter, said she had formed a committee to raise funds from among Indians to aid Thorpe. She said she herself had donated $100.

She said the funds are to help the famous Sac and Fox Indian "get on his feet so he can resume his work as soon as possible."

Allen, Holmes, Judge Loughran Little League Speakers Tonight

More Than 400 Due For Baseball Dinner

Chief Judge John T. Loughran of the New York State Court of Appeals has been added to the list of speakers for the first annual Little League banquet this evening at 6:30 p. m. at the high school gym.

A capacity turnout of more than 400 persons — including 72 members of Kingston's first Little League organization—will hear Judge Loughran share speaking honors with Mel Allen, famous sports broadcaster and Manager Tommy Holmes of the Boston Braves.

Replacing the annual "Hot Stove League" dinner, the Little League banquet will set a new all-time attendance record for a Kingston Athletic Association function.

President Bob Umpleby of the KAA said this morning that more than 400 tickets have been sold and a late influx is expected to swell the total near the 450 mark.

KAA Pleased

"We are certainly proud of our battery of speakers tonight," Umpleby said, "and we think it will be the finest sports dinner ever staged in Kingston. It will be a great thrill for the kids to hear Mel Allen and Tommy Holmes talk baseball. And, of course, Judge Loughran is a distinguished figure at any function."

Various team and individual awards will be made to championship performers in the Little League. The championship Yankees, managed by Walt Black, will be the guest of honor.

All members of the championship team will receive a Little League pin, while the star players who made up Kingston's District 4 champions will get an additional award.

Allen, the famed voice of the baseball Yankees and the nation's No. 1 sportscaster in 1950, will be making his second trip to Kingston. A couple of years ago he was a sensational hit at the KAA's Hot Stove League dinner.

Holmes, youngest manager in the big show, is in great demand as a speaker at baseball functions and is expected to have an interesting message.

Dick McCarthy, sports director of WKNY, will be the master of ceremonies.

Tickets may be purchased at the door this evening.

Sports Headline: Red Sox seek Lemon. Thought they've had dozens of them around Fenway Park for the last several seasons.

This man Mel (How About That!) Allen, who will address some 400 persons at the Little League banquet, is a graduate of the University of Alabama who turned to the more lucrative field of sports broadcasting. A field, incidentally, in which he is the finest personality. He has a rich, warm, dispassionate voice and seems to have years ahead of him as top man in his profession.

The tipoff on the all 'round brilliance of the Voice of the Yankees is this: In 1936, at the age of 23, he obtained his law degree. He had entered the University of Alabama at the age of 15 and received his A.B. degree at 19. Following his graduation, Mel was awarded a teaching fellowship in the speech department. Mel remained at the university another year as a full-time instructor in the speech department and as debating coach.

Although a member of the Alabama Bar Association, Mel won an audition and joined CBS as a staff announcer on January 17, 1937. That was the start of his radio career and a few months later he got his break when Ted Husing was busy with another assignment and Allen covered the Vanderbilt Cup auto races at Roosevelt Raceway. He has been at the top of the heap ever since.

Rounding out the top ten are: Georgia Tech, Wisconsin, Kentucky and Baylor in that order.

Stanford gained fourth on the strength of its 27-20 victory over Southern California. Maryland breezed to a 40-21 win over Navy and Princeton staggered Harvard, 54-13.

Georgia Tech's unbeaten but once-tied Engineers moved up to seventh after trouncing V.M.I., 34-7. Wisconsin edged into eighth place despite a tough 16-7 decision over Pennsylvania. Kentucky smeared Tulane, 37-0. Baylor moved back into the tenth slot by trimming Texas, 18-6.

Both Southern Cal and Texas dropped out of the top ten. The Trojans fell from sixth to 11th and Texas dropped from tenth to 15th.

Indian Friends Help Jim Thorpe

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Indians in the metropolitan area are rallying to help Jim Thorpe, the fabulous Indian athlete who is recovering from an operation at Philadelphia.

Thorpe's wife said the onetime All America football star and Olympic medal winner, voted "athlete of the century" in Associated Press poll, is without funds.

A Sioux princess, Juanita Senter, said she had formed a committee to raise funds from among Indians to aid Thorpe. She said she herself had donated $100.

She said the funds are to help the famous Sac and Fox Indian "get on his feet so he can resume his work as soon as possible."

Baselice Purchases Scranton Franchise; Hints It May Be Moved to Hazleton

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Scranton apparently will keep its Eastern League franchise in 1952—but under a new owner.

Lou Baselice of Mount Vernon, N. Y., said last night he had bought the club and its stadium from the Boston Red Sox. He said it was a cash deal, but he did not reveal terms.

Meanwhile, President Tom McCaffrey of the Albany Senators was scheduled to confer in Boston today with General Manager Joe Cronin of the Red Sox. The American League club reportedly has been interested in signing a working agreement with Albany, the Eastern League's only independent club last season.

Baselice's deal apparently precluded the possibility that the Scranton franchise would be shifted to Hazleton, Pa., because of poor attendance at Scranton.

The Cleveland Indians recently transplanted their Wilkes-Barre farm to Reading, Pa. Wilkes-Barre won the Eastern League Pennant in 1950 and 1951, but played to small crowds.

Baselice formerly owned the Poughkeepsie club in the defunct Class B Colonial League. Later, he investigated the possibility of acquiring the Ottawa franchise in the International League and moving it to Newark. Such a shift would have restored Triple A baseball to the New Jersey metropolis after an absence of two years.

"I think Scranton offered the greater possibilities," he said.

Baselice stated that no players were involved in the Scranton deal.

"It is too soon for us to know whether Scranton will have a major league connection or not in 1952," he added.

McCaffrey, who entrained for Boston early today only a few hours after Baselice's announcement, has been quoted as saying he would like to hook up with the Red Sox organization.

Albany formerly was a member of the Pittsburgh Pirates' chain. The connection was severed a year ago, and the Senators, operating alone, finished eighth in the Class A circuit last season.

Newcombe Sure He'll Join Marines

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Don Newcombe, Brooklyn's 20-game winning pitcher, says he expects to be in the Marines by the time another baseball season rolls around.

The towering righthander finished three days of pre-induction tests at Fort Jay, N. Y., over the week-end and he said he was given to understand he passed without a hitch.

"They said I'd get a decision in ten days," he said. He added that he expects to land in the Marines because Army and Navy quotas are filled in this area.

Bowling

Tom Amato and Rose Schatzel Pound Top Bowling Triples of 611 and 569

Tom Amato compiled the best male triple in local bowling last night—190-199—222—611—in the City Minor League, while Rose Schatzel continued to pile up hefty totals in the Women's Major.

Mrs. Schatzel slipped from her phenomenal pace of recent weeks with 169-187-213—569 but it was still far and away the best distaff series of the night.

Joe Singer emerged as the leader in the Good Neighbor loop with 176-191-211—578. Joe Ruzzo's 142-197-200—539 led the Electrol Night Shift. Hank DuBois powered 226-168-192—586 in the Tavern Association. Nellie Alverson and Lillian Fromer led their respective divisions of the BYA with 450s.

Jack Hartman gave the Independent League a "600" series, with 232-168-203—603.

Lapine Rolls 541

Charlotte Lapine was runnerup to Mrs. Schatzel with a hefty 541 in the Women's Major. Tess Moss barged into the "500" class with 514 and Beverly Port totalled 504. Other good pinfall included Betty Bruck's 491; Marge Jansen 485; Kay Brodhead 483 and Tillie Howard 481.

Runnerup to Joe Singer in the Good Neighbor was Meyer Levy with 222—537. Dave Kline posted 526 and Rube Leventhal had 522. Seymour Markowitz, (hi there!) bashed 519 and Moe Lazarowitz dittoed with 205. Max Chirlin hit 518; Meyer Basch 512; Jack Blinder 509; Aaron Bahl and Ben Marcus 505.

Jim Moss trailed Ruzzo in the Electrol Night Shift with 523 and Mike Milano tossed 512. Others in the top five—Warren Nyulassy and Vince Stiller—hit 487 and 481. Joe Haun rolled high single of 202 and the Dispatch squad moved into first place by a two-game margin.

George "Putzie" Brown finished second best in the City Minor with 211-187-202—600. Meanwhile the D-D Drive-In keglers set a new team triple record of 2722, shading by one stick the former mark held by Cities Service.

Thirty-one of the City Minor trundlers rolled into the "500" bracket. Harold "Beans" Baltz near-milled with 242—599; Harry Van Nosdall pounded 215—590; and Ed Dasher had 212—581 to complete the top five.

Also of note were Ralph Garafola's 214—566; Ralph Dumenigo 233—560; Bill Murray 544; Roy Geisler 207—541; Harry Secreto 541; Joe Maurer 536; Frank Deuire 536; Tony La Rocca 206—530; Charlie Fuscardo 529; Joe Ausanio 527; Big Joe Mahar 524; Bob East 523; and Daisy Schatzel 520.

C. Bock Raps 573

Charlie Bock was off to a flying start in the Tavern Association with 209 and 227. Then he came a cropper with 137. Still, it was enough for a respectable 573 series that gave him second place in the 16-team wheel.

Bill Ball posted 200—550; Jim Secreto 532 in addition to clearing off the 4-7-9-10 split; Dick Bertie 532; George Magley 202—525; Joe Enright 521; J. Fatum 517; Art Parks 512; Steve Woyden 510; Joe Heidcamp, Jr., 506; Don Koeppen 505; R. Enright 504; and Ed Heins 502.

By defeating McDermott's 806 to 768 in the third set, the Royal Grill shattered a 17-game winning streak of the league leaders.

In the BYA League, Nellie Alverson compiled her 450 in the senior division with 160-133-157. Dorothea Walthery shot 442; Nell Glennon 439; Fritzi Davis 438; and F. Beichert 409. Lillian Fromer rolled 153-154-143—450 in the junior circuit, with Gen Whitmore's 371 taking second honors.

Jack Hartman was out in front by himself in the Independent circuit. Runnerup Milt Cole, Jr., shot 200—545 and Charlie Grunenwald had 200—541 for show money.

Ray Roux bopped 524; Ed Trombley 528; Tom Welch 521; Rudy Kubicek 208—514; Ralph Halbert and Gene Vogel 509.

A little learning is a dangerous thing in bridge as in any thing else. The other day I saw a couple of good players butcher a defense in a way that simply wouldn't occur to average players.

West opened the king of diamonds, and East very properly played the queen. His motive was very simple and very correct. He wanted West to continue the diamonds.

Any average West would understand what was expected of him. He would lead a second round of diamonds, forcing dummy to ruff. After that, declarer could huff and he could puff, but he couldn't capture East's king of trumps. He would be unable to take two trump finesses with only one trump in the dummy.

However, West was no average defender. He had heard about the "suit preference" signal, and he was one of those players who like to work a good thing to death.

West said to himself: "My partner is trying to indicate which suit to shift to. A high diamond means the higher side suit (hearts), while a low diamond means the lower side suit (clubs)."

So West shifted to a heart, and South proceeded to wrap up the slam and the rubber. South ruffed the heart, got to dummy with a club, and led the eight of spades from dummy. The eight of spades rode around successfully, and dummy continued with the three of spades. South won the second trump finesse with the queen, drew the last trump with the ace, and then ran the clubs to discard his losing diamonds.

The difference between the sensible defense and West's brainstorm was 1530 points. What's more, this sort of thing is being done all over the country in the name of the higher skill.

There is a place for the suit preference signal. When you lead a card for your partner to ruff, you can lead high to show that your entry is in the high side suit; or you lead low to show that your entry is in the low side suit. There are even one or two other ways to use suit preference, but don't dream of using it on a simple follow-suit play. In that situation, a high card should mean "Lead the suit again, partner," while a low card should mean, "Don't lead the suit again unless you have a very good reason of your own."

Something New

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—City College of New York broke a century old tradition today by naming a girl, Marilyn Bukspan, manager of the male rifle team. "It's like having a WAC in the Army," said Sgt. Joseph Taylor of CCNY's ROTC unit. "If she learns to shoot well I'll give her a chance on the varsity."

Gun Club Meets Tonight

There will be nomination of officers for the ensuing year and many other important matters are to be discussed. Refreshments will be served following the meeting. All members are urged to be present.

Old Car Is Damaged In 3-Vehicle Crash

The front end of a 1934 automobile was badly damaged at 4:40 p. m. Monday when it was in collision with a truck and another automobile on East Chester street near Garrison street, the police reported.

No personal injuries were reported at the time of the accident.

According to Patrolman James Burns, an automobile driven south on East Chester street by Charles Post of 13 West Union street was in collision with a truck owned by E. E. Radley, Inc., of Albany, and driven by Louis E. Beaton of Guilderland, which was proceeding in the opposite direction. Burns said the collision caused Post's vehicle to strike a parked automobile belonging to Joseph Bradley of 9 Wynkoop place, damaging its left rear fender, gasoline tank and rear bumper.

Since 1939 the railway passenger industry has piled up a deficit of more than two billion dollars.

Baselice Purchases Scranton Franchise; Hints It May Be Moved to Hazleton

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Scranton apparently will keep its Eastern League franchise in 1952—but under a new owner.

Lou Baselice of Mount Vernon, N. Y., said last night he had bought the club and its stadium from the Boston Red Sox. He said it was a cash deal, but he did not reveal terms.

Meanwhile, President Tom McCaffrey of the Albany Senators was scheduled to confer in Boston today with General Manager Joe Cronin of the Red Sox. The American League club reportedly has been interested in signing a working agreement with Albany, the Eastern League's only independent club last season.

Baselice's deal apparently precluded the possibility that the Scranton franchise would be shifted to Hazleton, Pa., because of poor attendance at Scranton.

The Cleveland Indians recently transplanted their Wilkes-Barre farm to Reading, Pa. Wilkes-Barre won the Eastern League Pennant in 1950 and 1951, but played to small crowds.

Baselice formerly owned the Poughkeepsie club in the defunct Class B Colonial League. Later, he investigated the possibility of acquiring the Ottawa franchise in the International League and moving it to Newark. Such a shift would have restored Triple A baseball to the New Jersey metropolis after an absence of two years.

"I think Scranton offered the greater possibilities," he said.

Baselice stated that no players were involved in the Scranton deal.

"It is too soon for us to know whether Scranton will have a major league connection or not in 1952," he added.

McCaffrey, who entrained for Boston early today only a few hours after Baselice's announcement, has been quoted as saying he would like to hook up with the Red Sox organization.

Albany formerly was a member of the Pittsburgh Pirates' chain. The connection was severed a year ago, and the Senators, operating alone, finished eighth in the Class A circuit last season.

Newcombe Sure He'll Join Marines

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Don Newcombe, Brooklyn's 20-game winning pitcher, says he expects to be in the Marines by the time another baseball season rolls around.

The towering righthander finished three days of pre-induction tests at Fort Jay, N. Y., over the week-end and he said he was given to understand he passed without a hitch.

"They said I'd get a decision in ten days," he said. He added that he expects to land in the Marines because Army and Navy quotas are filled in this area.

Tom Amato and Rose Schatzel Pound Top Bowling Triples of 611 and 569

Tom Amato compiled the best male triple in local bowling last night—190-199—222—611—in the City Minor League, while Rose Schatzel continued to pile up hefty totals in the Women's Major.

Mrs. Schatzel slipped from her phenomenal pace of recent weeks with 169-187-213—569 but it was still far and away the best distaff series of the night.

Joe Singer emerged as the leader in the Good Neighbor loop with 176-191-211—578. Joe Ruzzo's 142-197-200—539 led the Electrol Night Shift. Hank DuBois powered 226-168-192—586 in the Tavern Association. Nellie Alverson and Lillian Fromer led their respective divisions of the BYA with 450s.

Jack Hartman gave the Independent League a "600" series, with 232-168-203—603.

Lapine Rolls 541

Charlotte Lapine was runnerup to Mrs. Schatzel with a hefty 541 in the Women's Major. Tess Moss barged into the "500" class with 514 and Beverly Port totalled 504. Other good pinfall included Betty Bruck's 491; Marge Jansen 485; Kay Brodhead 483 and Tillie Howard 481.

Runnerup to Joe Singer in the Good Neighbor was Meyer Levy with 222—537. Dave Kline posted 526 and Rube Leventhal had 522. Seymour Markowitz, (hi there!) bashed 519 and Moe Lazarowitz dittoed with 205. Max Chirlin hit 518; Meyer Basch 512; Jack Blinder 509; Aaron Bahl and Ben Marcus 505.

Jim Moss trailed Ruzzo in the Electrol Night Shift with 523 and Mike Milano tossed 512. Others in the top five—Warren Nyulassy and Vince Stiller—hit 487 and 481. Joe Haun rolled high single of 202 and the Dispatch squad moved into first place by a two-game margin.

George "Putzie" Brown finished second best in the City Minor with 211-187-202—600. Meanwhile the D-D Drive-In keglers set a new team triple record of 2722, shading by one stick the former mark held by Cities Service.

Thirty-one of the City Minor trundlers rolled into the "500" bracket. Harold "Beans" Baltz near-milled with 242—599; Harry Van Nosdall pounded 215—590; and Ed Dasher had 212—581 to complete the top five.

Also of note were Ralph Garafola's 214—566; Ralph Dumenigo 233—560; Bill Murray 544; Roy Geisler 207—541; Harry Secreto 541; Joe Maurer 536; Frank Deuire 536; Tony La Rocca 206—530; Charlie Fuscardo 529; Joe Ausanio 527; Big Joe Mahar 524; Bob East 523; and Daisy Schatzel 520.

C. Bock Raps 573

Charlie Bock was off to a flying start in the Tavern Association with 209 and 227. Then he came a cropper with 137. Still, it was enough for a respectable 573 series that gave him second place in the 16-team wheel.

Bill Ball posted 200—550; Jim Secreto 532 in addition to clearing off the 4-7-9-10 split; Dick Bertie 532; George Magley 202—525; Joe Enright 521; J. Fatum 517; Art Parks 512; Steve Woyden 510; Joe Heidcamp, Jr., 506; Don Koeppen 505; R. Enright 504; and Ed Heins 502.

By defeating McDermott's 806 to 768 in the third set, the Royal Grill shattered a 17-game winning streak of the league leaders.

In the BYA League, Nellie Alverson compiled her 450 in the senior division with 160-133-157. Dorothea Walthery shot 442; Nell Glennon 439; Fritzi Davis 438; and F. Beichert 409. Lillian Fromer rolled 153-154-143—450 in the junior circuit, with Gen Whitmore's 371 taking second honors.

Jack Hartman was out in front by himself in the Independent circuit. Runnerup Milt Cole, Jr., shot 200—545 and Charlie Grunenwald had 200—541 for show money.

Ray Roux bopped 524; Ed Trombley 528; Tom Welch 521; Rudy Kubicek 208—514; Ralph Halbert and Gene Vogel 509.

A little learning is a dangerous thing in bridge as in any thing else. The other day I saw a couple of good players butcher a defense in a way that simply wouldn't occur to average players.

West opened the king of diamonds, and East very properly played the queen. His motive was very simple and very correct. He wanted West to continue the diamonds.

Any average West would understand what was expected of him. He would lead a second round of diamonds, forcing dummy to ruff. After that, declarer could huff and he could puff, but he couldn't capture East's king of trumps. He would be unable to take two trump finesses with only one trump in the dummy.

However, West was no average defender. He had heard about the "suit preference" signal, and he was one of those players who like to work a good thing to death.

West said to himself: "My partner is trying to indicate which suit to shift to. A high diamond means the higher side suit (hearts), while a low diamond means the lower side suit (clubs)."

So West shifted to a heart, and South proceeded to wrap up the slam and the rubber. South ruffed the heart, got to dummy with a club, and led the eight of spades from dummy. The eight of spades rode around successfully, and dummy continued with the three of spades. South won the second trump finesse with the queen, drew the last trump with the ace, and then ran the clubs to discard his losing diamonds.

The difference between the sensible defense and West's brainstorm was 1530 points. What's more, this sort of thing is being done all over the country in the name of the higher skill.

There is a place for the suit preference signal. When you lead a card for your partner to ruff, you can lead high to show that your entry is in the high side suit; or you lead low to show that your entry is in the low side suit. There are even one or two other ways to use suit preference, but don't dream of using it on a simple follow-suit play. In that situation, a high card should mean "Lead the suit again, partner," while a low card should mean, "Don't lead the suit again unless you have a very good reason of your own."

Something New

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—City College of New York broke a century old tradition today by naming a girl, Marilyn Bukspan, manager of the male rifle team. "It's like having a WAC in the Army," said Sgt. Joseph Taylor of CCNY's ROTC unit. "If she learns to shoot well I'll give her a chance on the varsity."

Gun Club Meets Tonight

The regular monthly meeting of the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club, Inc., will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the clubhouse. There will be nomination of officers for the ensuing year and many other important matters are to be discussed. Refreshments will be served following the meeting. All members are urged to be present.

Old Car Is Damaged In 3-Vehicle Crash

The front end of a 1934 automobile was badly damaged at 4:40 p. m. Monday when it was in collision with a truck and another automobile on East Chester street near Garrison street, the police reported.

No personal injuries were reported at the time of the accident.

According to Patrolman James Burns, an automobile driven south on East Chester street by Charles Post of 13 West Union street was in collision with a truck owned by E. E. Radley, Inc., of Albany, and driven by Louis E. Beaton of Guilderland, which was proceeding in the opposite direction. Burns said the collision caused Post's vehicle to strike a parked automobile belonging to Joseph Bradley of 9 Wynkoop place, damaging its left rear fender, gasoline tank and rear bumper.

Since 1939 the railway passenger industry has piled up a deficit of more than two billion dollars.

Mrs. Bangs Taken To Matteawan; Indictment Holds

Mrs. Bertha F. Bangs, 59, of East Jewett, a former Kingston resident who had been indicted in Greene county for first degree assault, was committed to Matteawan State Hospital for the Criminally Insane by Green County Judge Paul Fromer in Catskill Friday afternoon.

The grand jury indictment grew out of the allegation that Mrs. Bangs fired a revolver on July 8, at an auto driven by Mrs. James Hyer of Athens. The automobile contained eight of the Hyer children, Mrs. Hyer said.

Mrs. Bangs formerly resided off Manor avenue, Kingston, in the Manor Lake vicinity. Her attorney in the Greene county action was Hugh R. Elwyn of Kingston.

Indictment Holds

District Attorney Roy C. Moon said today that the assault indictment will be held open and she will stand trial if the officials at Matteawan hospital indicate she has recovered her sanity at a future date.

A second count to the indictment, charging unlawful possession of a loaded weapon, was dismissed on motion of Attorney Elwyn with the consent of the district attorney. It was found, according to Moon, that she had been issued a pistol permit in Ulster county, but through a clerical error had not been entered in files at Albany.

Judge Fromer's decision was handed down after a report was received from two psychiatrists from the Hudson River State Hospital at Poughkeepsie.

The Cat's Meow

Effingham, Ill. (AP)—They opened carefully a tightly wired bale of straw to see why it was meowing. Out jumped a scared kitten. Kitty had been frolicking around baling operations on Lowell Lee's farm near Beecher City. Unnoticed by the men, the baling machine scooped up kitty.

Why UN Switch? Because Need Felt For Control Club

Tokyo, Nov. 13 (AP) — The United Nations command has made an about-face in the Korean cease-fire talks.

Once it wanted the cease-fire line drawn immediately along the current battlefront.

Now it wants the line drawn after other points leading to the signing of a complete armistice can be settled.

Why the switch?

The UN feels that the Reds would take advantage of a cease-fire line drawn now to get out of any further fighting and to dally over the questions still to be considered—vital questions such as the return of UN soldiers, they now hold as prisoners of war.

The UN wants to keep the pressure of war on the Reds, to keep them discussing the steps leading to the signing of an armistice.

What's the difference between a cease-fire and an armistice?

A cease-fire is a cessation of fighting for a specific reason, such as to begin peace talks. It is temporary.

Agreed Upon, Signed

An armistice is an agreed-upon, signed-on-the-line document stabilizing the cease-fire and making it permanent until the armistice is broken or a peace treaty is signed.

The UN command says that if any cease-fire line is agreed upon now—however temporary it might be—no allied soldier could work up much enthusiasm about crossing it.

Thus the allies would be robbed of their most valuable weapon in forcing the Reds into agreement on other disputed points.

The UN command feels it must have some sort of club hanging over the Reds to prevent endless bickering without result. The best club is the threat of continued war.

Still up for discussion by negotiators is the question of enforcing the cease-fire, the exchange of prisoners of war and recommendations to the governments concerned on both sides.

All undoubtedly will be tough nuts to crack.

That's why, the UN command says, the war must go on—because continued war is the only road to peace in Korea.

50 Club to Nominate

A regular meeting will be held tonight by the 50 Club, for nomination of officers, at Worf's restaurant on Abeel street. All members are urged to attend the session beginning at 8 p. m.

Larceny Dismissed Against Stokes

A second degree grand larceny charge brought against Donald Stokes, 18, of 11 East Pierpont street was dismissed by City Judge Raymond Mino after a hearing this morning.

Judge Mino ruled that The People failed to show any connection between Stokes and the reported theft of an automobile on Oct. 27. In accordance with the judge's ruling, Stokes was freed and his bail returned.

Stokes was represented in city court this morning by Attorneys Frederick Stang and Arthur A. Davis, Jr., and Attorney John L. Larkin represented the district attorney's office.

Children's Care Fund Is Less Than $30,000 Now

Paris, Nov. 13 (AP) — The UN's emergency fund for children's care is down now to less than $30,000 after four years' expenditure of budgets totalling $162,000,000, it was disclosed today.

Maurice Pate, executive director of UNICEF (UN International Children's Emergency Fund), said the U. S. Congress is expected to complete approval of a U. S. contribution of $12,000,000 next year to help replenish the fund, but it will still be far short of its approximately $30,000,000 yearly target budget.

The UNICEF executive board has just finished allocating $10,000,000 including an emergency $524,000 for aiding Arab refugee children and mothers in the Middle East, $715,000 for Korean children's aid, and the remainder for long-range health and welfare programs in 24 countries.

Mrs. D. B. Sinclair, Canada, has been reelected chairman of the board.

Marines Storm Beaches

Onslow Beach, N. C., Nov. 13 (AP) — Thousands of marines stormed ashore from more than 200 ships here today in maneuvers to establish a beachhead against a mythical enemy. Under simulated battle conditions, the invading task force sought first to establish the beachhead on this small shore. The next objective was to bridge the 100-yard wide intra-coastal waterway 500 yards inland. About 100,000 troops are taking part in the war games.

Attorneys Favor Another Justice

At a dinner meeting of the Ulster County Bar Association held last evening at Leherb's the association adopted a resolution favoring the addition of at least one additional Supreme Court justice to this district.

The resolution stated that because of the congested condition of the calendars in the Third Judicial District at least one additional justice was needed to cope with the situation.

Samuel J. Tripp, president of the Queens County Bar Association and an expert on divorce proceedings was the guest speaker. His topic was "Foreign Divorce Decrees in New York State." Attorney Tripp was presented by Howard C. St. John, president of the Ulster County Bar, who presided at the meeting.

Attending the session was Judge John T. Loughran, chief justice of the Court of Appeals and also Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick.

Following the address by Attorney Tripp an open forum was held.

Why UN Switch? Because Need Felt For Control Club

Tokyo, Nov. 13 (AP) — The United Nations command has made an about-face in the Korean cease-fire talks.

Once it wanted the cease-fire line drawn immediately along the current battlefront.

Now it wants the line drawn after other points leading to the signing of a complete armistice can be settled.

Why the switch?

The UN feels that the Reds would take advantage of a cease-fire line drawn now to get out of any further fighting and to dally over the questions still to be considered—vital questions such as the return of UN soldiers, they now hold as prisoners of war.

The UN wants to keep the pressure of war on the Reds, to keep them discussing the steps leading to the signing of an armistice.

What's the difference between a cease-fire and an armistice?

A cease-fire is a cessation of fighting for a specific reason, such as to begin peace talks. It is temporary.

Agreed Upon, Signed

An armistice is an agreed-upon, signed-on-the-line document stabilizing the cease-fire and making it permanent until the armistice is broken or a peace treaty is signed.

The UN command says that if any cease-fire line is agreed upon now—however temporary it might be—no allied soldier could work up much enthusiasm about crossing it.

Thus the allies would be robbed of their most valuable weapon in forcing the Reds into agreement on other disputed points.

The UN command feels it must have some sort of club hanging over the Reds to prevent endless bickering without result. The best club is the threat of continued war.

Still up for discussion by negotiators is the question of enforcing the cease-fire, the exchange of prisoners of war and recommendations to the governments concerned on both sides.

All undoubtedly will be tough nuts to crack.

That's why, the UN command says, the war must go on—because continued war is the only road to peace in Korea.

50 Club to Nominate

A regular meeting will be held tonight by the 50 Club, for nomination of officers, at Worf's restaurant on Abeel street. All members are urged to attend the session beginning at 8 p. m.

Most people who bury the hatchet mark the spot.

Larceny Dismissed Against Stokes

A second degree grand larceny charge brought against Donald Stokes, 18, of 11 East Pierpont street was dismissed by City Judge Raymond Mino after a hearing this morning.

Judge Mino ruled that The People failed to show any connection between Stokes and the reported theft of an automobile on Oct. 27. In accordance with the judge's ruling, Stokes was freed and his bail returned.

Stokes was represented in city court this morning by Attorneys Frederick Stang and Arthur A. Davis, Jr., and Attorney John L. Larkin represented the district attorney's office.

Children's Care Fund Is Less Than $30,000 Now

Paris, Nov. 13 (AP) — The UN's emergency fund for children's care is down now to less than $30,000 after four years' expenditure of budgets totalling $162,000,000, it was disclosed today.

Maurice Pate, executive director of UNICEF (UN International Children's Emergency Fund), said the U. S. Congress is expected to complete approval of a U. S. contribution of $12,000,000 next year to help replenish the fund, but it will still be far short of its approximately $30,000,000 yearly target budget.

The UNICEF executive board has just finished allocating $10,000,000 including an emergency $524,000 for aiding Arab refugee children and mothers in the Middle East, $715,000 for Korean children's aid, and the remainder for long-range health and welfare programs in 24 countries.

Mrs. D. B. Sinclair, Canada, has been reelected chairman of the board.

McKinley and Stellar Show Make Legion Ball One of Most Successful Ever Held

Approximately 1,800 patrons enjoyed the 33rd annual Victory Ball of Kingston Post, 150, American Legion, commemorating Armistice Day.

Ray McKinley and his orchestra made a decided hit with music lovers and the floor show was rated by critics as one of the best ever seen in the municipal auditorium.

Commander Andrew J. Murphy, 3rd, and his committees received many compliments on the promotion of the highly successful social event.

The memorial ceremony for departed comrades, dedicated to Kingston's only Congressional Medal of Honor winner, Sgt. Robert Dietz, was impressive as carried out by the color guard of the Legion under command of the Rev. Clarance Brown, who eulogized the departed hero.

Commander Murphy welcomed the large turnout on behalf of the Legion, and Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk praised the patrons of the affair for their support of the veterans' organization.

Attorney Sherwood Davis, general chairman of the ball, brought on Johnny Woods, famous mimic, who was master of ceremonies for the show.

Hal Leroy led the parade of stars and danced his way into the hearts of the spectators as he answered one encore after the other.

Nancy Evans sang popular hit tunes and semi-classical compositions in a manner that has made her much in demand on television and radio shows.

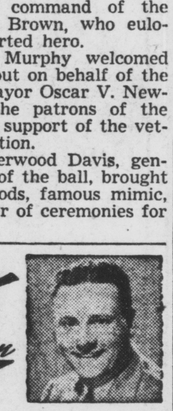

The Brick brothers, trampoline stars, had the assemblage laughing continuously as they bounded up and down, and the Taffy and Terry trio of adagio equilibrists pleased all with their thrilling routines of balancing.

Clementine Nessel, local accordionist, entertained those who arrived early, prior to the overture by the band.

Refreshments and flower booths were in charge of committees from the American Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. Clarence VanDeMark was chairman, and Mrs. Augustus Winter, co-chairman.

Other chairmen were Mrs. S. J. Matthews and Mrs. William McNamee, punch; Mrs. Sam N. Mann, flowers; Mrs. Mary Dulin, dining room; Mrs. Margaret G. McManus, refreshments and Mrs. R. E. Jacobs, treasurer.

More Than 1,000 Attend Benefit For Reade Strikers

A benefit show for striking theatre employes drew a capacity crowd at the Orpheum Theatre Monday night.

Members of Local B-42, IATSE, estimated attendance at 1,000 persons, and added that others had to be turned away from the box office when the theatre's capacity was reached.

In a short address from the stage, Mrs. Phoebe Van Wagenen, president of the striking local, said that the benefit showing had been financed by David Sherry, owner and operator of the Orpheum, which is not involved in the strike. She also thanked Local 637 for providing a projectionist, Frank Clark, for the showing.

Local B-42, theatrical union affiliated with the AFL, has been picketing two local Walter Reade theatres, the Kingston and the Broadway, since Sept. 22. The Reade theatres, meanwhile, have continued scheduled shows daily.

Taft Expected . . .

This potential warfare in Duff's backyard is regarded as something of a serious threat to the drive by Eisenhower forces to get the general into the race and to get him nominated.

The general's rooters had been counting on New York and Pennsylvania as the keystone of their strength. Taft's camp has very little hope of breaking into the New York delegation, controlled by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Pennsylvania is one of a dozen states where the situation is so much up in the air that majority party officials are awaiting developments before they cast their lot publicly with any candidate.

Included in this category are many party officials in such states as Idaho, Michigan, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Virginia, Washington and Wyoming.

Official Board to Meet

The Official Board of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church meets tonight at 8:30 o'clock.

Two Groups Hit

racing before the Court of Appeals upset the system.

Two USTA officials, President Lawrence Sheppard of Hanover, Pa., and Secretary Frank L. Wiswall of Albany, have asked to be heard by the Wicks Committee before final recommendations are drafted.

Sheppard and Wiswall are scheduled to appear before the committee at its next meeting, probably Friday in New York city.

Wiswall said today there was "no similarity" between the USTA's harness racing role and the former position of the Jockey Club in flat racing.

The USTA virtually rules the harness sport nationally, setting up uniform standards of licensing, competition and track conduct and providing nation-wide effect to disciplinary decisions.

Henry L. James, a Hudson newspaper editor, is chairman of the State Harness Racing Commission. The other members are Hamilton S. Goddes of Malverne and Herman R. Grannis of Buffalo.

Touhy Is 'Fair'

The condition of Thomas Touhy of Yonkers is "fair," Kingston Hospital authorities reported today. Touhy was injured Nov. 4 in the same automobile accident in which Miss Natalie Waterman of Poughkeepsie was fatally hurt, according to state police. Five other college students escaped with minor injuries when the automobile ran off Route 32 near New Paltz.

give rise to some disturbing thoughts, the committee said:

"The armed forces of the United States that defeated the axis powers were approximately three and a half times the size of our present combined army, navy, air force and marine corps. It is entirely possible that in a major war we would return to that strength.

"On that basis, would we have to multiply our present staffs of generals and admirals in Washington by three and a half? Would we have to staff the Pentagon with 1,256 general and flag officers? Would we have to jam 321,695 civilian employes into the Defense Department buildings in the capital area?"

Two Groups Hit

racing before the Court of Appeals upset the system.

Two USTA officials, President Lawrence Sheppard of Hanover, Pa., and Secretary Frank L. Wiswall of Albany, have asked to be heard by the Wicks Committee before final recommendations are drafted.

Sheppard and Wiswall are scheduled to appear before the committee at its next meeting, probably Friday in New York city.

Wiswall said today there was "no similarity" between the USTA's harness racing role and the former position of the Jockey Club in flat racing.

The USTA virtually rules the harness sport nationally, setting up uniform standards of licensing, competition and track conduct and providing nation-wide effect to disciplinary decisions.

Henry L. James, a Hudson newspaper editor, is chairman of the State Harness Racing Commission. The other members are Hamilton S. Goddes of Malverne and Herman R. Grannis of Buffalo.

Touhy Is 'Fair'

The condition of Thomas Touhy of Yonkers is "fair," Kingston Hospital authorities reported today. Touhy was injured Nov. 4 in the same automobile accident in which Miss Natalie Waterman of Poughkeepsie was fatally hurt, according to state police. Five other college students escaped with minor injuries when the automobile ran off Route 32 near New Paltz.

Too Much Brass

give rise to some disturbing thoughts, the committee said:

"The armed forces of the United States that defeated the axis powers were approximately three and a half times the size of our present combined army, navy, air force and marine corps. It is entirely possible that in a major war we would return to that strength.

"On that basis, would we have to multiply our present staffs of generals and admirals in Washington by three and a half? Would we have to staff the Pentagon with 1,256 general and flag officers? Would we have to jam 321,695 civilian employes into the Defense Department buildings in the capital area?"
